Political Thinking Of The Indonesian Chinese 1900-1995 Second Edition:

Political Thinking of the Indonesian Chinese, 1900-1995 Leo Suryadinata, 1997 This sourcebook aims to introduce to English readers the political thinking of the Chinese minority in Indonesia spanning almost a century from 1900-1995. Comprising the writings, speeches, letters, and memoirs of Indonesian Chinese leaders or individuals who have been significant in the development of Chinese minority thinking in Indonesia, translated from Peranakan Malay, Indonesian Chinese, or Dutch, this volume thus presents the voices of eminent Indonesian Chinese. This updated and expanded edition of the book, first published in 1979, includes several new articles of material bringing post-1997 developments up to date significantly till 1995, the year of the Bali Declaration when the Chinese tycoons were asked to help solve the Indonesian economic problem.

Political Participation and Ethnic Minorities Amy L. Freedman, 2002-05-03 First published in 2000, Routledge is an imprint of Taylor & Francis, an information company.

Catholics in Independent Indonesia: 1945-2010 Karel Steenbrink, 2015-05-12 Catholics in Independent Indonesia 1945-2010 concludes Steenbrink's three-volume historical account of Catholicism in Indonesia with a detailed report of the survival and growth of this minority religion in Muslim Indonesia since its independence in 1945. Colonial Catholicism survived in the independent Republic of Indonesia during the nationalist Sukarno regime (1945-1965) and regained a new dynamic during the general religious revival that was part of the New Order of Soeharto after 1965. From a Dutch-inspired institution, it became a fully Indonesian-steered community with a modern and international character. The second half of the book will deal with the different regional developments in this vast country.

Racism and Public Policy Y. Bangura, R. Stavenhagen, 2005-04-05 In a time when racism is on the rise as a source of conflict and social justice has been increasingly demanded by the civic society, this collection stands as a timely reminder that to ignore the racial factor in the globalization forces is as mistaken as eliminating class analysis. The essays published here supplement the literature of comparative race relations from the standpoint of the theory of institutional racism and its effect on public policies such as immigration, citizenship, security, and policing.

Intercultural dialogue across borders : China between tradition and modernity Jens Damm, Hauke Neddermann, 2020-01-01 This issue of the Chinese History and Society deals with cultural exchanges between China and the outside world and with their impact, mostly in terms of questions regarding tradition and modernity. China is understood more as an area composed of certain cultural elements which may include the Chinese and Taiwanese diaspora where a sense of belonging still exists and which exerts influence on everyday culture and habits.

Shari'a, Citizenship, and Identity in Aceh Arskal Salim, Moch. Nur Ichwan, Eka Srimulyani, Marzi Afriko, 2025-05-15 Shari'a, Citizenship, and Identity in Aceh presents both an ethnographic and a sociohistorical account of identity making among both the Muslim majority population and different minority groups in Aceh, Indonesia. Diverging from previous studies on majority-minority group relations in a predominantly Muslim country that tend to engage solely with one group's experiences, Shari'a, Citizenship, and Identity in Aceh argues that the majority and minority groups in Aceh Indonesia have interactively and mutually created conceptions of identity and recognition that have significant implications on the experience of citizenship in the region. The authors provide not only a narrative of majority minority group encounters in a variety of issues but also a wide ranging account of struggles from both the Muslim majority and non Muslim minority groups for recognition of their own identity in the public space. To what extent do minority groups feel that they belong to Aceh's communal identity which is mostly Islamic? And what kind of citizenship is in place when minorities feel marginalized living under Aceh's Islamic rules? Shari'a Citizenship and Identity in Aceh debunks the concept of citizenship by way of deploying the concept of the politics of recognition against the politics of the dominant culture theory. It looks further at how equal citizenship in a democratic political system has been negotiated and compromised and how the politics of dominant culture has caused a sense of shared ownership to be largely deficient and vague in Aceh.

Chinese Among Others Philip A. Kuhn, 2009-09-16 This book tells the remarkable worldwide story of Chinese emigration since the sixteenth century a process that is integral to the history of state and society in China. Distinguished historian Philip A. Kuhn explores the creative opportunism that has allowed Chinese migrants to adapt to different environments around the world. The various human ecologies they confronted presented Chinese settlers with diverse challenges and opportunities in the colonial and postcolonial states of Southeast Asia in the settler societies of the Americas and Australasia and in Europe. And post revolutionary China today presents fresh opportunities for emigrants to leverage their expatriate status to do business with a homeland eager for their investments donations and technologies.

