Mass Media, Consumerism and National Identity in Postwar Japan Martyn David Smith, 2018-04-05 Mass Media Consumerism and National Identity in Postwar Japan addresses Japan's evolving nationalism and national identity in relation to its newly rising consumerism during the two decades from 1952 to 1972 through a study of the transformation of the print media and the market for weekly and monthly magazines Martyn Smith argues that the transformation of the print media in the 1950s and 1960s expanded the possibilities for social individual and national identities in Japan From the late 1950s the growth in the market for weekly magazines was fuelled by the huge potential for advertising revenue the rapid development of the Japanese economy and the necessity for the growth of a consumer society This resulted in the merging of national identity with individual subjectivity which this book describes as national subjectivity as the Japanese media promoted individual consumption to aid the recovery of the Japanese nation as a whole Examining housewife magazines such as Fujin Koron Fujin no Tomo and Fujin Gaho as well as news magazines such as Mainichi Graph and Asahi Graph and publications aimed at young people Shukan Heibon and Heibon Punch Smith shows how the relationship of nationalism to everyday life is best understood by taking into account the changing nature of consumption in the period By presenting an alternative to the traditional top down narrative of state driven economic nationalism this book therefore makes a unique contribution to the

Humanistic Management in Practice Ernst von Kimakowitz, Hanna Schirovsky, Carlos Largacha-Martínez, Claus Dierksmeier, 2021-02-15 This book demonstrates how principles of a Humanistic Management paradigm are practiced in a variety of industries and regions by businesses of different ownership structures and sizes What unites these businesses is their commitment to the three stepped approach of Humanistic Management which is grounded in unconditional respect for the dignity of life the integration of ethics in management decisions and active engagement with stakeholders These businesses are not labeled social enterprises but operate within the mainstream of competitive markets However they do have a deep sense of responsibility towards the communities in which they operate and act accordingly knowing that sustaining business success over time depends on a value proposition to society at large The cases featured in this book serve to clarify that businesses can thrive not despite but because they are upholding principles of Humanistic Management It will be valuable reading for academics working in the field of business ethics sustainability and corporate social responsibility
