SIMPLE PAST

PRESENT PERFECT

REMEMBER:

We often use adverbs of frequency/adverbs of past time with 'simple past' verbs:

Always, often, usually, sometimes, rarely, seldom, never yesterday, last week, last Monday, two days ago, three hours ago.

We use the simple past when we can collocate a fact/event in the past.

We use the present perfect (simple) to talk about events/facts that have happened in a non-defined period of time up to now (up to the present time).

We use it for an event that started in the past and has continued until now. Often used with since (indicating the beginning of an action/event) or for (indicating the duration of an action/event).

We use it to indicate completed activities in the immediate past, which have consequences in the present. (with just).

The present perfect frequently uses the adverbs of time still, ever/never, already, just, yet.

Planning Singapore Stephen Hamnett, Belinda Yuen, 2019-05-08 Two hundred years ago Sir Stamford Raffles established the modern settlement of Singapore with the intent of seeing it become a great commercial emporium and fulcrum. But by the time independence was achieved in 1965 the city faced daunting problems of housing shortage, slums and high unemployment. Since then Singapore has become one of the richest countries on earth, providing in Sir Peter Hall's words perhaps the most extraordinary case of economic development in the history of the world. The story of Singapore's remarkable achievements in the first half century after its independence is now widely known. In Planning Singapore: The Experimental City Stephen Hamnett and Belinda Yuen have brought together a set of chapters on Singapore's planning achievements, aspirations and challenges, which are united in their focus on what might happen next in the planning of the island state. Chapters range over Singapore's planning system, innovation and future economy, housing, biodiversity, water and waste, climate change, transport and the potential transferability of Singapore's planning knowledge. A key question is whether the planning approaches which have served Singapore so well until now will suffice to meet the emerging challenges of a changing global economy, demographic shifts, new technologies and the existential threat of climate change. Singapore as a global city is becoming more unequal and more diverse. This has the potential to weaken the social compact which has largely existed since independence and to undermine the social resilience undoubtedly needed to cope with the shocks and disruptions of the twenty-first century. The book concludes, however, that Singapore is better placed than most to respond to the challenges which it will certainly face, thanks to its outstanding systems of planning and implementation, a proven capacity to experiment and a highly developed ability to adapt quickly, purposefully and pragmatically to changing circumstances. Subject Catalog Library of Congress, Sovereignty Blockchain 2.0 Lian Yuming, 2022-09-05 This book is a continuation and deepening of Sovereign Blockchain 1.0. It mainly includes three views: 1. Blockchain is a super public product based on digital civilization. 2. The Internet is an advanced level of industrial civilization, the core of which is connection; blockchain is an important symbol of digital civilization, the essence of which is reconstruction. 3. Digital currency will trigger a comprehensive change in the economic field, and digital identity will reconstruct the governance model in the social field, thereby changing the order of civilization. This book is not only a popular science book based on blockchain thinking, theory and application research, but also a scholarly work on the technical and philosophical issues of governance and the future. By reading Sovereign Blockchain 2.0, policymakers can quickly understand the basic knowledge and frontier dynamics of science and technology; science and technology workers can grasp the general trend, seize opportunities, face problems and difficulties; aim at the world's science and technology frontier and lead the direction of science and technology development; experts and scholars in law and legal fields can see new ideas, concepts and models of data governance; social science researchers can discover data sociology and data philosophy issues. Subject Catalog, 1981 Library of

Religion and Commodification Vineeta Sinha, 2011-04-13 Sustaining a Hindu universe at an everyday life level requires an extraordinary range of religious specialists and ritual paraphernalia At the level of practice devotional Hinduism is an embodied religion and grounded in a materiality that makes the presence of specific physical objects which when used in worship also carry immense ritual and symbolic load an indispensable part of its religious practices Traditionally both services and objects required for worship were provided and produced by occupational communities The almost sacred connection between caste groups and occupation profession has been clearly severed in many diasporic locations but importantly in India itself As such skills and expertise required for producing an array of physical objects in order to support Hindu worship have been taken over by clusters of individuals with no traditional historical connection with caste related knowledge Both the transference and disconnect just noted have been crucial for the ultimate commodification of objects used in the act of Hindu worship and the emergence of an analogous commercial industry as a result These developments condense highly complex processes that need careful conceptual explication a task that is exciting and carries enormous potential for theoretical reflections in key fields of study Using the lens of visibility and materiality Sinha offers insights into the everyday material religious lives of Hindus as they strive to sustain theistic devotional Hinduism in diasporic locations particularly Singapore Malaysia and Tamilnadu where religious objects have become commodified

The Belt and Road Initiative

Gao Xiang, Kostas Gouliamos, Liu Zuokui, Christos Kassimeris, 2025-05-04 This open access book presents the main theme which advances the significance of cultural dialogue between China and Europe The essence of the historical ties between China and Europe has resurfaced much because of the Belt and Road Initiative launched in 2013 by China s President Xi Jinping The Belt and Road Initiative aims to bring China closer to Europe Africa and other parts of the world as well as to connect certain parts of Asia into a huge network of countries through both land and maritime corridors While the concept originally dates back to the Han Dynasty some 2 000 years ago when the Silk Road developed into an ancient network of trade routes connecting Imperial China to the markets of the Mediterranean the Belt and Road Initiative is better defined as a far more holistic approach As per China s Policy Paper on the European Union one of the main aims of the Belt and Road

Initiative is to uphold inter civilization dialogue and harmony in diversity to facilitate mutual learning between the Chinese and European civilizations It is precisely this mutual learning between the Chinese and European civilizations that the present book seeks to explore by means of delving into the historical aspect of intercultural dialogue and between China and Europe while also proposing a prognosis of how the guiding principles of China EU relations will develop with regard to inter civilization dialogue
