Questions We All Ask 1930:

Questions We All Ask Gottfried Purucker, 1929 English Fiction in the 1930s Chris Hopkins, 2006-12-07 This study approaches the fiction of the 1930s through critical debates about genre language and history setting these in their original context and discussing the generic forms most favoured by novelists at the time Chris Hopkins uses a series of case studies of texts to draw on develop or explore the boundaries contemporary usefulness and complexities of particular prose genres Generic debates and the political aesthetic effects of different kinds of representation were live issues as discursive struggles and negotiations took place between modernist and realist modes between high middle and lowbrow categorisations of culture between literature and mass culture and between different conceptions of the role of the writer politics and nationality sexuality and gender identities Chris Hopkins draws both on well known texts and on novels which have only recently begun to be discussed by critics of the thirties particularly those by women writers whose work has still not been related very clearly to the literary and political debates of the period Organised in five sections each focusing on major genres he takes a wide range of novels as case studies and discusses their uses of generic forms relating them to other examples and to their historical political and cultural contexts The Prussian Memorandum, A Mattie McGary + Winston Churchill 1930s Adventure Michael McMenamin, Kathleen McMenamin, 2020-06-16 With the Third Reich and the US government out to stop her intrepid journalist Mattie McGary races to expose the shameful secret that American agents helped Nazis use racist US state laws as a model to oppress and persecute German Jews The Point Loma Community in California Emmett A. Greenwalt, The 1930s: A Decade of Modern British Fiction Nick Hubble, Luke Seaber, Elinor Taylor, 2021-01-14 With austerity biting hard and fascism on the march at home and abroad the Britain of the 1930s grappled with many problems familiar to us today Moving beyond the traditional focus on the Auden generation this book surveys the literature of the period in all its diversity from working class women queer and postcolonial writers to popular crime and thriller novels In this way the book explores the uneven processes of modernization and cultural democratization that characterized the decade A major critical re evaluation of the decade the book covers such writers as Eric Ambler Mulk Raj Anand Katharine Burdekin Agatha Christie Lewis Grassie Gibbon Christopher Isherwood Storm Jameson Ethel Mannin Naomi Mitchison George Orwell Christina Stead Evelyn Waugh and many others Woman's Home Missions of the Methodist Episcopal Church, 1926 New York Court of Appeals. Marshall, 2022-04-29 The United States Supreme Court is commonly thought to be an institution far removed from American public opinion Yet nearly two thirds of modern Supreme Court decisions reflect popular attitudes Comparing over 500 Supreme Court decisions with timely nationwide poll questions since the mid 1930s Thomas R Marshall shows that most Supreme Court decisions agree with poll majorities or pluralities across time and across issues and often represent

Americans views to the same degree as federal policymakers This book looks beyond the litigants economic interests social movements organized interest groups or units of governments typically involved and instead examines how well the Court or the justices represent Americans views Using nationwide public opinion broken down by key subgroups race gender education and party affiliation better describes exactly whom Supreme Court decisions and the justices individual votes best represent His book will be of interest to scholars in political science legal studies history and sociology Prologue ,2001
