American Journal of Archaeology ,2004 Centuries of Silence Leonardo Ferreira,2006-10-30
The history of Latin American journalism is ultimately the story of a people who have been silenced over the centuries primarily Native Americans women peasants and the urban poor This book seeks to correct the record propounded by most English language surveys of Latin American journalism which tend to neglect pre Columbian forms of reporting the ways in which technology has been used as a tool of colonization and the Latin American conceptual foundations of a free press Challenging the conventional notion of a free marketplace of ideas in a region plagued with serious problems of poverty violence propaganda political intolerance poor ethics journalism education deficiencies and media concentration in the hands of an elite Ferreira debunks the myth of a free press in Latin America The diffusion of colonial presses in the New World resulted in the imposition of a structural censorship with elements that remain to this day They include ethnic and gender discrimination technological elitism state and religious authoritarianism and ideological controls Impoverished afraid of crime and violence and without access to an effective democracy ordinary Latin Americans still live silenced by ruling actors that include a dominant and concentrated media Thus not only is the press not free in Latin America but it is also itself an instrument of oppression New Scientist ,2009 The Literary Review ,2009 Exploring the Mind of Ancient Man Pedarapu Chenna Reddy,2007 This book offers a major collection of invited papers assembled for the specific occasion of the 60th birthday of Australian researcher Robert G Bednarik Its widely ranging topics reflect the equally wide ranging interests of this most productive scholar but they are all somehow arranged around his primary focus the mind of ancient man how he came to be human and what kinds of scientific methodology might be brought to bear on the ambitious task of exploring these subjects A large number of Indian and international scholars representing most continents address the broad spectrum of Bednarik's interests and acquaint the reader with many of the specific problems and issues surrounding questions of the origins of culture of human realities and the evolution of human cognition One of the most distinctive common threads in this volume is its preoccupation with prehistoric rock art reflected in the majority of the contributions which also reflect the emphasis of Bednarik's continuing life work A Companion to Linear B Yves Duhoux, Anna Morpurgo Davies,2007

Natural History ,2002 Digital Performance Steve Dixon,2007 In the past decade digital media has been
