Queen Emma Of The South Seas:

Queen Emma of the South Seas Geoffrey Dutton, 1988 60 Years in East Africa Werner Voigt, 1995 Thirty Years in the South Seas Richard Parkinson, 2010 Richard Parkinson's Thirty Years in the South Seas was first published in 1907 In this 900 page work Parkinson drew together and expanded on the scientific and popular papers he had been publishing since 1887 creating in the process a landmark ethnography of the Bismarck Archipelago Parkinson moved to New Britain in 1879 only seven years after the first trader had established himself in the area Over the next thirty years he employed many local people on the family s expanding plantations and travelled widely in the area trading for produce especially coconuts observing traditional life and buying artefacts for museums in Europe USA and Australia His travels covered the islands now known as New Britain New Ireland New Hanover Manus Buka and Bougainville but he also collected information about the mainland of New Guinea Kaiser Wilhelmsland His observations covered a wide range of topics from religious life and ceremonies to artefacts and language It is clear he talked extensively with people though mostly with a translator and compared accounts He also took many photographs some 200 of which were included in the volume Given the period all his human subjects had to be posed but the range of associated detail probably unconsciously included is substantial What is particularly important about this work is the period in which it was written While Parkinson may never have been the first contact of any local people he was clearly among the first and observed many societies before they were extensively incorporated into the Western economy or missionised Thirty Years in the South Seas is unparalleled in the literature of the Bismarck Archipelago It is an incomparable picture of a time and place now long past Dark Paradise Fuller Jennifer Fuller, 2016-05-31 Examines the way in which the British transformed the Pacific islands during the nineteenth century The discovery of the Pacific islands amplified the qualities of mystery and exoticism already associated with foreign islands Their savage peoples their isolation and their sheer beauty fascinated British visitors across the long nineteenth century Dark Paradise argues that while the British originally believed the islands to be commercial paradises or perfect sites for missionary endeavours as the century progressed their optimistic vision transformed to portray darker realities As a result these islands act as a breaking point for British theories of imperialism colonialism and identity The book traces the changing British attitudes towards imperial settlement as the early view of island as paradise gives way to a fear of the hostile islanders and examines how this revelation undermined a key tenant of British imperialism that they were the superior or civilized islanders Key FeaturesThe first monograph to trace the Pacific islands as represented through the lens of British fiction and non fiction across the long nineteenth century Examines texts written by Pacific islanders and published in the British pressSignificantly broadens our understanding of the British Pacific by analysing understudied Pacific texts and authors alongside more canonical works South Seas Encounters Richard Fulton, Peter Hoffenberg, Stephen Hancock, Allison Paynter, 2018-08-06 South Seas Encounters examines several key types of encounters between the many faceted worlds of Oceania Britain and the United States in the formative nineteenth century The eleven essays collected in this volume focus not only on the effect of the two powerful industrialized colonial powers on the cultures of the Pacific but the effect of those cultures on the Western cultural perceptions of themselves and the wider world including understanding encounters and exchanges in ways which do not underemphasize the agency and consequences for all participating parties The essays also provide insights into the causes unfolding and consequences for both sides of a series of significant ethnographic political cultural scientific educational and social encounters This volume makes a significant contribution to increasing scholarly interest in Oceania's place in British and American nineteenth century cultural experiences South Seas Encounters investigates these significant interactions and how they changed the ways that Oceanic British and American cultures reflected on themselves and their place in the wider world Imperial expectations and realities Andrekos Varnava, 2015-09-01 A wide ranging edited collection that interrogates colonial expansion and the mismatch between intention perception and hype and the actual realities Our New Possession (late German New Guinea) J. S. An Indigenous Ocean Damon Salesa, 2023-11-01 The Pacific's Indigenous times are not just smaller sections Lyng, 1919 of larger histories but dimensions of their own Histories of our Pacific world are richly rendered in these essays by Damon Salesa From the first Indigenous civilisations that flourished in Oceania to the colonial encounters of the nineteenth century and on to the complex contemporary relationships between New Zealand and the Pacific Salesa offers new perspectives on this vast ocean its people its cultures its pasts and its future Spanning a wide range of topics from race and migration to Pacific studies and empire these essays demonstrate Salesa's remarkable scholarship Bridging the gap between academic disciplines and cultural traditions Salesa locates Pacific peoples always at the centre of their stories An Indigenous Ocean is Guinea Lilian Overell.1923 The Decline and Fall of the British Empire, 1781-1997 Piers Brendon, 2008-10-28 A WASHINGTON POST BOOK WORLD NOTABLE BOOK After the American Revolution the British Empire appeared to be doomed Yet it grew to become the greatest most diverse empire the world had seen Then within a generation the mighty structure collapsed a rapid demise that left an array of dependencies and a contested legacy at best a sporting spirit a legal code and a near universal language at worst failed states and internecine strife The Decline and Fall of the British Empire covers a vast canvas which Brendon fills with vivid particulars from brief lives to telling anecdotes to comic episodes to New York Magazine ,1989-04-03 New York magazine was born symbolic moments Army Reserve Magazine ,1980 in 1968 after a run as an insert of the New York Herald Tribune and quickly made a place for itself as the trusted resource for readers across the country With award winning writing and photography covering everything from politics and food to theater and fashion the magazine s consistent mission has been to reflect back to its audience the energy and excitement of the city itself while celebrating New York as both a place and an idea Australian Autobiographical Narratives: 1850-1900

Kay Walsh, Joy W. Hempenstall, 2016-06-01 This is an important book It is a reprint of the first detailed study of how Pacific Islanders responded politically and economically to their rulers across the German empire of the Pacific Under one cover it captures the variety of interactions between the various German colonial administrations with their separate approaches and the leaders and people of Samoa in Polynesia the major island centre of Pohnpei in Micronesia and the indigenes of New Guinea Drawing on anthropology new Pacific history insights and a range of theoretical works on African and Asian resistance from the 1960s and 1970s it reveals the complexities of Islander reactions and the nature of protests against German imperial rule It casts aside old assumptions that colonised peoples always resisted European colonisers Instead this book argues convincingly that Islander responses were often intelligent and subtle manipulations of their rulers agendas their societies dynamic enough to make their own adjustments to the demands of empire It does not shy away from major blunders by German colonial administrators nor from the strategic and tactical mistakes of Islander leaders At the same time it raises the profile of several large personalities on both sides of the colonial frontier including Lauaki Namulau ulu Mamoe and Wilhelm Solf in Samoa Henry Nanpei Georg Fritz and Karl Boeder in Pohnpei or Governor Albert Hahl and Po Minis from Manus Island in New Guinea
