Personal Justice Denied United States. Commission on Wartime Relocation and Internment of Civilians, 1983 Part II p 315 359 concerns the removal of Aleuts to camps in southeastern Alaska and their subsequent resettlement at war's end

Personal Justice Denied Commission on Wartime Relocation and Internment of Civilians, 2012-08-01 Personal Justice Denied tells the extraordinary story of the incarceration of mainland Japanese Americans and Alaskan Aleuts during World War II Although this wartime episode is now almost universally recognized as a catastrophe for decades various government officials and agencies defended their actions by asserting a military necessity The Commission on Wartime Relocation and Internment was established by act of Congress in 1980 to investigate the detention program Over twenty days it held hearings in cities across the country particularly on the West Coast with testimony from more than 750 witnesses evacuees former government officials public figures interested citizens and historians and other professionals It took steps to locate and to review the records of government action and to analyze contemporary writings and personal and historical accounts The Commission's report is a masterful summary of events surrounding the wartime relocation and detention activities and a strong indictment of the policies that led to them The report and its recommendations were instrumental in effecting a presidential apology and monetary restitution to surviving Japanese Americans and members of the Aleut community
