Russian Writers on Translation Brian James Baer,Natalia Olshanskaya,2014-07-16 Since the early eighteenth century following Peter the Great s policy of forced westernization translation in Russia has been a very visible and much discussed practice Generally perceived as an important service to the state and the nation translation was also viewed as a high art leading many Russian poets and writers to engage in literary translation in a serious and sustained manner As a result translations were generally regarded as an integral part of an author s oeuvre and of Russian literature as a whole This volume brings together Russian writings on translation from the mid 18th century until today and presents them in chronological order providing valuable insights into the theory and practice of translation in Russia Authored by some of Russia s leading writers such as Aleksandr Pushkin Fedor Dostoevskii Lev Tolstoi Maksim Gorkii and Anna Akhmatova many of these texts are translated into English for the first time They are accompanied by extensive annotation and biographical sketches of the authors and reveal Russian translation discourse to be a sophisticated and often politicized exploration of Russian national identity as well as the nature of the modern subject Russian Writers on Translation fills a persistent gap in the literature on alternative translation traditions highlighting the vibrant and intense culture of translation on Europe s periphery Viewed in a broad cultural context the selected texts reflect a nuanced understanding of the Russian response to world literature and highlight the attempts of Russian writers to promote Russia as an all inclusive cultural model

Teaching Materials for Russian Centre for Information on Language Teaching and Research,1984 The Slavonic Review ,1927 A Plurilingual Analysis of Four Russian-American Autobiographies Michele Russo,2020-09-07 Among the many examples of Russian American migr literature a number of less known authors moved to the USA following their predecessors transnational and plurilingual experiences The bilingual and sometimes trilingual expressions in their works written in English invite a contrastive analysis of their transition from their source language Russian to their target language English This book explores the linguistic structure of the autobiographies of four Russian American writers Cournos Nabokov Berberova and Shteyngart bringing into focus the linguistic geology of their texts as they record their passage from a Russian world to an English one These linguistic passages are examined from both a synchronic and a diachronic perspective by dwelling on the geographies of the migr s itineraries as well as on the process of linguistic transformation that such itineraries generated By analyzing these writers geographic and linguistic routes this volume engages the reader in a metalinguistic discourse and highlights the influence of these first plurilingual experiments on modern theories concerning
