Russian Arms Transfers To East Asia In The 1990s:

Russian arms transfers to East Asia in the 1990s Александр Анатольевич Сергунин, Sergei V. Subbotin, 1999 The transfer of arms and military technology is one of the main instruments of Russia's security strategy in East Asia This research report documents Russia's arms exports to these countries and examines the motivations behind its policies and decisions

Russia and East Asia Tsuneo Akaha, Anna Vassilieva, 2014-02-05 Russia has generally been neglected in the academic and policy discourse on regional integration in East Asia This book fills this gap with particular attention to the role of Pacific Russia in the deepening regional integration in East Asia It examines the increasingly diverse foreign policy interests of Russia related to emerging economic and political realities of the world and Russia's potential role in the regional integration in East Asia Topics discussed include Russian strategic interests and security policy in East Asia generally Russia's bilateral relations with China Japan and the Korean Peninsula opportunities and challenges energy and immigration presents for Russia and its engagement with East Asia and Russia's present and future roles in regional integration in East Asia

Russia as an Aspiring Great Power in East Asia P. Rangsimaporn, 2009-08-27 Rangsimaporn argues that Russia aspires to become a great power and tries to achieve this through utilizing its position as a Eurasian country with vast territories in East Asia its economic assets primarily arms and energy and careful management of its role in a multipolar East Asia with a complex balance of power

Globalization and Defence in the Asia-Pacific Geoffrey Till, Emrys Chew, Joshua Ho, 2009 This edited volume examines the impact of globalisation on the economies security policies and military industrial complexes of the Asia Pacific region The work is structured into three main parts The first explores globalization and its general effects on the policy making of the nation state the second section looks at how globalisation affects a country's threat perception and defence posture within the specific context of the Asia Pacific region while the third explores how it impacts on a state's allocation of resources to defence and how economic globalization affects the defence industry with specific reference to the procurement policies and practices of different states across the Asia Pacific

The International Relations of Northeast Asia Samuel S. Kim, 2004 Written by a team of leading scholars this volume presents a variety of theoretical perspectives and case studies to offer a comprehensive analysis of the pressures that shape the policy choices of China Russia Japan the United States North and South Korea and Taiwan

Russia's Road to Corruption United States. Congress. House. Speaker's Advisory Group on Russia, 2000

The United States and Asia, 2001 Publisher Provided Annotation The past 20 years have been a time of relative peace in Asia and notwithstanding the 1997 1998 financial crisis a period of robust economic growth as well Currently however Asia is beset by a variety of problems that could well imperil the stability it has long enjoyed including territorial disputes nuclear rivalry rising nationalist sentiments and increased military capabilities This report summarizes the manner in which the United States can best meet these challenges and thereby ensure continued peace and stability in the region In the interests of this goal the report outlines an integrated political military and economic strategy that the United States can pursue to inhibit the growth of rivalries in Asia and more broadly prevent the rise of instability in the region Also delineated are changes in U S military posture that will be made necessary by this strategy International Relations and Asia's Northern Tier Gilbert Rozman,Sergey Radchenko,2017-10-03 In this new book noted scholars of Northeast Asia contribute new views on the future of the region Collecting essays from experts of all 4 countries and their interconnected histories and political orders the book helps to contextualize the future development of the region in the context of a US Pivot to Asia The four countries on the northern fringe of Asia went their separate ways after the end of the Cold War but strengthening Sino Russian relations and what may be the looming endgame in North Korea s strategy of threats and isolation are signs that we now need to think about this area also through its connections Looking back to what existed in an earlier incarnation of the Northern Tier and focusing on Chinese and Russian views of North Korea we are able to explore the implications of increasingly close Sino Russian relations The book will be of great value to scholars policymakers and all passionate about exploring what s next for Russia and China s relationship

