

An aerial photograph of a landscape. A dark asphalt road runs diagonally from the bottom left towards the top right. To the left of the road is a dense green forest. To the right is a vast field of golden-brown crops, possibly wheat or corn. A single blue car is visible on the road, moving away from the viewer. In the upper right quadrant, there is a large, dark green, rounded tree or shrub. The overall lighting suggests late afternoon or early morning, with long shadows and warm tones.

Queer Studies An Interdisciplinary Reader:

Queer Studies Robert J. Corber, Stephen Valocchi, 2003-01-10 Queer Studies An Interdisciplinary Reader is a collection of essays that over the past two decades have helped to establish sexuality as one of the most vital and important areas of study in both the humanities and social sciences Brings together important essays that have helped to establish sexuality as one of the most vital areas of study in the humanities and social sciences Includes an introductory essay by the editors that provides a context for this pivotal scholarship and promotes dialogue across disciplines Discusses key issues in the field including sexual politics cultural construction of sexuality transnationalism race community sexual citizenship and the nation state Functions as a primary text for introductory as well as advanced courses as a general introduction to the field and as a scholarly resource

Criminology and Queer Theory Matthew Ball, 2016-07-13 This book offers critical reflections on the intersections between criminology and queer scholarship and charts future directions for this field Since their development over twenty five years ago queer scholarship and politics have been hotly contested fields equally embraced and dismissed Amid calls for criminology and criminal justice institutions to respond more effectively to the injustices faced by LGBTIQ people criminologists have recently developed a Queer Criminology and turned to queer scholarship in the process Through a sweeping analysis of critical criminologies as well as issues as varied as shame and utopian thought Matthew Ball points to the many opportunities for criminology to engage further with the more politically disruptive strands of queer scholarship His analysis highlights that criminology and queer theory are dangerous bedfellows and that navigating the tension between them is central to confronting the social and criminal injustices experienced by LGBTIQ communities This book will be of particular interest for scholars of criminology criminal justice LGBTIQ studies gender studies and critical theory

The Practice of U.S. Women's History S. J. Kleinberg, Eileen Boris, Vicki Ruiz, 2007 In the last several decades U S women s history has come of age Not only have historians challenged the national narrative on the basis of their rich explorations of the personal the social the economic and the political but they have also entered into dialogues with each other over the meaning of women s history itself In this collection of seventeen original essays on women s lives from the colonial period to the present contributors take the competing forces of race gender class sexuality religion and region into account Among many other examples they examine how conceptions of gender shaped government officials attitudes towards East Asian immigrants how race and gender inequality pervaded the welfare state and how color and class shaped Mexican American women s mobilization for civil and labor rights

Critical Perspectives on Student Development Theory Elisa S. Abes, 2016-06-14 The use of critical and post structural theories such as critical race theory intersectionality and queer theory to explore student development is relatively new Most current research looks beyond the individual to how systems of oppression such as racism ableism and heterosexism mediate student development and the nature of student development theory This volume offers some of the most contemporary thinking about student development by reviewing recent critical post structural scholarship offering new possibilities for using theoretical lenses and translating these theories into student affairs practice This is the 154th volume of this Jossey Bass higher education quarterly series An indispensable resource for vice presidents of student affairs deans of students student counselors and other student services professionals New Directions for Student Services offers guidelines and programs for aiding students in their total development emotional social physical and intellectual

Handbook of LGBT Communities, Crime, and Justice Dana Peterson, Vanessa R. Panfil, 2013-12-04 Contemporary scholars have begun to explore non normative sexual orientation gender identity and gender expression in a growing victimization literature but very little research is focused on LGBTQ communities patterns of offending beyond sex work and their experiences with police the courts and correctional institutions This Handbook the first of its kind in Criminology and Criminal Justice will break new ground by presenting a thorough treatment of all of these under explored issues in one interdisciplinary volume that features current empirical work

Nomadic Ethics in Contemporary Women's Writing in German Emily Jeremiah, 2012 Explores nationality gender and postmodern subjectivity in the work of five German speaking women writers who embody a nomadic ethics How can postmodern subjectivity be ethically conceived What can literature contribute to this project What role do gender and nation play in the construction of contemporary identities Nomadic Ethics broaches these questions exploring the work of five women writers who live outside of the German speaking countries or thematize a move away from them Birgit Vanderbeke Dorothea Gr nzweig Antje R vic