The Politics of Multiculturalism Robert W. Hefner, 2001-08-31 Few challenges to the modern dream of democratic citizenship appear greater than the presence of severe ethnic religious and linguistic divisions in society. With their diverse religions and ethnic communities the Southeast Asian countries of Malaysia Singapore and Indonesia have grappled with this problem since achieving independence after World War II. Each country has on occasion been torn by violence over the proper terms for accommodating pluralism. Until the Asian economic crisis of 1997 however these nations also enjoyed one of the most sustained economic expansions the non Western world has ever seen. This timely volume brings together fifteen leading specialists of the region to consider the impact of two generations of nation building and market making on pluralism and citizenship in these deeply divided Asian societies. Examining the new face of pluralism from the perspective of markets politics gender and religion the studies show that each country has developed a strikingly different response to the challenges of citizenship and diversity. The contributors most of whom come Southeast Asia pay particular attention to the tension between state and societal approaches to citizenship. They suggest that the achievement of an effectively participatory public sphere in these countries will depend not only on the presence of an independent civil society but on a synergy of state and society that nurtures a public culture capable of mediating ethnic religious and gender divides. The Politics of Multiculturalism will be of special interest to students of Southeast Asian history and society anthropologists grappling with questions of citizenship and culture political scientists studying democracy across cultures and all readers concerned with the prospects for civility and tolerance in a multicultural world

The Politics of the Periphery in Indonesia John H. Walker, Glenn Banks, Minako Sakai, 2009-01-01 The Politics of the Periphery in Indonesia is a thought provoking examination of local politics and the dynamics of power at Indonesia's geographic and social margins After the fall of Suharto in 1998 and the introduction of a policy of decentralization in 2001 local stakeholders secured and consolidated decision making power and set about negotiating new relations with Jakarta The volume deals with power struggles and local national tensions looking among other things at resource control the historical roots of regional identity politics and issues relating to Chinese Indonesians The authors develop information in ways that transcend the post colonial territorial boundaries of Indonesia in the Malay Indonesian archipelago and use case studies to show how the changes described have galvanized Indonesian politics at the cultural and geographical peripheries

New Nation-States and National Minorities Julien Danero Iglesias, Nenad Stojanović, Sharon Weinblum, 2013-03-01 The twentieth century saw the emergence of new states shaped on the classic nation state model How has this model been moulded and implemented What have been the implications for minorities in these new nation states And how have minorities responded to nationalising processes Following a discussion by Rogers Brubaker of his concept of nationalising state contributions to this volume examine the dynamic relations between national minorities and nation states established in the course of the last century including Ukraine Moldova Turkey Malaysia and Israel This book's original theoretical framework and comparative approach offer a new understanding of the complex interactions between the formulation of a state identity and the aspirations of those who do not fit in the proclaimed core nation In light of recent developments in notably Ukraine and Israel this book is essential reading for all those interested in the rights and protection of national minorities and more broadly in the debates over the definition of the polity in a tense environment

Digital Transnationalism Wanning Sun, Haiqing Yu, 2023-02-06 This is the first book in English on Chinese language digital media in Australia The book comes at a time when the relationship between China and the West is at its most troubling since the end of the Cold War Combining rich ethnographic insights with dispassionate analysis this investigation into Australia's Chinese language digital and social media sheds new light on how migrants from the People's Republic of China negotiate two media cultural and political systems The book is a timely antidote to the polarized and often simplistic positions that dominate ongoing debates about the Chinese diaspora and diasporic media and injects much needed nuance into analyses of the changing face of Chinese transnationalism

Historical Dictionary of Indonesia Audrey Kahin, 2015-10-29 A wide flung archipelago lying between the Pacific and Indian Oceans

Indonesia is the world's most populous Islamic country. For over two thousand years it was a crossroads on the major trading route between China and India but it was not brought together into a single entity until the Dutch extended their rule throughout the Netherlands East Indies in the early part of the 20th century. Declaring its independence from the Dutch in 1945 the Republic of Indonesia was ruled by only two regimes over the next half century. Throughout the years the country has continued to be dogged by an inefficient bureaucracy and by perpetual problems of corruption. However, since 2004 Indonesia has successfully carried out four direct elections for president together with an equal number of elections for legislative bodies at all levels of government and has finally in 2014 elected a president with no ties to either the military or to the previous authoritarian power structure. This third edition of Historical Dictionary of Indonesia contains a chronology, an introductory essay, appendixes and an extensive bibliography. The dictionary section has over 900 cross-referenced entries on important personalities, politics, economy, foreign relations, religion, and culture. This book is an excellent access point for students, researchers, and anyone wanting to know more about Indonesia. Diasporic Chinese Ventures GREGOR BENTON, Hong Liu, 2004-07-31

