Langan,2002-09-11 Many of the gains of the women s movement over the past 20 years now seem threatened by the combined effects of prolonged economic insecurity reductions in the scope of welfare provision and a general shift in the climate of public opinion to the right Social workers are faced with the growing demands of a more impoverished and more unstable society with less resources to meet these demands In response to these pressures feminist social work has begun to move beyond some of the limitations of both the traditional and radical social work models of the past The emerging anti discriminatory model recognizes the diversity of oppressions according to race gender and class as well as those of age disability and sexual orientation Women Oppression and Social Work offers a new perspective on feminist social work which takes account of the complexity of the manifold oppressions that affect the lives of most women and most social work clients

The Passionate Economist Sally Sheard,2014 Brian Abel Smith was one of the most influential figures in the shaping of social welfare in the twentieth century A modern day Thomas Paine the British economist and expert advisor was driven to improve the lives of the poor working with groups like the World Health Organization International Labour Organization and the World Bank to help bring health and social welfare services to millions across the globe The Passionate Economist is the first biography to chronicle his life and the many programs he helped create Sally Sheard details Abel Smith s work as an economist and advocate setting it against the backdrop of the larger history of health and social welfare development since the 1950s She analyzes these developments and the effects that long running welfare debates have had on both poverty and state responses to it She compares welfare implementation in different developing countries and examines how it was administered by the agencies for which Abel Smith worked The result is an accessible book on a leading humanitarian and through him a history of exactly how we have cared for each other in the globalized era Normalisation Hilary

Brown,Helen Smith,2012-08-06 Normalisation the theoretical framework that underpins the movement of services for people with disabilities from long stay hospitals has recently become the focus of much academic and professional attention As the community care debate has moved into the public arena it has attracted a certain amount of criticism acknowledging the political and philosophical conflicts that surround it Normalisation A Reader for the Nineties provides a much needed informed appraisal of this controversial practice and combines various perspectives on the subject including applied behavioural analysis social policy and psychodynamic approaches Thus it explores the discrepancies between the ideal and the reality and extends the debate by drawing comparisons with other political and social ideologies Residential Care

Transformed J. Johnson,S. Rolph,R. Smith,2010-05-28 This book now in paperback revisits Peter Townsend s classic study of residential care for older people in Britain conducted in the late 1950s It provides not only a fascinating account of residential care for older people over the last 50 years but is also an important contribution to the literature on research methods Rehabilitation Studies Handbook Barbara A. Wilson,D. L. McLellan,1997-01-28 A valuable resource for all those involved in the care and rehabilitation of people with disability Integrates the concepts and principles of rehabilitation with good clinical practice Community Care in Perspective J. Welshman, J. Walmsley, 2006-10-31 This cohesive collection fills a major gap in medical and social history by offering a detailed account of community provision for so called vulnerable adults in the UK from 1948-2005. It examines key issues such as charity versus rights, the role of the market in care provision and the changing construction of social categories.

Services for People with Learning Disabilities Nigel Malin, 2002-11-01 Services for People with Learning Disabilities provides a broad review of available services for people with learning disabilities. It describes the present network of services and explains the NHS and Community Care Act 1990 in terminology accessible to health care professionals and others engaged in this area.
