New Property in International Law Jean Ho, 2024-10-04 Until now the definition of property in international law has been poorly addressed It is assumed that international law possesses sufficient content to regulate property that provisions in international instruments addressing property rights are shown to act and that resolutions of property disputes are claimed to be in accordance with international law Yet when asked to define key attributes of property in international law are the legal world draws a collective blank New Property in International Law examines how international law consistently falls short when it comes to new property regulation because key stakeholders have failed to define what property is The book considers and categorises new property into three areas cultural property common property and contingent property aiming to carve out update and impart coherence to international property law By sketching the contours of new property in international law through a rigorous analytical comparison of property concepts in the Western Soviet post Soviet Chinese and Islamic juristic traditions this work enables a balanced distillation of core attributes of new property from diverse property concepts that can then be woven into a broadly acceptable and broadly applicable definition

Gehring,Andrew Paul Newcombe,2011-01-01 Sustainable development as defined by the World Commission on Environment and Development is development that meets the needs of the present without compromising the ability of future generations to meet their own needs More specifically sustainable development is a process of change that seeks to improve the collective quality of life by focusing on economically socially and environmentally sound projects that are viable in the long term Sustainable development requires structural economic change and the foundation of that change is investment In developing nations with low levels of domestic savings investment predictably comes from abroad in the form of foreign direct investment A large and ever expanding number of international investment agreements are in place to govern these transactions While these accords seek to foster development while mitigating the risk involved in these types investments many questions remain unresolved This highly insightful book reflects the contributions of a variety of world renowned experts each of which is designed to provide the reader with valuable perspective on recent developments in investment law negotiations and jurisprudence from a sustainable development law perspective It offers answers to pertinent questions concerning advancements in investment law including the negotiation of numerous regional and bilateral agreements as well as the increasing number of disputes resolved in the World Bank s International Centre for the Settlement of Investment Disputes ICSID from different developed and developing country perspectives It lays out future directions for new treaty negotiations and dispute settlement proceedings as well as ongoing investment promotion efforts against a background of rapidly evolving international relationships between economic environment and development law It focuses on key issues in investment laws which have emerged as priorities in the negotiation of bilateral and regional investment agreements and have been clarified through recent decisions of the ICSID and other arbitral panel awards

Farthest North (The Complete Two-Volume Edition) Fridtjof Nansen,2022-11-13 In Farthest North The Complete

Two Volume Edition Fridtjof Nansen invites readers on a breathtaking expedition through the uncharted Arctic wilderness. The work is not merely a travel narrative; it is a profound meditation on the human spirit's resilience amidst the relentless forces of nature. Nansen's vivid descriptions and meticulous observations bring the icy landscape to life, while his literary style oscillates between scientific rigor and poetic introspection, reflecting the duality of exploration both as a physical journey and an existential quest. This detailed account of his 1893-1896 voyage aboard the Fram contributes significantly to Arctic exploration literature and offers insights into the early 20th-century scientific endeavors amidst a backdrop of political and environmental concerns. Fridtjof Nansen was a Norwegian explorer, scientist, and humanitarian whose diverse experiences profoundly influenced this masterpiece. With a background in zoology and deep-seated explorative instincts, his desire to push human limits led him to traverse regions previously deemed inhospitable. His achievements laid the groundwork for subsequent Arctic research, fueling interest in the poles and efforts towards advancing our understanding of the natural world. Farthest North is an essential read for anyone fascinated by adventure, exploration, or the intricate relationship between humanity and the environment. Nansen's articulate prose and rich narrative compel readers to reflect on the determination required to venture into the unknown, making this a timeless classic that resonates with adventurers and scholars alike.

Farthest North Fridtjof Nansen, 2022-01-04. The memoirs by Fridtjof Nansen tell about the epoch-making attempt to reach the North Pole, which ended in the farthest northern journey in the history of his time. Fridtjof Nansen had an extraordinary idea of how to get to the North Pole by ship. After discovering that the remains of the boat wrecked near Russian Siberia were found in the Northern Atlantic, he presumed that there should be some drift through the North Pole. So he developed a specifically customized ship that was frozen into an ice cube and crossed the Polar waters in this shape. The vessel did freeze successfully. Yet the journey was too long, and Nansen left the ship to reach the Pole on skis. He and his companion Hjalmar Johansen left for the pole but didn't manage to get it. However, they were the first people to achieve the farthest north latitude of 86° 13' 6" N. The story tells about this challenging journey through snow and waters, making a unique record of one of the most incredible northern expeditions.

The New Americans Kyle C. Fitzharris, 2013-07-01. Michael Mick McCann spent ten years of his life in a Belfast political prison for his active involvement with the Irish Republican Army. Although now free from captivity, McCann is not yet free from the IRA. He no longer wants anything to do with the organization, but they won't let him loose until he fulfills one final mission. McCann is sent to Los Angeles, where he has been assigned to protect Ciara O'Malley, the daughter of a powerful IRA general. Ciara, a Red Cross Aid Worker, places children orphaned by the devastating Indonesian tsunami with American host families. Compared to McCann, she's a saint, and he figures his final assignment will pose no problems. Unfortunately, fate is a cruel mistress. McCann arrives in LA to find that Ciara has been kidnapped by the ruthless Russian mob. Desperate, he soon enlists every gang banger and criminal he can find to rescue Ciara. The City of Angels may break out into explosive battle if McCann doesn't move quickly.

This is his last chance at freedom a clean slate and redemption