This collection of essays by and about Wang Gungwu brings together some of Wang's most recent and representative writing about the ethnic Chinese outside China, giving the reader a deeper understanding of his views on migration, identity, nationalism, and culture, all key issues in modern Asia's transformation. The book collects interviews, speeches, and essays that illustrate the development and direction of Wang's scholarship on ethnic and diasporic Chinese. Authentic Chinese Christianity Koen De Ridder, 2001. This volume intends to tackle two problems. The first is the historical framework of imperialism, until now widely applied by Western and Chinese scholars as an approach to the Christian evangelization movement in China. The theological aspect of the missionary action is seldom taken into account, nor is religion treated as an authentic human experience. In this volume, two authors try to place the position of the Christian mission in its broader context. Scott Somers reflects on the changing image of the Japanese occupation in Taiwan based on Protestant missionary sources. Koen De Ridder discusses the early diplomatic contacts between China and Belgium and the position of the Belgian missionaries. A second problem dealt with is that of the native Christians. While Jessie Lutz attempts to sketch a profile of the Chinese Protestant evangelizers, Jean Paul Wiest focuses his attention on the Roman Catholics among the Chinese Hakka minority. Gary Tiedemann explains the material, spiritual, and political incentives for conversion among the inhabitants of North China, paying special attention to the socio-political profile of the converts. In the contribution of Ann Heylen, we return to Taiwan where we are offered a better understanding of the Protestant contribution to the study of the Min language. Finally, Karel Steenbrink describes the changing religious affiliation of assimilated Chinese in Indonesia during the period 1900-1942. Traditions and Transformations of Habitation in Indonesia Bagoes Wiryomartono, 2020-03-04

This book raises the issue of the practice of patrimonial power with a focus on habitations, particularly in the urban areas of Indonesia. An assemblage of interdisciplinary studies within the framework of environmental humanities covering the arts architecture urban studies geography cultural anthropology and sociology this multifaceted framework divulges the interactive connectivity between Indonesia's patrimonial culture and the socio culturally constructed system of habitation The interdisciplinary study of the pertinent practices of patrimonial power that have been represented and been manifested by various political and traditional regimes in terms of the built environment and habitation in Indonesia contributes to a new understanding of Indonesian urban spatial development from the pre colonial era to the present The book poses that in order to understand the politics of Indonesia one must understand the culture and tradition of the political leadership of the country The author presents such an understanding in exploring and unpacking the relationship between people and place that constructs develops sustains and conserves Indonesian culture and traditions of habitation This book is of interest to graduate scholars and researchers in Asian Studies in numerous disciplines including urban studies urban planning and design political science architecture anthropology of space public administration and political philosophy

Indonesia-Malaysia Relations Marshall Clark, Juliet Pietsch, 2014-03-26 Drawing on social media cinema cultural heritage and public opinion polls this book examines Indonesia and Malaysia from a comparative postcolonial perspective The Indonesia Malaysia relationship is one of the most important bilateral relationships in Southeast Asia especially because Indonesia the world's fourth most populous country and third largest democracy is the most populous and powerful nation in the region Both states are committed to the relationship especially at the highest levels of government and much has been made of their sibling identity The relationship is built on years of interaction at all levels of state and society and both countries draw on their common culture religion and language in managing political tensions In recent years however several issues have seriously strained the once cordial bilateral relationship Among these are a strong public reaction to maritime boundary disputes claims over each country's cultural forms the treatment of Indonesian workers in Malaysia and trans border issues such as Indonesian forest fire haze Comparing the two nations engagement with cultural heritage religion gender ethnicity citizenship democracy and regionalism this book highlights the social and historical roots of the tensions between Indonesia and Malaysia as well as the enduring sense of kinship Cultures in Contact Dirk Hoerder, 2002-11-21 Analysis of migrations regional interregional continent wide and global and the resulting cultural interactions and societal changes Translation in Asia Ronit Ricci, Jan van der Putten, 2014-04-08 The field of translation studies was largely formed on the basis of modern Western notions of monolingual nations with print literate societies and monochrome cultures A significant number of societies in Asia and their translation traditions have diverged markedly from this model With their often multilingual populations and maintaining a highly oral orientation in the transmission of cultural knowledge many Asian societies have sustained alternative notions of what text original and translation may mean and have often emphasized performance and change rather than simple copying or transference The contributions in Translation in Asia present exciting new windows into South and Southeast Asian translation traditions and their vast array of shared inter connected and overlapping ideas about and practices of translation transmitted between these two regions over centuries of contact and exchange Drawing on translation traditions rarely acknowledged within translation studies debates including Tagalog Tamil Kannada Malay Hindi Javanese Telugu and Malayalam the essays in this volume engage with myriad interactions of translation and religion colonialism and performance and provide insight into alternative conceptualizations of translation across periods and locales The understanding gained from these diverse perspectives will contribute to complicate and expand the conversations unfolding in an emerging international translation studies
