

The background of the entire cover is a photograph of a large, multi-story school building with many windows. The image is heavily tinted with a red color, which is most prominent in the lower half and fades slightly towards the top. The building has a modern architectural style with multiple stories and a series of windows.

Star Trek: Discovering the TV Series Tom Salinsky,2024-07-30 In 2022 a devoted science fiction enthusiast embarked on a two year journey to watch every piece of Star Trek media offering insights into the series evolution trivia and cultural impact essential for fans and TV history buffs alike How well do you know Star Trek Lifelong science fiction fan podcaster and author Tom Salinsky decided that the answer was not well enough and so at the beginning of 2022 he embarked on a two year mission to watch everything from the start of The Original Series to the end of Enterprise at the rate of one episode per day This book is the first part of that odyssey covering the 79 television episodes which started it all the animated series which briefly brought it back in the 1970s the first six original movies and the full run of The Next Generation As well as having fun saluting the show s triumphs cringing at its lapses in taste and admiring its willingness to swing for the fences there s lots of fascinating behind the scenes information here Why were salt cellars unchanged in the 23rd century Was Gene Roddenberry really not allowed to show a woman s belly button How many characters get killed during the run of The Animated Series Who actually wrote the script for Wrath of Khan How did Paramount get Next Generation on the air when no network would touch it But you ll also get the benefit of a complete overview of this landmark series watching it unfold and familiar elements appear often much later than you think When s the first mention of the Federation Of Kirk s time being the 23rd century Of there being no money in the future And some elements appear rather earlier than you might think which episode is the first to feature a Holodeck Whether you re a die hard fan a casual viewer or just someone interested in the history of television you'll adore coming on this daily journey through the highs and lows of one of the most significant and much loved media properties in the world

Death at SeaWorld David Kirby, 2025-09-23 From the New York Times bestselling author of Evidence of Harm and Animal Factory a groundbreaking scientific thriller that exposes the dark side of SeaWorld America's most beloved marine mammal park Death at SeaWorld centers on the battle with the multimillion dollar marine park industry over the controversial and even lethal ramifications of keeping killer whales in captivity Following the story of marine biologist and animal advocate at the Humane Society of the US Naomi Rose Kirby tells the gripping story of the two decade fight against PR savvy SeaWorld which came to a head with the tragic death of trainer Dawn Brancheau in 2010 Kirby puts that horrific animal on human attack in context Brancheau's death was the most publicized among several brutal attacks that have occurred at Sea World and other marine mammal theme parks Death at SeaWorld introduces real people taking part in this debate from former trainers turned animal rights activists to the men and women that champion SeaWorld and the captivity of whales In section two the orcas act out And as the story progresses and orca attacks on trainers become increasingly violent the warnings of Naomi Rose and other scientists fall on deaf ears only to be realized with the death of Dawn Brancheau Finally he covers the media backlash the eyewitnesses who come forward to challenge SeaWorld's glossy image and the groundbreaking OSHA case that challenges the very idea of keeping killer whales in captivity and may spell the end of having trainers in the water with the ocean's top predators

Domesticating Organ Transplant Megan Crowley-Matoka, 2016-03-10 Organ transplant in Mexico is overwhelmingly a family matter utterly dependent on kidneys from living relatives not from stranger donors typical elsewhere Yet Mexican transplant is also a public affair that is proudly performed primarily in state run hospitals In Domesticating Organ Transplant Megan Crowley Matoka examines the intimate dynamics and complex politics of kidney transplant drawing on extensive fieldwork with patients families medical professionals and government and religious leaders in Guadalajara Weaving together haunting stories and sometimes surprising statistics culled from hundreds of transplant cases she offers nuanced insight into the way iconic notions about mothers miracles and mestizos shape how some lives are saved and others are risked through transplantation Crowley Matoka argues that as familial donors render transplant culturally familiar this fraught form of medicine is deeply enabled in Mexico by its domestication as both private matter of home and proud product of the nation Analyzing the everyday effects of transplant's own iconic power as an intervention that exemplifies medicine's death defying promise and commodifying perils Crowley Matoka illuminates how embodied experience clinical practice and national identity produce one another