Strubel Anna Mitgutsch and Barbara Honigmann It draws on work by Rosi Braidotti Sara Ahmed and Judith Butler to develop a nomadic ethics and examines how the writers under discussion conceptualize contemporary German and Austrian identities especially but not only gender identities in instructive ways The book engages with a number of critical issues in contemporary German studies globalization green thought questions of gender and sexuality East and West German identities Austrianness the postmemory of the Holocaust and Jewishness In this way Nomadic Ethics offers a valuable contribution to debates about the nature of German studies itself as well as insightful readings of the individual authors and texts concerned Emily Jeremiah is Lecturer in German Royal Holloway University of London Companion to Sexuality scholars within this important book are painfully aware that the brutal murder of George Floyd was not due to a few bad apples They understand that they are perceived as threats and criminals within a distorted white imaginary that is embedded with processes of mythopoetic construction racial capitalism and a deep anti Black male social ontology Edited by prominent philosopher George Yancy Black Men from behind the Veil Ontological Interrogations emphasizes the importance of Black male epistemic agency and the courage to speak the truth regarding an America that values Black male life on the cheap and that attempts to control the movement of Black men their capacity to breathe and their being through anti Black technologies of surveillance confinement policing and white nation building There is no single monolithic Black male voice that dominates this crucial and necessary text Each voice speaks of pain behind the Veil revealing narrative specificity and an important recursive truth Black men within the white American psyche are both necessary and yet disposable The existential and sociohistorical weight of this truth is made painfully clear through the voices of these Black men

The Heresy of Jacob Frank Jay Michaelson, 2022 The Heresy of Jacob Frank is the first monograph length study on the religious philosophy of Jacob Frank 1726 1791 who in the wake of false messiah Sabbetai Zevi led the largest mass apostasy in Jewish history Based on close readings of Frank's late teachings recorded in 1784 and 1790 this book challenges scholarly presentations of Frank that depict him as a sex crazed degenerate and presents Frank as an original and prescient figure at the crossroads of tradition and modernity reason and magic Kabbalah and Western Esotericism Frank's worldview combines a skeptical rejection of religious law as ineffectual and repressive with a supernatural esoteric myth of immortal beings material magic and worldly power With close readings of the theological and narrative passages of Frank's teachings Michaelson shows how the Frankist sect evolved from its Sabbatean roots and the infamous 1757 59 disputations before the Catholic Church into a Western Esoteric society based on alchemy secrecy and sexual liberation Sexual ritual apparently tightly limited and controlled by the sect was not a libertine bacchanal but an enactment of the messianic reality a corporealization of what would later become known as spirituality While Frank was undoubtedly a manipulative even abusive leader whose sect mostly disappeared from history Michaelson suggests that his ideology anticipated themes that would become predominant in the Haskalah Early Hasidism and even contemporary New Age Judaism In an inversion of traditional religious values Frank's antinomian theology held personal flourishing to be a religious virtue affirmed only the material and transferred messianic eros into social sexual and political reality

LGBTQ Culture Bruce E. Drushel, 2020-12-17 Recent decades have seen remarkable changes in the cultural visibility legal status and social acceptance of LGBTQ people from positive representations of queerness in television series like The L Word and Will Grace to films about queer intersectionality like Moonlight to openly gay and lesbian elected officials and leaders in the business community to the end of anti sodomy laws and marriage discrimination With these advances have come assimilation of the queer subculture into the mainstream and with it loss of both some of the stigmatization of non heteronormativity and the very cornerstones of the distinctiveness of LGBTQ communities including queer neighbourhoods bars and nightclubs bookstores publications and other queer businesses Queer couples and their children are migrating from LGBTQ enclaves to neighbourhoods with better schools queer singles meet in virtual spaces rather than in bars and LGBTQ bookstores and community centres once the hub of queer communities are closing replaced by Amazon.com and social media These changes raise the question of how LGBTQ culture is changing and whether like many assimilated subcultures before it it may be in fact endangered This book examines these seismic changes their sociological and cultural implications reminisces about what has been lost and gained and hints at what the future may hold for LGBTQ people The chapters in this book were originally published in a special issue of the Journal of Homosexuality

Handbook on the Family and Marriage in China Xiaowei Zang, Lucy Xia Zhao, 2017-12-29 This Handbook advances research on the family and marriage in China by providing readers with a multidisciplinary and multifaceted coverage of major issues in one single volume It addresses the major conceptual theoretical and methodological issues of marriage and family in China and offers critical reflections on both the history and likely progression of the field

Introducing a Hermeneutics of Suspicion Jo Henderson-Merrygold, 2024-06-13 A hermeneutics of suspicion challenges cisnormative presuppositions that shape and at times occlude the variations in gender and sex exhibited by key characters in the ancestral narrative of Genesis 12-50 It charts the progression from Paul Ricoeur's hermeneutics of suspicion through liberation feminist and queer approaches Focusing on Derrida's queer and trans hermeneutics Henderson-Merrygold then offers a new strategy for reading against fixed binary gender assumptions where a character's sex always matches that assigned at birth The initial case study addresses Sarah who is the proto matriarch of the ancestral narratives in Genesis Masculinities contrast with femininities and Sarah's own agency makes the picture of a consistent gender hard to identify By closely reading the text different facets of Sarah's story emerge to emphasise how much the narrative directs the reader towards a cisnormative reading However Henderson-Merrygold shows it is not only the images of Sarah as feminine woman and mother that remain visible The subject of the second case study Esau is regularly judged to be a hypermasculine character due to his bodily appearance but repeatedly fails to fulfil the expectations related to that appearance Though often condemned as a poor example of hyper masculinity a suspicious reading identifies a richer and more nuanced figure Attending to Esau's actions his rejection of the gendered expectations appears intentional allowing him to settle more comfortably into his own identity This project advocates for and demonstrates the value of creative interpretations of biblical texts that challenge both malestream and feminist gender assumptions

