,1902    Creating Connections in Teaching and Learning Lindy Abawi,Joan Conway,Robyn Henderson,2011-12-01 This book explores the wide range of contexts in which research into creating connections in learning and teaching may take place Creating connections can encompass making links crossing divides forming relationships building frameworks and generating new knowledge The cognitive cultural social emotional and or physical aspects of understanding meaning making motivating acting researching and evaluating are explored as constituent forms of creativity in relation to such connections From this exploration the authors identify varied connective contexts and means which include the learner the educator the organisation and the relevant community The crossing of divides forming learner educator relationships bringing together diverse groups of learners establishing networks and partnerships among educators and establishing links between organisations and communities are all considered as connections which can be created by and within the learning and teaching dynamic By examining the factors which help to facilitate and or restrict the possibilities for creating connections in educational contexts implications for and outcomes of learning and or teaching arise from the connections created The final chapter of this book will explicate the realisations that have emerged for educators and researchers working to create connections These offer suggestions for future directions and enunciate what and how connections might contribute to both educational institutions and the broader society    The Making of Australia's Gold Coast Alan J. Blackman,2024-08-01

Blackman draws on original material and the work of many earlier researchers to paint a verbal picture of the evolution of a remarkable city In an easy to read style he highlights some of the conditions key events and individuals that have led to the development of Australia s Gold Coast The story of the City of Gold Coast is more than just any story It describes the growth of Australia s sixth largest city the nation s most populous city that is not a state capital A city of more than 600 000 it has grown at a rate of four per cent yearly since the 1950s It sustains a growth rate well ahead of its infrastructure and its economy s capacity to provide full time employment to the many new arrivals A city heavily reliant on tourism and construction it is regularly subjected to the boom and bust of a fickle world economy But it continues to expand and evolve And like so many coastal towns worldwide this Gold Coast may soon be threatened by the tides This book is essential for students researchers anyone interested in industry and urban development and those seeking to understand the city where they live work and play    Children and the Environment in an Australian Indigenous Community Angela Kreutz,2014-11-20

Aboriginal children represent one of the fastest growing population segments in Australia yet the lives of Aboriginal children in their environment has rarely been subjected to systematic and in depth study In this book Angela Kreutz considers the relationship between the environment attachment and development in indigenous children examining theoretical constructs and conceptual models by empirically road testing these ideas within a distinct cultural community The book presents the first empirical study on Australian Aboriginal children s lives from within the field of child environment studies employing an environmental psychology perspective combined with architectural and anthropological understandings Chapters offer valuable insights into participatory planning and design solutions concerning Aboriginal children in their distinct community environment and the cross cultural character of the case study illuminates the commonalities of child development as well as recognising the uniqueness that stems from specific histories in specific places Children and the Environment in an Australian Indigenous Community makes significant theoretical methodological and practical contributions to the international cross disciplinary field of child environment studies It will be of key interest to researchers from the fields of environmental ecological developmental and social psychology as well as anthropologists sociologists and those studying the environment and planning    A Social and Economic Profile of Women in Queensland 1999 ,1999    Resources in Education ,1989    A Reader on Audience Development and Cultural Policy Steven Hadley,2024-02-22 This book brings together for the first time twenty two chapters on arts marketing and audience development Edited and curated to be accessible to both academics and those working in the cultural sector the book provides an invaluable resource for anyone interested in the traditions philosophies and approaches which underpin our ideas about increasing audiences for the arts Covering a range of topics and international perspectives it tells the story of how arts marketing and audience development came to be such an important management practice in the cultural sector This edited volume discusses the relationship of audience development to arts management and cultural policy and outlines the foundational arguments which have led to contemporary debates around everyday creativity and cultural democracy By providing vital insights from both the theory and practice of arts marketing and audience development the book will serve as an excellent reference work for researchers Simultaneously this book will also be an invaluable read for those working in cultural leadership and arts management roles The chapters in this book were originally published in various Routledge journals     APAIS 1999: Australian public affairs information service ,
