Making A Virtue Of Necessity Studies In African Past 1 1:

The Zambesian Past Eric Stokes, 1966 Nigerian English David Jowitt, 2018-11-05 Although the past few decades have witnessed growing interest in varieties of English around the world no study of the Nigerian variety intended for the international market has yet been published Making use of well known paradigms the book will relate Nigerian English as a Second Language variety to other World Englishes Its chief overall concern however is to provide a detailed descriptive account of the variety seeking to show what is distinctive about it and also in this perspective distinguishing between more educated and less educated usage After giving a sociolinguistic profile of Nigeria where English today enjoys a more prominent role than ever before it will examine in turn the phonology morpho syntax and lexico semantics of Nigerian English with samples of written texts from the eighteenth century to the present It will also give a comprehensive summary of academic research carried out in the field over the past fifty years In this way the book will provide an introduction to the subject for the benefit of scholars and students in universities in many countries and will serve as a useful companion to other books in De Gruyter Mouton's Dialects of English series ICT, Globalisation and the Study of Languages and Linguistics in Africa Ndimele, Ozo-mekuri, 2016-12-14 This book contains papers which focus on the twin subjects of globalisation and information communication technologies ICTs They express either fear or optimism regarding their effects on the survival of indigenous cultures languages and literature This book is a must read for anyone who is interested to learn more about the role of globalisation in the erosion of cultural as well as linguistic diversity and the impact of ICTs in the development of indigenous languages in Africa Human Rights from a Comparative and International Law Perspective Joan Church, Christian Schulze, Hennie Strydom, 2007 In terms of the South African Constitution of 1996 there is a general need for an introduction to comparative law and one that covers what is technically known as applied comparative law more particularly applied comparative law that involves a study of the bills of rights in other countries Morality, Hope and Grief Hansjörg Dilger, Ute Luig, 2010-05-01 The HIV AIDS epidemic in sub Saharan Africa has been addressed and perceived predominantly through the broad perspectives of social and economic theories as well as public health and development discourses This volume however focuses on the micro politics of illness treatment and death in order to offer innovative insights into the complex processes that shape individual and community responses to AIDS The contributions describe the dilemmas that families communities and health professionals face and shed new light on the transformation of social and moral orders in African societies which have been increasingly marginalised in the context of global modernity Changes in the Socio-economic Structures in Rural North-West Pakistan Mohammad Asif Khan, 2007 Essays on Language in Societal Transformation Tunde Opeibi, Josef Schmied, Tope Omoniyi, Kofo Adedeji, 2015-01-30 This paper generally lends support to the arguments advanced by Awonusi 1989 1990 2004 and others in favour of an endonormative as opposed to an exonormative standard for English pronunciation in Nigeria They include the fact that the existing exonormative standard British Received Pronunciation RP has undergone and is still undergoing changes in its homeland and is not homogeneous The heightened social mobility of today's world perhaps works against the demarcation and homogenization of language varieties and this is all the more true of the varieties or lects that have been proposed for Nigerian English when these are related more or less explicitly to educational attainment Major attention is given in the paper to a schema of basilect mesolect and acrolect presented by Ugorji 2010 with a focus on his account of vowels and his presentation of a mechanism derived from optimality theory for evaluating vowels in contention The basilect and the mesolect are found to be so close to each other that they might be combined There would then be just two varieties In contrast the acrolect is close to British RP albeit with many variants due to the conflict of two standardising forces i.e. British RP and the basilect mesolect The vowel system of an officially adopted endonormative standard Nigerian RP would mainly be the same as that of British RP but the optimality mechanism could be employed to give preference to some of the Nigerian variants for inclusion in it

Evidence, Ethos and Experiment P. Wenzel Geissler, Catherine Molyneux, 2017-05 Medical research has been central to biomedicine in Africa for over a century and Africa along with other tropical areas has been crucial to the development of medical science At present study populations in Africa participate in an increasing number of medical research projects and clinical trials run by both public institutions and private companies Global debates about the politics and ethics of this research are growing and local concerns are prompting calls for social studies of the trial communities produced by this scientific work Drawing on rich ethnographic and historiographic material this volume represents the emergent field of anthropological inquiry that links Africanist ethnography to recent concerns with science the state and the culture of late capitalism in Africa