Globalization, Security, and the Nation State Ersel Aydinli,James N. Rosenau,2012-02-01 This volume studies the links among the concepts of globalization security and the authority of the nation state drawing attention to why and how these three concepts are interrelated and why they should be studied together Contributors explore the connections between security and global transformations and the corresponding or resulting changes in state structures that emerge Probing and extending existing paradigms the book offers three regional cases studies the periphery states of the Middle East and North Africa the second world states of the Russian Federation and the core states of the European Union It concludes with three chapters that synthesize the above themes to identify corresponding changes in the patterns of international politics

Russian Strategic Thought toward Asia Gilbert Rozman,Kazuhiko Togo,2006-11-27 The book explains the Putin era s ambivalent approach to Asia and finds lessons from earlier approaches worthy of further attention The overview compares how strategic thinking evolved while reflecting on factors that shaped it Phoenix from the Ashes Cameron Scott Mitchell,2009-12-01 The continued existence of the Russian defence and arms industry OPK was called into question following the disintegration of the Soviet Union in 1991 Industry experts cited the lack of a domestic market endemic corruption and excess capacity within the industry as factors underpinning its predicted demise However the industry s export customers in China India and Iran during those early years became the OPK s saving grace Their orders introduced hard currency back into the industry and went a long way to preventing the forecasted OPK collapse Although pessimistic predictions continued to plague the OPK throughout the 1990s the valuable export dollars provided the OPK the breathing space it needed to claw back its competitive advantage as an arms producer That revival has been further underpinned by a new political commitment various research and development initiatives and the restoration of defence industry as a tool of Russian foreign policy The short term future of the Russian OPK looks promising The rising domestic defence order is beginning to challenge the export market as the OPK's most important customer. Meanwhile exports will be safeguarded by continued foreign demand for niche Russian defence products. Although the long term future of the OPK is more difficult to predict, Russia's solid research and development foundation and successful international joint military ventures suggest that the current thriving trend in exports is likely to continue. Russia represents the next generation of affordable and rugged military equipment for the arsenals of the developing world. Coupled with Russia's growing ability to rearm itself through higher oil prices and a more streamlined defence industry the future of the OPK looks bright.

China's Air Power and Maritime Strategies Towards the Indian Ocean Region Joshy M. Paul, 2025-02-03. This book examines China's naval and airpower strategic direction towards the Indian Ocean region. It discusses China's military modernization program along with naval and airpower capabilities including expeditionary nature. It analyses China's attempt to gain a strategic dominance in the IOR by means of investments and trade with the littoral countries, military diplomatic relationship with friendly countries, permanent presence of naval systems in the Indian Ocean and delivering public goods throughout the region. A comparative analysis of People's Liberation Army Air Force (PLAAF) expeditionary capabilities and Indian Air Force's (IAF) deterrence mechanisms is also included. Print edition not for sale in South Asia, India, Sri Lanka, Nepal, Bangladesh, Pakistan and Bhutan.

Policing Northeast Asia Se Hyun Ahn, 2020-06-02. This book explores the progress in and the obstacles surrounding developing comprehensive security cooperation between Russia and South Korea since diplomatic relations were established in 1991 within the framework of economic security. The book focuses on oil and natural gas projects linking the Trans-Siberian and Trans-Korean Railroads, industrial development in the Nakhodka Free Economic Zone, fishery cooperation and the arms trade and examines whether these five aspects of cooperation serve to contribute to building Russian-South Korean bilateral and regional economic security. The author argues that these five aspects of cooperation all have the potential to enhance comprehensive bilateral security and further regional economic security in Northeast Asia. However, Russian-South Korean economic cooperation has been hampered by a number of obstacles including domestic factors as well as external factors and prevented Russia and South Korea from fulfilling their potential for creating a cooperative comprehensive security relationship. The author concludes with an assessment on the utility of the concept of multi-dimensional security cooperation as a framework for studying and improving the prospects for Russian-South Korean bilateral relations.

China's Military Procurement in the Reform Era Yoram Evron, 2015-06-26. The decisions that shape the policy of weapons procurement are an important area of national security policy. This is all the more true for China which during recent decades has vacillated between different sources and directions of military build-up. This book explores the politics of military procurement in China under the successive leaderships of Deng Xiaoping, Jiang Zemin and Hu Jintao. It shows how China's political and military leaders have sought to adjust military procurement policy to meet China's strategic objectives to relate it to non-military needs, to strike a balance between the import of weapons and indigenous production and to determine the connections between hardware and other components of military power Exploring in detail five major shifts in the nation's military procurement it traces the considerations and negotiations among China's civilian and military leaderships By doing so it offers both a conceptual framework and empirical grounds for evaluating the factors that shape China's military procurement directions as well as their limitations prospects and operational implications As the first book to study comprehensively and systematically the attributes shaping China's military procurement it will be of great interest to students and scholars of Chinese politics Chinese history and military and strategic studies

World Military Expenditures and Arms Transfers, 1996 Pacific Asia? Melvin Gurtov, 2002 Emphasizing human and environmental security over traditional power politics Mel Gurtov offers a provocative reinterpretation of security in the Asia Pacific region The author questions a number of prevailing assumptions such as the China threat a U S centered balance of power and the necessity of a greater Japanese security role He argues instead for a cooperative framework for future security that focuses on people's basic needs is sensitive to Asian nationalism and gradually replaces military power with developmental priorities With its concise appraisals of the security policies of the United States China Japan the two Koreas and the ASEAN countries this work will be a valued reference for policymakers scholars and students alike

The Shanghai Cooperation Organization and Conflict De-escalation James MacHaffie, 2023-03-10 This book's main objective is to determine the role if any the Shanghai Cooperation Organization SCO plays in de-escalating tensions among its members It argues that the SCO is uniquely suited to keep its disparate members many of whom have border disputes with each other from escalating tensions among themselves The book proposes a rivalry de-escalation model that differs from the standard belief that rivalries de-escalate due to a shock or external pressure This model states that trust can be built between two rival states when confidence building measures are instilled and utilized repeatedly over a long period of time The SCO provides these mechanisms in the form of annual summits between state leaders and routine military exercises involving military units from every member Examining three case studies involving the founding six members of the organization the book argues that the SCO is effective in keeping rivalries de-escalated among its members This book will be of much interest to students of Asian politics regional security and international relations

Russia and Asia Gennadii Illarionovich Chufirin, 1999 Asia's new prominence in the world arena is likely to reshape the configuration of forces in the international system and Russia's interaction with Asia is poised to become one of the defining elements of world politics at the turn of the century This new book analyses Russia's security issues and the emerging geopolitical balance in Central Asia South West Asia South Asia and Asia Pacific It examines the domestic political background to Russia's foreign and security policy and the importance of Asia in its domestic and foreign policy It complements the volume on Russia and Europe published in 1997

Proliferation Threats of the 1990's United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Governmental Affairs, 1993 China and Russia Alexander Lukin, 2018-03-16 With many predicting the end of US hegemony Russia and China's growing cooperation in a number of key strategic areas looks set to have a major impact on global power dynamics But what lies behind this Sino Russian rapprochement Is it simply the result of deteriorated Russo US and Sino US relations or does it date back to a more fundamental alignment of interests after the Cold War In this book Alexander Lukin answers these questions offering a deeply informed and nuanced assessment of Russia and China s ever closer ties Tracing the evolution of this partnership from the 1990s to the present day he shows how economic and geopolitical interests drove the two countries together in spite of political and cultural differences Key areas of cooperation and possible conflict are explored from bilateral trade and investment to immigration and security Ultimately Lukin argues that China and Russia s strategic partnership is part of a growing system of cooperation in the non Western world which has also seen the emergence of a new political community Greater Eurasia His vision of the new China Russia rapprochement will be essential reading for anyone interested in understanding this evolving partnership and the way in which it is altering the contemporary geopolitical landscape
