Sacred Stories:

Sacred Stories Charles H. Simpkinson, Anne Adamcewicz Simpkinson, 1993 This is an eclectic assortment of stories by popular authors storytellers psychologists and spiritual teachers Sacred Sites and Sacred Stories Across Cultures David W. Kim, 2021-01-18 This book offers global perspectives from Mediterranean Asian Australian and American cultures on sacred sites and their related stories in regional history Contemporary society witnesses many travelers visiting sacred sites temples mountains castles churches houses throughout the world These visits often involve discovery of new historical facts through the origin stories of the associated tribe region or nation The transmission of oral tradition and myth carries on the significant meaning of those religious sites This volume unveils multi angle perspectives of symbolic and mystical places The contributors describe the religio political experiences of each regional case and analyze the religiosity of local people as a lens through which readers can re examine the concept of iconography syncretism and materialism In addition contributors interpret the growth of new religions as the alternative perspectives of anti traditional religions This new approach offers significant insight into comprehending the practical agony and sorrow of regional people in the context of contemporary history

Sacred Stories, Spiritual Tribes Nancy Tatom Ammerman, 2013-09-12 Nancy Tatom Ammerman examines the stories Americans tell of their everyday lives from dinner table to office and shopping mall to doctor s office about the things that matter most to them and the routines they take for granted and the times and places where the everyday and ordinary meet the spiritual In addition to interviews and observation Ammerman bases her findings on a photo elicitation exercise and oral diaries offering a window into the presence and absence of religion and spirituality in ordinary lives and in ordinary physical and social spaces The stories come from a diverse array of ninety five Americans both conservative and liberal white Protestants African American Protestants Catholics Jews Mormons Wiccans and people who claim no religious or spiritual proclivities across a range that stretches from committed religious believers to the spiritually neutral Ammerman surveys how these people talk about what spirituality is how they seek and find experiences they deem spiritual and whether and how religious traditions and institutions are part of their spiritual lives

Traditional Narratives of the Arikara Indians: Stories of Alfred Morsette, English translations , 1991-01-01 Until the late eighteenth century the Arikaras were one of the largest and most influential Indian groups on the northern plains For centuries they have lived along the Missouri River first in present South Dakota later in what is now North Dakota Today they share the Fort Berthold Indian Reservation in North Dakota with the Mandans and Hidatsas Although their postcontact history and aspects of their culture are well documented Douglas R Parks s monumental four volume work Traditional Narratives of the Arikara Indians represents the first comprehensive attempt to describe and record their language and literary traditions Volumes 1 and 2 present transcriptions of 156 oral narratives in Arikara and include literal interlinear English translations Volumes 3 and 4 contain free English translations of those narratives making available for the first time a broad representative group of Arikara oral traditions that will be invaluable not only to anthropologists and folklorists but to everyone interested in American Indian life and literature. The narratives cover the entire range of traditional stories found in the historical and literary tradition of the Arikara people who classify their stories into two categories: true stories and tales. Here are myths of ancient times, legends of power bestowed, historical narratives and narratives of mysterious incidents that affirm the existence today of supernatural power in the world along with tales of the trickster Coyote and stories of the risqué Stuwí and various other animals. In addition, there are accounts of Arikara ritualism, prayers, and descriptions of how personal names are bestowed and how the Death Feast originated.

Reading Our Lives William L. Randall, Elizabeth McKim, 2008-06-03

Against the background of Socrates' insight that the unexamined life is not worth living, Reading Our Lives investigates the often overlooked inside dimensions of aging. Despite popular portrayals of mid and later life as entailing inevitable decline, this book looks at aging as potentially a process of poesis, a creative endeavor of fashioning meaning from the ever accumulating texts, memories, and reflections that constitute our inner worlds. At its center is the conviction that although we are constantly reading our lives to some degree anyway, doing so in a mindful manner is critical to our development in the second half of life. Drawing on research in numerous disciplines affected by the so-called narrative turn, including cognitive psychology, neuroscience, and the psychology of aging, authors Randall and McKim articulate a vision of aging that promises to accommodate such time-honored concepts as wisdom and spirituality, one that understands aging as a matter not merely of getting old but of consciously growing old.

Counseling People with Cancer Jann Aldredge-Clanton, 1998-01-01

Few moments are as devastating as when one hears a diagnosis of cancer, and one out of three Americans will hear this diagnosis in their lifetimes. In this book, Jann Aldredge-Clanton brings a perspective from a theology of hope for people struggling with cancer. She believes that in the midst of a frightening illness, our spiritual task is to reunderstand our life story in light of the sacred story of God's love in the world. This book is full of practical insights to enable pastors and pastoral counselors to help persons cope with the diagnosis and experience of cancer. The purpose of the Counseling and Pastoral Theology series is to address clinical issues that arise among particular populations currently neglected in the literature on pastoral care and counseling. This series is committed to enhancing both the theoretical base and the clinical expertise of pastoral caregivers by providing a pastoral theological paradigm that will inform both assessment and intervention with persons in these specific populations.

Sacred Stories Marilyn McFarlane, 2012-03-06

Provides children with an introduction to world religions, combining easy-to-understand descriptions with illustrations and retellings of traditional tales from faiths including Buddhism, Islam, Judaism, and Christianity.

The Storied Church Matthew Gorkos, 2021-09-07

Matthew Gorkos begins The Storied Church with this compelling statement: "I believe in the church in the power of faithful people serving a good and gracious God, and I believe in the power of a good story. Moreover, I believe as this book will argue, that church and story harnessed together could be an even more powerful force for goodness in our world."

