Quatremere de Quincy Sylvia Lavin, 1992 Sylvia Lavin uncovers the origins of one of the fundamental concepts of modern architectural theory the idea that architecture is a form of language Ouatremère de Ouincy David Gilks, 2024-05-31 Antoine Chrysosth me Quatrem re de Quincy 1755 1849 was the most distinguished writer on art and architecture at the end of the enlightenment However as David Gilks shows in Quatrem re de Quincy Art and Politics during the French Revolution he was never simply an esoteric antiquarian and theoretician he was also a zealous functionary and skilled publicist whose writings on the arts often served political purposes Quatrem re de Quincy Art and Politics during the French Revolution demonstrates how Quatrem res early writings on art and antiquity formed the foundation for a politics grounded in faith authority and hierarchy that favoured gradual social and political evolution over destruction and experimentation Gilks then traces how Quatrem re set aside his antiquarian research and became a royalist politician and publicist during the revolutionary decade Quatrem re feared that the Revolution would destroy the cosmopolitan republic of letters that had flourished when states across Europe supported the papacy's rediscovery of the past restoration of taste and revival of learning Yet Gilks reveals that Quatrem re was also a resourceful and an opportunistic political actor who deployed his opponents language for strategic reasons Gilks therefore reinterprets Quatrem re s interventions by situating them in their polemical contexts and treating them as contributions to debates and guarrels by locating his sources and reconstructing his social and political networks The resulting study revises our understanding of Quatrem re s famous reflections on the Academy of Painting and Sculpture the Panth on art plunder and museums but it also discovers and sheds light on previously ignored writings Although the study focuses on the period 1789 1799 it examines the second half of Quatrem re s life to substantiate his commitment to crown and altar and show how he fought against the Revolution s legacy of godless materialism and calculation that was inimical to the arts This is a thoroughly researched and richly detailed contextual study of the most eventful period in Quatrem re s life but it also offers an original and unfamiliar history of the French Revolution Gilks integrates the study of political power with the history of ideas and art history and provides a window into institutional and legal reforms and debates about cultural patronage and education Place, Space, and Mediated Communication Carolyn Marvin, Hong Sun-ha, 2017-04-21 Place Space and Mediated Communication explores how new communications technologies are able to disrupt our spatial understanding and in so doing reorganize the boundaries of human experience a phenomenon that can rightly be described as context collapse Individual essays investigate context collapse in a variety of geographical and temporal settings including the US drone war in Pakistan social media and sexuality in Paris privacy and privilege in Brazil and videogames and resistance in Iran This cross disciplinary collection of essays demonstrates how communication and space are co constituted and models exciting new paths of inquiry for researchers Place Space and Mediated Communication is suitable for students and scholars of media and communication contradictions inherent in supposedly ideal symbolic forms Toward an Integrative Theory of Urban Design Hossein Bahrainy, Ameneh Bakhtiar, 2016-05-13 This book takes a bold epistemological approach to address the fundamental questions that urban design has faced since its inception questions concerning its legitimacy definition nature content purpose theory methods jurisdiction and above all its knowledge base The appropriate level of urban design global or local is another critical and emerging question discussed At the end an integrative theory of urban design is introduced on the basis of which a set of principles is developed for application by practicing urban designers. These principles are presented at three essential levels general global and local Iranian Toward an Integrative Theory of Urban Design is intended to dispel many of the ambiguities still troubling urban design as a discipline and profession Furnishing Fascism Ignacio G. Galán, 2025-05-16 The role of modernist interior design in the construction of Italian nationalism Along with the rise of Mussolini's fascist regime the interwar years in Italy also saw the widespread development of its modernist interior design and furnishing practices While the regime s politics were overtly manifest in monumental government architecture Furnishing Fascism examines the subtler yet effective role of household goods and decor in the cultivation of Italy s exclusionary sense of national identity Presenting a fresh look at the work of various architects and designers including iconic figures such as Gio Ponti and Carlo Enrico Rava Ignacio G Gal n explores how seemingly neutral products of everyday life contributed to the propagation of fascist ideology Through extensive promotion in popular magazines and department stores on the film sets of Cinecitt Studios and throughout the country's colonial territories