The Challenge of Apartheid: UK-South African Relations, 1985-1986 Patrick Salmon, 2016-11-25 This volume examines diplomatic relations between the United Kingdom and South Africa during one of the most turbulent periods of the apartheid era The crisis of apartheid that began in 1984 provoked international outrage on an unprecedented scale This volume documents the attempt by the British Government to formulate a response that would go some way towards meeting demands for action on the part of critics of South Africa in the Commonwealth the United States and the European Community as well as in the United Kingdom itself without at the same time inflicting unacceptable damage on Britain's significant economic interests in South Africa It was a process marked by frequent disagreements between Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher and the Foreign and Commonwealth Office under Sir Geoffrey Howe The volume begins with reports of the deepening crisis at the beginning of 1985 and concludes with the Commonwealth Review Meeting in August 1986 one of the lowest of many low points in relations between the British Government and the critics of apartheid In South Africa meanwhile there seemed little hope of progress following the imposition of a national state of emergency as the confrontation between the Government and its opponents headed for deadlock and the power of the securocrats surrounding President Botha became steadily more entrenched This volume gives a flavour of what it was like to be a British diplomat working for change at that time This volume will be of great interest to students of International History British Political History African History and International Relations in general

Aniche O M Ndimele O G Harry Levi Igwe C U Omego O Ojukwu A U Weje O N Anyanwu and A Idafuro Order at the Bazaar Regine A. Spector, 2017-08-15 Order at the Bazaar delves into the role of bazaars in the political economy and development of Central Asia. Bazaars are the economic bedrock for many throughout the region; they are the entrepreneurial hubs of Central Asia. However, they are often regarded as mafia-governed environments that are largely populated by the dispossessed. By immersing herself in the bazaars of Kyrgyzstan, Regine A. Spector learned that some are rather best characterized as islands of order in a chaotic national context. Spector draws on interviews, archival sources, and participant observation to show how traders, landowners, and municipal officials create order in the absence of a coherent government apparatus and bureaucratic state. Merchants have adapted Soviet institutions, including trade unions and pre-Soviet practices such as using village elders as the arbiters of disputes to the urban bazaar by building and asserting their own authority. Spector's findings have relevance beyond the bazaars and borders of one small country; they teach us how economic development operates when the rule of law is weak.

Manufacturing African Studies and Crises Tiyaambe Zeleza, Paul Tiyaambe Zeleza, 1997. Awarded Special Commendation in the Noma Award for Publishing in Africa 1998. The intellectual liberation of the study of Africa is the battle cry of this forceful book. The author is one of Africa's younger scholars in the forefront of research and thinking about the role of African scholars and the ownership and state of African Studies and winner of The Noma Award for Publishing in Africa 1994. He describes this book as an interrogation of African Studies: its formulations and fetishes, theories and trends, possibilities and pitfalls. He argues that as a discursive formation, African Studies is immersed in the contexts and configurations of the western epistemological order and the crisis in African Studies in North America and Britain reflects changing cultural policies as a result of the shifting ethnic and gender composition of classrooms. Transformations in the global positions of these countries and the crisis of liberal values. The study has been highly recommended by such distinguished African scholars as Professors Mahmood Mamdani, Ali Mazrui, V. Y. Mudimbe, and Adebayo Olikosh.

Management Control Systems, Decision-Making, and Innovation Development Dawid Szutowski, 2021-10-03. The systematic approach to innovation development today is one of the world's most prominent scientific fields and with good reason. When applied correctly, such a system produces regular outcomes which consistently drive lasting competitive advantage. Unfortunately, as much as it is beneficial, the orchestration of an undisturbed flow of multiple complex dynamic and flexible innovation development processes is structurally demanding. In this book, a recognised innovation management specialist sets the record straight, offering a comprehensive approach to the improvement of innovation efficiency with the use of management control systems. Unlike other books on the subject, it proposes original representation: the CDI model of the relationships between management control system, decision making, quality, and innovation system efficiency, and explains why management control is fundamental to innovation management. In addition to that, inside the reader will find several original developments. These include the info deficiency I-D model depicting the various parameters hindering decision making in innovation development the product innovation development PID system offering the original function based approach to innovation management and the composite innovation index specially designed tool intended to evaluate the efficiency of an innovation development system It will be of interest to researchers academics practitioners and advanced students in the fields of management strategy and innovation Chapter 4 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com>
