Caribbean-Atlantic Imaginary Keith Sandiford, 2010-11-23 This book develops a theory of a Caribbean Atlantic imaginary by exploring the ways two colonial texts represent the consciousnesses of Amerindians Africans and Europeans at two crucial points marking respectively the origins and demise of slavocratic systems in the West Indies Focusing on Richard Ligon's History of Barbados 1657 and Matthew Monk Lewis Journal of a West India Proprietor 1834 the study identifies specific myths and belief systems surrounding sugar and obeah as each of these came to stand for concepts of order and counterorder and to figure the material and symbolic power of masters and slaves respectively Rooting the imaginary in indigenous Caribbean myths the study adopts the pre Columbian origins of the imaginary ascribed by Wilson Harris to a cross cultural bridge or arc and derives the mythic origins for the centrality of sugar in the imaginary's constitution from

Kamau Brathwaite The book's central organizing principle is an oppositional one grounded on the order-counterorder binary model of the imaginary formulated by the philosopher-social theorist Cornelius Castoriadis The study breaks new ground by reading Ligon's History and Lewis Journal through the lens of the slave's imaginaries of hidden knowledge By redefining Lewis subjectivity through his poem's most potent counterordering symbol the demon king this book advances recent scholarly interest in Jamaica's legendary Three-Fingered Jack The Story of The Deities and The Temples in Southern Indian Peninsula Trilochan Dash, What Do I Read Next? 2002 Neil Barron, Gale Group, 2002-10-22 By identifying similarities in various books this annual selection guide helps readers to independently choose titles of interest published in the last year Each entry describes a separate book listing everything readers need to know to make selections Arranged by author within six genre sections detailed entries provide Title Publisher and publication date Series Names and descriptions of characters Time period and geographical setting Review citations Story types Brief plot summary Selected other books by the author Similar books by different authors Author title series character name character description time period geographic setting and genre sub-genre indexes are included to facilitate research
