The Study of International Relations Hugh C. Dyer, Leon Mangasarian, 1989-10-16 This wide ranging study surveys the present state of international relations as an academic field It locates and assesses recent developments in the field in short what is being done where by whom and why The editors have focused on some central and controversial theoretical issues and included surveys of principal sub fields as well as the various approaches to the study of international relations in different countries The book provides a comprehensive overview of an important and fast growing area of academic endeavour and is essential reading for teachers and students of international politics and the social sciences at large

Human Rights, Education & Global Responsibilities James Lynch, Celia Modgil, Sohan Modgil, 2014-07-10 First published in 1992 This is Volume 4 of a series of four on Cultural Diversity and the Schools and focusses on Human Rights Education and Global Responsibilities One of the major problems facing societies in almost all parts of the world is the inadequate accommodation of social equity with cultural diversity The crisis emanating from neglect of this issue can be seen in societies as different and wide apart as the Soviet Union India Pakistan the United States and the United Kingdom This series seeks to contribute through joint publication and the stimulation of greater discourse to identify the pathways to a less selfish and parochial response to the continuing dilemma of equity and diversity not solely within the nation state but also internationally

Globalization Gernot Kohler, Emilio José Chaves, 2003 The majority of people around the world are experiencing oppressive and destructive forces which manifest themselves in starvation income polarisation joblessness stress violence and so on What is the nature of these forces If we call them globalisation can there be good globalisation as well as bad globalisation Is this a new phenomenon or just a continuation of history as it has always been This book brings together a wide range of expertise addressing these problems from a world systems perspective Hearing Peace Dieter Senghaas, 2025-05-23 Listening to peace When social scientists publicists and teachers approach the problem of peace they pay special attention to the causes of violence and war Recently however insights into the causes of peace have gained broad resonance The question is which factors individually and in their interaction are sustainably conducive to peace Aesthetic dimensions of a peace order however usually remain underexposed although the problem of peace can be impressively conveyed through images of peace The fact that the essays in this book explain that access to various dimensions of peace through musical and compositional contributions can also be illuminating Which peace relevant problems have composers addressed in their works Striking examples are explained They are all to be found in the offerings of classical i e value retaining music of the past five centuries A unique book on peace education For teachers and students in peace research and in music studies Written by one of the co founders of peace research in Germany A key background book for peace concerts A musical appeal for peace

Ecology and Development in Conflict Gunanidhi Parida,2000 Cultural Anthropology Richard H. Robbins,Rachel A. Dowty Beech,2020-07-16 In a first of its kind format Cultural Anthropology A Problem Based Approach is organized by problems and questions rather than topics creating a natural discussion of traditional anthropological concerns such as kinship caste gender roles and religion

European Security Bjørn Møller,2016-04-22 Europe has undergone quite profound changes since the end of the Cold War Having been a highly militarised conflict ridden and war ridden region the core of Europe today constitutes a security community where armed conflicts among the constituent states has become inconceivable This comprehensive book offers a theoretically founded and thoroughly documented analysis of European security with a special emphasis on the role played by the United Nations and the various regional and sub regional organisations especially the North Atlantic Treaty Organisation the Organisation for Security and Cooperation in Europe the Council of Europe and the European Union When it comes to explaining peace in Europe opinions differ widely Some argue that it was only because the West refused to give in to Soviet threats that the latter eventually gave up or that the long peace in Europe was due to the combination of a bipolar alliance structure pitting the North Atlantic Treaty Organisation NATO against the Warsaw Pact with the presence of nuclear weapons on both sides Others point instead to the extraordinarily dense network of international institutions and organisations in Europe offering a wide panoply of fora in which to handle disputes peacefully or to the web of interdependence in economic and other affairs tying together all states in Europe in relations which militate strongly against war Still others believe that the external peace between the states in Europe is simply a reflection of a convergence of cultures democracies with marked economies that are open towards the world market These questions are the focal point of this book which concentrates on security albeit not in the sense of being a treatise on military matters but security obtainable by much more indirect and non military means It will be required reading for all students and scholars of European security and the organisations which underpin it