Streaming Media and Cultural Memory in a Postdigital Society Renira Rampazzo Gambarato, Johannes Heuman, 2024-12-31 This book offers a relevant contribution to the studies of streaming media and transmediality with an original approach of cultural sustainability perfectly intertwined with cultural memory beyond borders By critically reflecting on popular streaming media series the book identifies their impact on the global circulation of cultural memory their learning potential for educational purposes and the societal challenges and opportunities that emerge from the ubiquitous streaming media penetration and potential for participatory practices It also investigates how series available worldwide on commercial platforms such as Netflix and Max contribute to the global circulation of cultural memories in addition to illuminating the ethical unsustainable and educational concerns involved in the fictionalization of the past Drawing on the authors expertise in media studies and history this transdisciplinary book will interest scholars in the fields of media studies cultural studies memory studies history transmedia studies education postdigital studies television studies social communication sociology and philosophy London Society ,1867 Shell Shock Cinema Anton Kaes,2009-08-24 How war trauma haunted the films of Weimar Germany Shell Shock Cinema explores how the classical German cinema of the Weimar Republic was haunted by the horrors of World War I and the devastating effects of the nations defeat In this exciting new book Anton Kaes argues that masterworks such as The Cabinet of Dr Caligari Nosferatu The Nibelungen and Metropolis even though they do not depict battle scenes or soldiers in combat engaged the war and registered its tragic aftermath These films reveal a wounded nation in post traumatic shock reeling from a devastating defeat that it never officially acknowledged let alone accepted Kaes uses the term shell shock coined during World War I to describe soldiers suffering from nervous breakdowns as a metaphor for the psychological wounds that found expression in Weimar cinema Directors like Robert Wiene F W Murnau and Fritz Lang portrayed paranoia panic and fear of invasion in films peopled with serial killers mad scientists and troubled young men Combining original close textual analysis with extensive archival research Kaes shows how this post traumatic cinema of shell shock transformed extreme psychological states into visual expression how it pushed the limits of cinematic representation with its fragmented story lines distorted perspectives and stark lighting and how it helped create a modernist film language that anticipated film noir and remains incredibly influential today A compelling contribution to the cultural history of trauma Shell Shock Cinema exposes how German film gave expression to the loss and acute grief that lay behind Weimars sleek facade Managing Death Trent Jamieson,2025-05-01 Its not easy being Death For starters people keep dying And then they keep getting up again Steven de Selby got promoted This makes the increasing number of stirrers and the disturbing rumors of a zombie god rising sometime soon his problem That time management seminar he keeps meaning to take would also remind him that hes got a Death Moot to plan a Christmas party to organize and an end of the world thing to avert Steven must start managing Death before Death starts managing him or this time the Apocalypse will be more than Regional Murder in the "G" Basketball League Richard Murphy,2022-03-15 This is a Who dun it novel about a murder of a member of the Portland Maine Flounders organization a minor league basketball team affiliated with Boston s major league team the Shamrocks The Flounders were an eclectic ensemble of U S and foreign players young and old black and white urban and city ex college and ex high school players The reader will be treated to a modicum of basketball strategies enough to understand the teams journey to the G League national championship but will not be pulled into the weeds of basketball The coach Butch Baker a farm boy who entered the Marines after graduating from Annapolis got shot in the arm from a Taliban sniper and upon recovery played several years for the Boston Shamrocks The tension between the team and coach is gripping as the cultures and backgrounds clash The coach does not understand the Woke culture and is oblivious to the triggering he causes with some of his draconian remarks and actions The reader teased by the title knows a murder will happen but gets sidetracked by the personal interaction between players with players and the coach with players The reader is attached to the wily coach but knows his imperfections and awaits a foul play Suspense continues in the book until late in the game when the culprit is finally revealed Critical Moments: Paramedic Heroes in Action