Neuroscientists anthropologists archeologists and psychologists all agree Story is how our brains and our communities make sense of things Storytelling helps us cope with change and loss Storytelling helps us transmit lessons and life skills to the next generation As human beings it seems we can't do without story This book indeed this whole idea of story centered church renewal was born of a suspicion that the restorative transformative life giving function that stories have for us as individuals may serve communities of faithful people as well If stories help us survive as human creatures why can't they help churches survive The problem that story centered renewal seeks to remedy has only become more prevalent and urgent in the age of Covid 19 Our churches need hope now more than ever Writing from a pastor's perspective Gorkos hopes to encourage and empower other pastors and lay leaders with both the hope and the tools they need to effect revitalizing change in their faith communities Each chapter includes questions for reflection to help readers listen to and tell the stories that will lead to renewal and transformation

Shaped by the Story Michael Novelli, 2013-10-15 After more than a decade in youth ministry Michael Novelli felt like he'd tried everything to connect his students to the Bible Then a missionary introduced him to the art of Bible storying an imaginative way to engage in the scriptures through storytelling creative reflection and dialogue He soon discovered that Bible storying was not only an effective teaching approach but a powerful way to awaken people to new purpose and identity rooted in the biblical narrative In 2012 Michael partnered with sparkhouse to create Echo the Story curriculum based on his approach to Bible storying Michael has seen people of all ages benefit from this imaginative way of encountering God through the Bible In this book you'll find methods for adapting Bible storying for varied contexts and ages testimonials from people using this approach tools to create your own Bible storying narratives and details about the proven learning theories guiding this approach

Telling God's Story Gerard Loughlin, 1999-09-23 This book presents narrative theology as radically orthodox It is orthodox because in the tradition of all those who maintain the priority of the story of Jesus as it is sacramentally performed in the Church and radical because it eschews all modern attempts to found Christian faith on some other story such as that of reason critical history or human consciousness Acknowledging the indeterminacy of and textuality of human existence Telling God's Story presents the Christian life as as a truly postmodern venture the groundless enactment of God's future now

Surviving Emotional Work for Teachers Jean Hopman, 2020-10-29 Surviving Emotional Work for Teachers is a guide to improving teachers wellbeing and practice through support of their emotional workload The book argues that teachers should be given a formal opportunity to debrief on challenging events allowing them to reflect on and reframe these experiences in a way that informs future practice to prevent the emotional fatigue that can lead teachers to leave the field altogether Each chapter opens with a teacher s story acknowledging the emotional layers present in the scenario and what learnings can be drawn from it Each of these stories features tension between what is expected of teachers and how they are limited to act which is further fuelled by underlying assumptions This is valuable reading for teachers at all stages of their career whether preparing for the complex work ahead or making sense of past and current experiences This book offers a reflexive process that teachers and schools can implement to facilitate the useful exploration of their emotion Such a process is vital for the overall wellbeing of any school

Shinto George Williams,2009 Discusses the history of the Shinto religion in Japan describing its origins basic beliefs rituals and festivals and its place in Japanese society Keep the Book Open Thomas Kadel,2017-06-12 WHY There is no deeper spiritual cry than this But when a disaster survivor looks heavenward and cries Why they may actually be asking many questions in that simple three letter word They may be wondering about God s love or about their own worthiness Why is the knee jerk reaction to the resulting chaos when the unimaginable and unexpected invades our lives In Keep the Book Open Thomas Kadel offers a unique way to hear the stories of disaster survivors called Narrative Listening It focuses our attention on listening to the life of the survivor rather than simply the events of the disaster Kadel urges spiritual caregivers to become the enfleshed presence of God through this special kind of listening and by being fully present with those they serve It describes a kind of caring that seeks to assist survivors make sense out of no sense meaning out of no meaning and life purpose out of unfocused chaos He points out that the goal of this kind of care is integration and not exorcism of the survivor s trauma Throughout he reminds responders that their care needs to focus on keeping the survivor s book of life open to the hope that spawns resiliency and aims at a life that is full and rich The final chapter invites readers into an interactive discussion of the cultural effects of secondary trauma in America at www.sacredturf.org and asks if Disaster Spiritual Care needs to be re thought to attend to those affected by the many acts of terrorism and natural disaster we have vicariously experienced through the media Living Our Story Larry A. Golemon,2010-12-31 Living Our Story explores how good narrative work the retrieval construction and performance of valued stories takes place in ministry Authors Larry A Golemon Lee Ramsey N Graham Standish Tim Shapiro Carol Johnson Mike Mather Niles Elliot Goldstein and Diana Butler Bass examine this question from a variety of perspectives including the role of the pastor or rabbi as narrative leader the sacred and mundane stories that shape congregational life and identity storytelling as a means of community building and story sharing as a practice of hospitality Through the stories they themselves tell these authors show how stories witness to God s presence in the unfolding of human life and how the best leaders craft stories that reveal how God is at work among the people and inspire them to become a part of this larger story Queer Religiosities Melissa M. Wilcox,2020-02-17 Queer Religiosities is the first comprehensive comparative and globally focused introduction to queer and transgender studies in religion Addressing sophisticated topics in clear and accessible language award winning teacher and scholar Melissa M Wilcox brings her engaging lecture style into conversation with the work of scholars around the globe to welcome students into these rapidly growing fields Following an introduction to key concepts in religious studies queer studies and transgender studies and an overview of the history of transgender and queer studies in religion thematic chapters address the topics of stories conversations practices identities communities and politics and power This inherently comparative organization helps readers to understand the details and complexities of religions genders and sexualities as they are lived out around the world
