Love Must Not Be Forgotten:

Love Must Not be Forgotten Jie Zhang, 1986 Love Must Not Be Forgotten Zhang Jie, 1995-01-01 Opening Up James Farrer, 2002-05-29 More and more men and women in China are having sex before marriage creating a new youth sex culture based on romance leisure and free choice Farrer explores this change by tracing the basic elements in talk about sex and sexuality in Shanghai Masculinity Besieged? Xueping Zhong, 2000 A feminist psychoanalytic account of changing conceptions of men and masculinity as seen in recent Chinese literature Dialogics of the Oppressed Peter Hitchcock, 1993-01-01 Minnesota Archive Editions uses digital technology to make long unavailable books once again accessible to scholars students researchers and general readers Rich with historical and cultural value these works are published unaltered from the original University of Minnesota Press editions The books offered through Minnesota Archive Editions are produced in limited quantities according to customer demand and are available through select distribution partners Appetites Judith Farquhar, 2002-04-26 An experimental ethnography of food sex and health in post socialist China Encounters with Chinese Writers Annie Dillard, 1984-11 Bizarre encounters between Chinese and American writers

Marxism and the Chinese Experience Arif Dirlik, Maurice Meisner, 2016-09-16 These essays consider the implications for Chinese socialism of the repudiation of the Cultural Revolution and the legacy of Mao Zedong as well as the meaning of the new definition and direction Mao's successors have given socialism The themes have been selected for conceptual coherence within a socialist problematic of social change Representing anthropology art history economics history literature and politics various inquiries point in a twofold direction the meaning of socialism for China and the meaning of Chinese Socialism for socialism as a global phenomenon meaning not in some abstract sense but rather as it is constituted in the process of political ideological activity which articulates and defines social relationships within China as well as China's relationship to the world Gender Politics in Modern China Tani E. Barlow, 1993 Through the lens of modern Chinese literature Gender Politics in Modern China explores the relationship between gender and modernity notions of the feminine and masculine and shifting arguments for gender equality in China Ranging from interviews with contemporary writers to historical accounts of gendered writing in Taiwan and semi colonial China to close feminist readings of individual authors these essays confront the degree to which textual strategies construct notions of gender Among the specific themes discussed are how femininity is produced in texts by allocating women to domestic space the extent to which textual production lies at the base of a changing historically specific code of the feminine the extent to which women in modern Chinese societies are products of literary canons the ways in which the historical processes of gendering have operated in Chinese modernity vis vis modernity in the West the representation of feminists as avengers and as westernized women and the meager recognition of feminism as a serious intellectual current and a large body of theory Originally published as a special issue of Modern Chinese Literature Spring Fall 1988 this expanded book represents some of the most compelling new work in post Mao feminist scholarship and will appeal to all those concerned with understanding a revitalized feminism in the Chinese context

Family Life in China William R. Jankowiak, Robert L. Moore, 2016-11-28 The family has long been viewed as both a microcosm of the state and a barometer of social change in China It is no surprise therefore that the dramatic changes experienced by Chinese society over the past century have produced a wide array of new family systems Where a widely accepted Confucian based ideology once offered a standard framework for family life current ideas offer no such uniformity Ties of affection rather than duty have become prominent in determining what individuals feel they owe to their spouses parents children and others Chinese millennials facing a world of opportunities and at the same time feeling a sense of heavy obligation are reshaping patterns of courtship marriage and filiality in ways that were not foreseen by their parents nor by the authorities of the Chinese state Those whose roots are in the countryside but who have left their homes to seek opportunity and adventure in the city face particular pressures as do the children and elders they have left behind The authors explore this diversity focusing on rural vs urban differences regionalism and ethnic diversity within China Family Life in China presents new perspectives on what the current changes in this institution imply for a rapidly changing society