Museums, Moralities and Human Rights Richard Sandell, 2016-12-08 This book explores how museums galleries and heritage sites of all kinds through the narratives they construct and publicly present can shape the moral and political climate within which human rights are experienced Through a series of richly drawn cases which focus on gender diversity and same sex love and desire Richard Sandell examines the ways in which museums are implicated in the ongoing struggle for lesbian gay bisexual transgender and intersex human rights Museums Moralities and Human Rights brings together for the first time the perspectives not only of those who work in govern fund and visit museums but also those of rights activists and campaigners who at key moments in their struggle have turned their attention to museums to advance their cause Offering new insights into how human rights are continually fought for realised and refused this volume makes the case for museums of all kinds to take up an active mindful and purposive engagement with contemporary human rights concerns Chinese Male

Homosexualities Travis S. K. Kong, 2010-07-13 This book presents a groundbreaking exploration of masculinities and homosexualities amongst Chinese gay men It provides a sociological account of masculinity desire sexuality identity and citizenship in contemporary Chinese societies and within the constellation of global culture Kong reports the results of an extensive ethnographic study of contemporary Chinese gay men in a wide range of different locations including mainland China Hong Kong and the Chinese overseas community in London showing how Chinese gay men live their everyday lives Relating Chinese male homosexuality to the extensive social and cultural theories on gender sexuality and the body postcolonialism and globalisation the book examines the idea of queer space and numerous queer flows of capital bodies ideas images and commodities around the world The book concludes that different gay male identities such as the conspicuously consuming memba in Hong Kong the urban tongzhi the money boy in China and the feminised golden boy in London emerge in different locations and are all caught up in the transnational flow of queer cultures which are at once local and global Lesbian Motherhood Róisín Ryan-Flood, 2009-05-27 This book studies the growing number of lesbian women embarking on parenthood after coming out Theoretical debates about lesbian motherhood often consider its assimilative or transgressive dimensions This book offers a different approach contextualising lesbian motherhood in relation to sexual citizenship and hegemonic discourses of kinship Lesbian Images in International Popular Culture Sara E.

Cooper, 2013-09-13 Lesbian images are everywhere these days cable television film popular magazines advertising Internet and the news creating desire in men and women alike selling commercial products and services and stirring up controversy on many levels But do these images truly represent the diverse identities of women centered women worldwide This book addresses the limited access to images of diverse and international lesbian identities and experiences in order to provide the reader with a more complete understanding of what it means to be lesbian in a global context It investigates how lesbians portray themselves as well as how they are portrayed by others in several areas of popular culture including television film the arts Internet advertising and the news It features articles on U S lesbian cartoonists Canadian viewer perceptions of lesbians on the cable show Queer as Folk panoramic looks at lesbians representation in Australian and Spanish television programming and in depth explorations of films by Spanish director Pedro Almodóvar leading Indian film producers and independent Chinese American filmmakers This book was published as a special issue of the Journal of Lesbian Studies Producing the Archival Body Jamie A. Lee, 2020-12-21 Producing the Archival Body draws on theoretical and practical research conducted within US and Canadian archives along with critical and cultural theory to examine the everyday lived experiences of archivists and records creators that are often overlooked during archival and media production Expanding on the author's previous work which engaged archival and queer theories to develop the Queered Archival Methodology that intervenes in traditional archival practices the book invites readers interested in humanistic inquiry to re consider how archives are defined understood deployed and accessed to produce subjects Arguing that archives and bodies are mutually constitutive and developing a keen focus on the body and embodiment alongside archival theory the author introduces new understandings of archival bodies Contributing to recent disciplinary moves that offer a more transdisciplinary emphasis Lee interrogates how power circulates and is deployed in archival contexts in order to build critical understandings of how deeply archives influence and shape the production of knowledges and human subjectivities Producing the Archival Body will be essential reading for academics and students engaged in the study of archival studies library and information science gender and women s studies anthropology history digital humanities and media studies It should also be of great interest to practitioners working in and with archives

Rainbow Theology Patrick S. Cheng, 2013-04-01 To date no book has systematically examined the theological writings of LGBT people of color Nor has any book explored how such writings might actually transform contemporary theological reflections on race and sexuality This book remedies these gaps by constructing a rainbow theology around the theme of bridging or mediation Rainbow Theology is the first book to reflect upon the theological significance of the intersections of race and queer sexuality across multiple ethnic and cultural groups This is particularly important in light of the current polarizing debates over issues of race sexuality and religion within churches and communities of faith around the world
