Making Of Mission Communities In East:

The Making of Mission Communities in East Africa Robert W. Strayer, 1976-06-30 The Making of Mission Communities in East Africa calls into question a number of common assumptions about the encounter between European missionaries and African societies in colonial Kenya The book explores the origins of those communities associated with the Anglican Church Missionary Society from 1875 to 1935 examines the development within them of a mission culture probes their internal conflicts and tensions and details their relationship to the larger colonial society Professor Strayer argues that genuinely religious issues were important in the formation of these communities that missionaries were ambivalent in their attitudes toward modernizing change and the colonial state alike and that mission communities possessed substantial attractions even in the face of competition with independent churches Dr John Lonsdale of Trinity College Cambridge has said that It is a sensitive piece of revisionist history which breaks down the simple dichotomy of missions and Africans commonly found in earlier historiographies and even in the period of profound crisis over female circumcision in Kikuyuland In this Professor Strayer shows convincingly how mission communities could be preserved from destruction by principled divisions between Africans as much as between their white missionaries He has pursued themes rather than events and has therefore been able to make remarkably intimate observations of mission communities which were following their own internal patterns of growth yet within the context of a deepening situation of colonial dependence The Making of Mission Communities in East Africa Robert W. Strayer, 1978

Missionary Encounters Robert A. Bickers, Rosemary Seton, 2013-11-05 Describes the exceptional wealth of missionary archives and the major contributions they can make not only to the study of the processes of Christian evangelism and Western imperialism but also their value in documenting and analysing the nature of Western encounters with indigenous societies Church, State and Society in Kenya Galia Sabar, 2012-12-06 This volume offers a debate on the role of Christianity in post colonial Kenya charting the role of the church state and society in the transformation of Kenya and the relationship between the three It shows how the church initiated health education and economic activities showing it to be a major instrument of transformation Re-Imaging Modernity Gregg A. Okesson, 2012-10-03 This is a book about Christianity in one particular region in Kenya It walks into churches listens to sermons dances to music and interviews the people sitting in the pews all with the aim of understanding how spiritual power enables these churches to function as agents within their contemporary society Ecclesiastical communities in Africa draw upon divine power in order to engage in modernity related topics Humans are not unresponsive to global flows of meaning they are integrative agents who fashion their world by living in it The kind of modernity arising from these churches does not blindly follow Western forms but flows from its own internal logic in which spiritual power occupies central hermeneutical function Theological resources contribute to the formation of sociological expressions Divine power pertains directly to human constructs which then allows the churches to actively image God for the development of unique forms of modernity arising on the continent Cassidy et al.: Women and Empire, 1750-1939, Vol. III Elizabeth Dimock, 2021-12-24 First published in 2008 Women and Empire 1750 1939 functions to extend significantly the range of the History of Feminism series co published by Routledge and Edition Synapse bringing together the histories of British and American women s emancipation represented in earlier sets into juxtaposition with histories produced by different kinds of imperial and colonial governments The alignment of writings from a range of Anglo imperial contexts reveals the overlapping histories and problems while foregrounding cultural specificities and contextual inflections of imperialism The volumes focus on countries regions or continents formerly colonized in part by Britain Volume I Australia Volume II New Zealand Volume III Africa Volume IV India Volume V Canada Perhaps the most novel aspect of this collection is its capacity to highlight the common aspects of the functions of empire in their impact on women and their production of gender and conversely to demonstrate the actual specificity of particular regional manifestations Concerning questions of power gender class and race this new Routledge Edition Synapse Major Work will be of particular interest to scholars and students of imperialism colonization women s history and women s writing

Wolaitta Evangelists E. Paul Balisky, 2009-09-01 This study presents the religious dynamics of the Wolaitta Kale Heywet Church in southern Ethiopia from 1937 to 1975 On the basis of detailed research from within southern Ethiopia E Paul Balisky demonstrates that the indigenous extension of the Wolaitta Christian movement into southern Ethiopia through the instrumentality of her evangelists helped Wolaitta regain her own religious center and subsequent identity after centuries of various forms of colonialism and imperialism Wolaitta Evangelists broadens one s understanding of how an imported model of Christianity provided religious answers to the ideals of a particular Ethiopian society and continues to motivate her members to evangelize The evangelists who went to people of similar culture and worldview were successful in effecting social change To ethnic groups who had moved beyond their former primal religions and to those of disparate culture the evangelists were those who scattered the seed and impacted the religious social economic and political life of southern Ethiopia Wolaitta Evangelists tells the story of how missionary activity played a role in Wolaitta once again becoming a people