Security and South Asia Swarna Rajagopalan,2014-03-21 Stephen Philip Cohen can rightly be called the doyen of South Asian security analysis especially traditional security concerns in the region and advocacy on US foreign policy The contributors to the volume have all at different at different points in time been Cohen s students and are now well known scholars in their own right Broadly dividing Cohen s work into categories the contributors deal with the following issues how security is understood and how important strategic relationships are framed approaches to and choices made in the areas of military structure arms production and investment in science and technology how and why civil society groups are mobilized towards political ends specifically looking at ethnic mobilization in diaspora communities non official initiatives for peace in South Asia and the role of state and non state actors in disaster management the role of the army The essays reflect a view of security as something people choose to make for themselves through an exercise of agency that is rooted in the realm of ideas

Recovery from Armed Conflict in Developing Countries Geoff Harris,2002-02-07 This comprehensive work examines ways in which developing countries may achieve economic political and social reconstruction in the wake of armed conflict International researchers discuss such issues as women and children in the recovery process refugees and the role of aid the reintegration of ex combatants and community led recovery Case studies focus upon Afghanistan Angola Cambodia Mozambique South Africa and Sri Lanka

The Wealth of (Some) Nations Zak Cope,2019-03-20 In this provocative new study Zak Cope makes the case that capitalism is empirically inseparable from imperialism historically and today Using a rigorous political economic framework he lays bare the vast ongoing transfer of wealth from the poorest to the richest countries through the mechanisms of monopoly rent unequal exchange and colonial tribute The result is a polarised international class structure with a relatively rich Global North and an impoverished exploited Global South Cope makes the controversial claim that it is because of these conditions that workers in rich countries benefit from higher incomes and welfare systems with public health education pensions and social security As a result the internationalism of populations in the Global North is weakened and transnational solidarity is compromised The only way forward Cope argues is through a renewed anti imperialist politics rooted in a firm commitment to a radical labour internationalism

Nuclear Weapons and Conflict Transformation Saira Khan,2008-09-09 This new volume explores what the acquisition of nuclear weapons means for the life of a protracted conflict using the case study of the conflict between India and Pakistan

Ethnicity without Groups Rogers Brubaker,2006-09-01 Despite a quarter century of constructivist theorizing in the social sciences and humanities ethnic groups continue to be conceived as entities and cast as actors In this timely and provocative volume Brubaker challenges this pervasive and commonsense groupism and shows that ethnicity race and nation are not things in the world but perspectives on the world ways of seeing interpreting and representing the social world Cyberpolitics in International Relations Nazli Choucri, 2012-11-09 An examination of the ways cyberspace is changing both the theory and the practice of international relations Cyberspace is widely acknowledged as a fundamental fact of daily life in today's world Until recently its political impact was thought to be a matter of low politics background conditions and routine processes and decisions Now however experts have begun to recognize its effect on high politics national security core institutions and critical decision processes In this book Nazli Choucri investigates the implications of this new cyberpolitical reality for international relations theory policy and practice The ubiquity fluidity and anonymity of cyberspace have already challenged such concepts as leverage and influence national security and diplomacy and borders and boundaries in the traditionally state centric arena of international relations Choucri grapples with fundamental questions of how we can take explicit account of cyberspace in the analysis of world politics and how we can integrate the traditional international system with its cyber venues After establishing the theoretical and empirical terrain Choucri examines modes of cyber conflict and cyber cooperation in international relations the potential for the gradual convergence of cyberspace and sustainability in both substantive and policy terms and the emergent synergy of cyberspace and international efforts toward sustainable development Choucri's discussion is theoretically driven and empirically grounded drawing on recent data and analyzing the dynamics of cyberpolitics at individual state international and global levels Security and Environment in the Mediterranean Hans Günter Brauch, Peter H. Liotta, Antonio Marquina, Paul F. Rogers, Mohammad El-Sayed Selim, 2012-12-06 In this volume security specialists peace researchers environmental scholars demographers as well as climate desertification water food and urbanisation specialists from the Middle East and North Africa Europe and North America review security and conflict prevention in the Mediterranean They also analyse NATO's Mediterranean security dialogue and offer conceptualisations on security and perceptions of security challenges as seen in North and South The latter half of the book analyses environmental security and conflicts in the Mediterranean and environmental consequences of World War II the Gulf War the Balkan wars and the Middle East conflict It also examines factors of global environmental change population growth climate change desertification water scarcity food and urbanisation issues as well as natural disasters Furthermore it draws conceptual conclusions for a fourth phase of research on human and environmental security and peace as well as policy conclusions for cooperation and partnership in the Mediterranean in the 21st century
