Lumbini A Haven Of Sacred Refuge:

Lumbini, a Haven of Sacred Refuge Basanta Bidari, 2002

The Sacred Garden of Lumbini Kai Weise, 2013-10-29

Lumbini the Birthplace of the Lord Buddha was inscribed on the World Heritage list in 1997. It is situated in an area commonly referred to as the Sacred Garden. Archaeological remains testify to the authenticity of the place which has become a major pilgrimage site. Nevertheless, over two and a half millennia the understanding of Lumbini has changed and different perceptions exist of what Lumbini might have been like at the birth of Lord Buddha. For the long term safeguarding of this World Heritage site, overall understanding of the property is essential. This publication will provide a means for the various stakeholders to come to an understanding of each other's historical, religious, environmental and touristic perspectives of Lumbini.

Buddhist Architecture Huu Phuoc Le, 2010. The volume thoroughly examines the origins and principal types of Buddhist architecture in Asia, primarily between the third century BCE and twelfth century CE, with an emphasis on India. It aims to construct shared architectural traits and patterns along with the derivative relationships between Indian and Asian Buddhist monuments. It also discusses the historical antecedents in the Indus Civilization and the religious and philosophical foundations of the three schools of Buddhism and its founder Buddha. Previously obscure topics such as Aniconic and Vajrayana Tantric architecture and the four holiest sites of Buddhism will also be covered in this comprehensive volume. The author further investigates the influences of Buddhist architecture upon Islamic, Christian and Hindu architecture that have been overlooked by past scholars.

Sacred Complex of Lumbini Gita Girī, 2008. Lumbini, the birthplace of Gautama Buddha, is situated in the Rupandehi District of Nepal.

Asian Heritage Management Kapila D. Silva, Neel Kamal Chapagain, 2013. The prevalent global heritage discourse has been primarily Eurocentric in its origin, premise and praxis. Diverse cultural, historical and geographical contexts such as that of Asia call for more context-specific approaches to heritage management. This book explores this complexity of managing the cultural heritage in Asia. Case studies include sites of Angkor, Himeji Castle, Kathmandu Valley, Luang Prabang, Lumbini and Malacca, and the book uses these to explore the religious worldviews, heritage policies, intangible heritage dimensions, traditional preservation practices, cultural tourism and the notion of cultural landscape that are crucial in understanding the cultural heritage in Asia. It critiques the contemporary regulatory frameworks in operation and focuses on the issues of global impact on the local cultures in the region. The book goes on to emphasize the need for integrated heritage management approaches that encompass the plurality of heritage conservation concerns in Asian countries. Themes are discussed from the vantage point of heritage scholars and practitioners in the South, Southeast and East Asia. This book thus presents a distinctive Asian perspective which is a valuable source for students and practitioners of heritage within and beyond the Asian context.

Sustainable Conservation of UNESCO and Other Heritage Sites Through Proactive Geosciences Gad Mohamed El-Qady, Claudio Margottini, 2023-02-10. This book presents up-to-date geoscience technologies for heritage investigations and conservation, covering various sub-disciplines of geophysics geodesy 3D laser scanning technology hydrogeology and rock mechanics applied to the exploration of new heritage sites mapping and visualization as well as hazard mitigation The current shift toward interdisciplinary ways of thinking highlights the added value of merging arts with sciences and other disciplines for better management and preservation of cultural heritage Featuring advanced scientific investigations in 40 case studies around the globe the book demonstrates how a better understanding of natural processes coupled with conservation approaches mainly based on sustainable practices such as the use of traditional knowledge in recovery techniques and building local capacities can ensure effective conservation

Architects of Buddhist Leisure Justin Thomas McDaniel, 2018-04-30 Buddhism often described as an austere religion that condemns desire promotes denial and idealizes the contemplative life actually has a thriving leisure culture in Asia Creative religious improvisations designed by Buddhists have been produced both within and outside of monasteries across the region in Nepal Japan Korea Macau Hong Kong Singapore Laos Thailand and Vietnam Justin McDaniel looks at the growth of Asia's culture of Buddhist leisure what he calls socially disengaged Buddhism through a study of architects responsible for monuments museums amusement parks and other sites In conversation with noted theorists of material and visual culture and anthropologists of art McDaniel argues that such sites highlight the importance of public leisure and spectacle culture from a Buddhist perspective and illustrate how secular and religious public and private are in many ways false binaries Moreover places like Lek Wiriyaphan's Sanctuary of Truth in Thailand Su i Ti n Amusement Park in Saigon and Shi Fa Zhao's multilevel museum ritual space tea house in Singapore reflect a growing Buddhist ecumenism built through repetitive affective encounters instead of didactic sermons and sectarian developments They present different Buddhist traditions images and aesthetic expressions as united but not uniform collected but not concise Together they form a gathering not a movement Despite the ingenuity of lay and ordained visionaries like Wiriyaphan and Zhao and their colleagues Kenzo Tange Chan soo Park Tadao Ando and others discussed in this book creators of Buddhist leisure sites often face problems along the way Parks and museums are complex adaptive systems that are changed and influenced by budgets available materials local and global economic conditions and visitors Architects must often compromise and settle at local optima and no matter what they intend their buildings will develop lives of their own Provocative and theoretically innovative Architects of Buddhist Leisure asks readers to question the very category of religious architecture It challenges current methodological approaches in religious studies and speaks to a broad audience interested in modern art architecture religion anthropology and material culture