Missionary Imperialists? John H. Darch, 2009-04-01 Missionary Imperialists examines the frontiers of empire in tropical Africa and the south west Pacific in the Mid Victorian era Its central theme is the role played by British Protestant missionaries in imperial development and a continuous thread is the interaction between the missions and those in government both London and in the colonies An introductory chapter examines the main missionary societies involved in this study This is followed by six detailed case studies three from the south west Pacific the Pacific labor trade Fiji and New Guinea and three from tropical Africa the Gambia Lagos and Yorubaland and East Africa The crucial importance of influential missionary supporters in Britain is noted as its missionary involvement in wider campaigning networks with other humanitarian groups The book argues that where missionaries did aid imperial development it was largely incidental an imperialism of result rather than an imperialism of intent to use the categories of Cain and Hopkins It will be seen that although there were a few dedicated imperialists in the missionary ranks and others gradually became convinced that the future of their particular mission and its people would be most secure under British jurisdiction the majority had no such enthusiasm Yet this did not mean that they had no effect on imperial development Campaigns against both slavery and indentured labor inevitably raised the profile and influence of Europeans on the imperial frontier thus shifting a fragile balance in their direction Most importantly by their very presence on the frontiers of empire and as providers of education and European moral and spiritual values missionaries became incidental and sometimes unintentional but nevertheless effective agents of imperialism

The Story of Faith Missions Klaus Fiedler, 1994

Colonial Kenya Observed S. H. Fazan, 2014-11-14 The coast of East Africa was considered a strategically invaluable region for the establishment of trading ports both for Arab and Persian merchants long prior to invasion and conquest by Europeans In the initial stages of the scramble for Africa in the 18th century control of the area was an aspiration for every colonial nation in Europe but it was not until 1895 that it was finally dominated by a sole power and proclaimed The Protectorate of British East Africa In the early 20th century the coast was brimming with vitality as immigrants colonisers and missionaries from Arabia India and Europe poured in to take advantage of growing commercial opportunities including the prospect of enslaving millions of native Africans The development of Kenya is an exceptional tale within the history of British rule in perhaps no other colony did nationalistic feeling evolve in conditions of such extensive social and political change In 1911 S H Fazan sailed to what later became the Republic of Kenya to work for the colonial government Immersing himself in knowledge of traditional language and law he recorded the vast changes to local culture that he encountered after decades of working with both the British administration and the Kenyan people This work charts the sweeping tide of social change that occurred through his career with the clarity and insight that comes with a total intimacy of a country His memoirs examine the fascinating complexity of interaction between the colonial and native courts commercial land reform and the revolutionised dynamic of labour relations By further unearthing the political tensions that climaxed with the Mau Mau Revolt of 1952 1960 this invaluable work on the European colonial period paints a comprehensive and revealing firsthand account for anyone with an interest in British and African history Fazan's story provides a quite unparalleled view of colonial Africa and the conduct of Empire across half a century

Gender and Development Emily Awino Onyango, 2018-10-31 For a long time African history has been dominated by western perspectives through predominantly male accounts of colonial governments and missionaries In contrast Dr Emily Onyango provides an African history of mission education development and women's roles in Kenya Based on archival research and interviews of primary sources this book explores the relationship of these areas of history with each other focusing on the Luo culture and the period of 1895 to 2000 With the pre colonial African context as the foundation for understanding and writing history Dr Onyango uses gender to analyze the role of Christian missionaries in the development of women's education and their position in Kenyan society The result of this well researched study is not only a challenge to the traditional understanding of history but also a counternarrative to the common view that to be liberated African women must disregard Christianity Rather she looks at the importance Christianity plays in helping women establish themselves economically politically and socially in Kenyan society This research is a vital contribution to women's history and the history of Christianity in Africa The Origins of the New Churches Movement in Southern Ethiopia, 1927-1944 Brian L.

