Principles of Therapeutic Change that Work Louis Georges Castonguay, Larry E. Beutler, 2006 This book presents the findings of a Joint Presidential Task Force of the Society of Clinical Psychology Division 12 of APA and of the North American Society for Psychotherapy Research This task force was charged with integrating two previous task force findings which addressed respectively Treatments That Work Division 12 APA and Relationships That Work Division 29 APA This book transcends particular models of psychotherapy and treatment techniques to define treatments in terms of cross cutting principles of therapeutic change It also integrates relationship and participant factors with treatment techniques and procedures giving special attention to the empirical grounding of multiple contributors to change The result is a series of over 60 principles for applying treatments to four problem areas depression anxiety disorders personality disorders and substance abuse disorders This book explains both principles that are common to many problem areas and those that are specific to different populations in a format that is designed to help the clinician optimize treatment planning

Climate Change and Mental Health Equity Rhonda J. Moore, 2024-07-18 Climate change is a driver of poverty poor mental health inequity and increased intersectional vulnerability with significant differential global impacts on individual and community health and well being For example people living in low resource settings in high income countries HICs and in low and middle income countries LMICs are at greater risk often experiencing fragile socioeconomic political and health infrastructures and conflict affected settings FCAS that place them at greater risk and vulnerabilities to climate change related mental health impacts The broad goal of this book is to place a social justice and inclusive lens on climate change and mental health equity focusing on these three key elements people place and community The book includes perspectives from the global North the global South and Indigenous perspectives to help provide greater insight into how we can better understand climate change and mental health equity across peoples place and community This book s three pronged approach will focus on certain trends in this emerging and growing field also bridging some of the more extensive gaps and is a tool for better understanding how mental health disparities might be addressed at this time

Processes of Believing: The Acquisition, Maintenance, and Change in Creditions Hans-Ferdinand Angel, Lluís Oviedo, Raymond F. Paloutzian, Anne L.C. Runehov, Rüdiger J. Seitz, 2017-04-13 This volume answers the question Why do we believe what we believe It examines current research on the concept of beliefs and the development in our understanding of the process of believing It takes into account empirical findings in the field of neuroscience regarding the processes that underlie beliefs and discusses the notion that beyond the interactive exploratory analysis of sensory information from the complex outside world humans engage in an

evaluative analysis by which they attribute personal meaning and relevance to the probabilistic representations of objects and events Beliefs exert a strong influence on behaviour decision making and identifying and solving problems Despite their importance beliefs have until recently not been at the centre of scientific interest In fact belief is an ill defined phenomenon From a transdisciplinary perspective the actual approaches to understanding belief seem incompatible as they attempt to highlight such different topics as belief religion belief spirituality belief faith belief knowledge belief attitude belief disbelief belief illusion and believing brain function This situation contradicts the idea that belief is close to pathological phenomena and that it should be eliminated from scientific discussions Rather believing is fundamental for understanding the many problems of every day life In fact the book shows that beliefs are relevant for politics international affairs economy law or religions also in modern societies This book presents the increasing scientific interest in beliefs and believing and reflects the change in focus from the content aspect of belief towards the fluid nature of believing