Italy's modernist design practices were part of a larger political project that aimed to produce a totalizing image of cultural hegemony Interweaving design theory architectural history and media scholarship Furnishing Fascism reexamines the period s so called minor arts to reveal the political entanglement of modernism in early twentieth century Italy and offers valuable insight into the complications of cultural production under the auspices of authoritarian power Retail e book files for this title are screen reader friendly with images accompanied by short alt text and or extended descriptions Inessential Colors Basile Baudez, 2021-12-21 The first comprehensive account of how and why architects learned to communicate through color Architectural drawings of the Italian Renaissance were largely devoid of color but from the seventeenth century through the nineteenth polychromy in architectural representation grew and flourished Basile Baudez argues that colors appeared on paper when architects adapted the pictorial tools of imitation cartographers natural signs military engineers conventions and finally painters affective goals in an attempt to communicate with a broad public Inessential Colors traces the use of color in European architectural drawings and prints revealing how this phenomenon reflected the professional anxieties of an emerging professional practice that was simultaneously art and science Traversing national borders the book addresses color as a key player in the long history of rivalry and exchange between European traditions in architectural representation and practice Featuring a wealth of previously unpublished drawings Inessential Colors challenges the long standing misreading of architectural drawings as illustrations rather than representations pointing instead to their inherent qualities as independent objects whose beauty paved the way for the visual system architects use today Race and Modern Architecture Irene Cheng, Charles L. Davis II, Mabel O. Wilson, 2020-05-26 Although race a concept of human difference that establishes hierarchies of power and domination has played a critical role in the development of modern architectural discourse and practice since the Enlightenment its influence on the discipline remains largely underexplored This volume offers a welcome and long awaited intervention for the field by shining a spotlight on constructions of race and their impact on architecture and theory in Europe and North America and across various global contexts since the eighteenth century Challenging us to write race back into architectural history contributors confront how racial thinking has intimately shaped some of the key concepts of modern architecture and culture over time including freedom revolution character national and indigenous style progress hybridity climate representation and radicalism By analyzing how architecture has intersected with histories of slavery colonialism and inequality from eighteenth century neoclassical governmental buildings to present day housing projects for immigrants Race and Modern Architecture challenges complicates and revises the standard association of modern architecture with a universal project of emancipation and progress The Architecture of Percier and Fontaine and the Struggle for Sovereignty in Revolutionary France Iris Moon, 2016-11-25 As the official architects of Napoleon Charles Percier 1764 1838 and Pierre Fran ois L onard Fontaine 1762 1853 designed interiors that responded to the radical ideologies and collective forms of destruction that took place during the French Revolution The architects visualized new forms of imperial sovereignty by inverting the symbols of monarchy and revolution constructing meeting rooms resembling military encampments and gilded thrones that replaced the Bourbon lily with Napoleonic bees Yet in the wake of political struggle each foundation stone that the architects laid for the new imperial regime was accompanied by an awareness of the contingent nature of sovereign power Contributing fresh perspectives on the architecture decorative arts and visual culture of revolutionary France this book explores how Percier and Fontaine's desire to build structures of permanence and their inadvertent reliance upon temporary architectural forms shaped a new awareness of time memory and modern political identity in France Charles Robert Cockerell, Architect in Time Anne Bordeleau, 2016-04-15 Speed acceleration and rapid change characterize our world and as we design and construct buildings that are to last at least a few decades and sometimes even centuries how can architecture continue to act as an important cultural signifier Focusing on how an important nineteenth century architect addressed the already shifting relation between architecture time and history this book offers insights on issues still relevant today the struggle between imitation and innovation the definition or rejection of aesthetic experience the grounds of architectural judgment who decides and how or fundamentally how to act i e build when there is no longer a single grand narrative but a plurality of possible histories Six drawings provide the foundation of an itinerary through Charles Robert Cockerell's conception of architecture and into the depths of drawings and buildings Born