Fargher,2023-09-20 This study describes the beginnings of a movement which has created another face for Ethiopian Christianity The expatriate missionary evangelists who in 1927 were encouraged by Emperor Haile Selassie to work in southern Ethiopia intentionally by passed the Orthodox model and made a fresh start Three of the many facets of the movement comprise the body of the book There is the religious backdrop of Orthodox Christianity and the expatriates fundamentalist traditions then the praxis and polity of their work finally the post Occupation outcome which confirmed their choices Since its beginning in 1932 the New Churches Movement has impacted every part of Ethiopian society religious political and socio economic It demonstrates that a fresh start can be complementary rather than competitive The movement's success encourages missionary evangelists to continue making new beginnings Ottoman Refugees, 1878-1939 Isa

Blumi,2013-09-12 In the first half of the 20th century throughout the Balkans and Middle East a familiar story of destroyed communities forced to flee war or economic crisis unfolded Often these refugees of the Ottoman Empire Christians Muslims and Jews found their way to new continents forming an Ottoman diaspora that had a remarkable ability to reconstitute and even expand the ethnic religious and ideological diversity of their homelands Ottoman Refugees 1878 1939 offers a unique study of a transitional period in world history experienced through these refugees living in the Middle East the Americas South East Asia East Africa and Europe Isa Blumi explores the tensions emerging between those trying to preserve a world almost entirely destroyed by both the nation state and global capitalism and the agents of the so called Modern era

Religion Versus Empire? Andrew Porter,2004-10-29 This is the only book that addresses the relations between religion Protestant missions and empire building linking together all three fields of study by taking as its starting point the early eighteenth century Anglican initiatives in colonial North America and the Caribbean It considers how the early societies of the 1790s built on this inheritance and extended their own interests to the Pacific India the Far East and Africa Fluctuations in the vigor and commitment of the missions changing missionary theologies and the emergence of alternative missionary strategies are all examined for their impact on imperial expansion Other themes include the international character of the missionary movement Christianity's encounter with Islam and major figures such as David Livingstone the state and politics and humanitarianism all of which are viewed in a fresh light Women of Fire and Spirit Cynthia

Hoehler-Fatton,1996-04-11 The African Christian Roho religion or Holy Spirit movement is a charismatic and prophetic movement that arose in the Luo region of western Kenya This movement has fascinated students of history and religion for more than sixty years but surprisingly has not been extensively studied This book fills that lacuna In Women of Fire and Spirit Cynthia Hoehler Fatton uses the extensive oral histories and life narratives of active participants in the faith giving them full voice in constructing the history of their Church In doing so she counter balances the existing historical literature which draws heavily on colonial records Hoehler Fatton s sources call into question the paradigm of schism that has dominated the discussion of African independent Christianity Faith rather than schism or politics emerges here as the hallmark of Roho religion Hoehler Fatton s book is doubly unusual in foregrounding the role of women in the evolution and expansion of their Church She traces the gradual transformation of women s involvement from the early years when drawing on indigenous models of female spirit possession women acted as soldiers headed congregations and served as pastors to the present condition of Western style institutionalization and exclusion for women Despite this marginalization women members continue to be inspired by the defiance of past heroines

Missionaries, Indigenous Peoples and Cultural Exchange Patricia Grimshaw, Andrew May, 2009-11-03 Presents fresh insights into the relationships between missions and indigenous peoples and the outcomes of mission activities in the processes of imperial conquest and colonisation This book focuses on missions across the British Empire including India Africa Asia the Pacific within transnational and comparative perspectives

A History of Christian Conversion David W. Kling, 2020-05-05 In this first in depth and wide ranging history of Christian conversion David Kling examines the dynamic of turning to the Christian faith by individuals families and people groups Global in reach and engaging recent methods and theories in conversion studies the narrative progresses from early Christian beginnings in the Roman world to Christianity s expansion into Europe the Americas China India and Africa Although conversion is often associated with a particular strand of modern Christianity evangelical and a particular type of experience sudden overwhelming when examined over two millennia it emerges as a phenomenon far more complex than any one dimensional profile would suggest Communal Labor in Colonial Kenya O. Okia, 2012-07-25 This book advances research into the government forced labor used widely in colonial Kenya from 1930 to 1963 after the passage of the International Labor Organization s Forced Labour Convention While the 1930 Convention intended to mark the suppression of forced labor practices various exemptions meant that many coercive labor practices continued in colonial territories Focusing on East Africa and the Kenya Colony this book shows how the colonial administration was able to exploit the exemption clause for communal labor thus ensuring the mobilization of African labor for infrastructure development As an exemption communal labor was not defined as forced labor but instead justified as a continuation of traditional African and community labor practices Despite this ideological justification the book shows that communal labour was indeed an intensification of coercive labor practices and one that penalized Africans for non compliance with fines or imprisonment The use of forced labor before and after the passage of the Convention is examined with a focus on its use during World War II as well as in efforts to combat soil erosion in the rural African reserve areas in Kenya The exploitation of female labor the Mau Mau war of the 1950s civilian protests and the regeneration of communal labor as harambee after independence are also discussed
