impact of these thoughts and beliefs on the decision to make an online purchase is not direct. It can be moderated by the emotions experienced while browsing an e-commerce website. Impulse buying in particular is influenced by a number of factors, for example, how stimulating the e-shopping platform is and how easy it is to click on the cart for a certain product, for instance, a smartphone. But what happens after an online impulse buy is made? Often the customer can regret the purchase and in the throes of anxiety look for reasons to justify the choices made. Consumer behaviour scholars and psychologists call this phenomenon cognitive dissonance, and certain individuals are more sensitive than others in developing this than others. This book offers a deep investigation around online impulse buying and subsequent cognitive dissonance. Specifically, the authors present a research case study of a group of millennials who are shopping for smartphones to study whether an initial positive state can reduce the onset of cognitive dissonance in consumers. Based on substantial research and a sample of 212 impulsive millennial buyers, the book provides a comprehensive but simple and synthetic framework of impulse buying, cognitive dissonance, and positive affect state, highlighting their relationships. It Could Happen to Anyone Alyce D. LaViolette, Ola W. Barnett, 2014. This revised and updated edition of It Could Happen to Anyone provides a comprehensive examination of why women stay in abusive relationships and why they leave, explaining why women should not be blamed for their victimization. Proceedings of the 1992 Academy of Marketing Science (AMS) Annual Conference Victoria L. Crittenden, 2015-03-13. This volume includes the full proceedings from the 1992 Academy of Marketing Science AMS Annual Conference held in San Diego, California. The research and presentations offered in this volume cover many aspects of marketing science, including marketing strategy, consumer behavior, international marketing, retailing, marketing education, among others. Founded in 1971, the Academy of Marketing Science is an international organization dedicated to promoting timely explorations of phenomena related to the science of marketing in theory, research, and practice. Among its services to members and the community at large, the Academy offers conferences, congresses, and symposia that attract delegates from around the world. Presentations from these events are published in this Proceedings series, which offers a comprehensive archive of volumes reflecting the evolution of the field. Volumes deliver cutting-edge research and insights complementing the Academy's flagship journals, the Journal of the Academy of Marketing Science (JAMS) and AMS Review. Volumes are edited by leading scholars and practitioners across a wide range of subject areas in marketing science. Assessment in Counseling Danica G. Hays, 2014-11-03.
