Movies Maurice Rapf,2000-11-01 Movies are a passion shared by people of all ages and backgrounds Maurice Rapf the first director of the Film Studies Program at Dartmouth College recognizes that most people who profess a love of the movies have not spent much time learning about them He has written this text as an attempt to fill in some of the information that movie lovers should have but usually don t The information contained in the book has been gleaned from courses that he has taught at Dartmouth over the past thirty years From 30 years of experience Rapf assembles the essential information every movie lover should know It begins with a brief history followed by a description of the movie making process broken down into five components literary administrative shooting editing and post production and marketing Drawing from his own experience as a magazine film critic Rapf then outlines how critics work and how studios woo their favor He also touches on some of the forms movies have taken as animation documentary avant garde and as promotion and education Not to be read as an all inclusive guide this work can be seen instead as a launching point for a deeper appreciation of the movies

Suspense and Resolution in the Films of D.W. Griffith George Pavlou,2018-12-21 This book offers a significant and original contribution to studies on D W Griffith and film through a systematic analysis of the director s chase scenes which create suspense and resolution in his films The predominance of the emphasis of building suspense differs in the various stages of his chase scenes The primary source of material discussed here is Griffith s films after 1913 when he left the Biograph Company Griffith s post Biograph films are more complete and representative of his techniques than his earlier films which were subject to financial constraints while he was still innovating and developing his cinematic techniques Most of his films used in this analysis were provided by the Museum of Modern Art in New York City The purpose of this study is to determine a definition of a Griffithian chase scene in terms of his editing techniques Categories are established defining specific tools This is done by determining and documenting consistencies comparisons and specific patterns occurring in his chase scenes that generally do not occur in his general editing Griffith s basic mechanics in editing are filmic time and space parallel action referential crosscutting and decomposition A major finding in this book is that Griffith s chase scenes are the most important part of his films in terms of suspense and resolution His chase scenes are complex unique and sometimes even unpredictable As such this is an important new work on D W Griffith and will be of interest to scholars and others interested in both the director and film and will also be an asset to libraries and bookstores The ABC Movie of the Week Michael McKenna,2013-08-22 On September 23 1969 five years after the first made for television movie premiered the ABC network broadcast Seven in Darkness This was the first television film for an anthology show called the Tuesday Night Movie of the Week Dedicating ninety minutes of weekly airtime to a still emerging genre was a financial risk for the third place network a risk that paid off The films were so successful that in 1972 the network debuted The Wednesday Movie of the Week Although most of the movies are no longer remembered a handful are still fondly recalled by viewers today including Duel Brian s Song and The Night Stalker The series also showcased pilot films for many eventual series such as Alias Smith and Jones The Six Million Dollar Man and Starsky and Hutch By the end of both shows regular runs in the spring of 1975 the network had broadcast more than 200 made for television films In The ABC Movie of the Week Big Movies for the Small Screen Michael McKenna examines this programming experiment that transformed the television landscape and became a staple of broadcast programming for several years The author looks at how the revolving films showcased the right mixture of romantic comedy action horror and social relevance to keep viewers interested week after week McKenna also chronicles how the ratings success led to imitations from the other networks resulting in a saturation of television movies As a cultural touchstone for millions who experienced the first run and syndicated versions of these films The ABC Movie of the Week is a worthy subject of study Featuring a complete filmography of all 240 movies with credit information and plot summaries a chronology and a list of pilots both failed and successful this volume will be valuable to television historians and scholars as well as to anyone interested in one of the great triumphs of network programming A Short History of the Modern Media Jim Cullen,2013-09-25 A Short History of the Modern Media presents a concise history of the major media of the last 150 years including print stage film radio television sound recording and the Internet Offers a compact teaching friendly presentation of the history of mass media Features a discussion of works in popular culture that are well known and easily available Presents a history of modern media that is strongly interdisciplinary in nature The Oxford Handbook of American Film History Jon Lewis,2025 In a series of newly commissioned chapters The Oxford Handbook of American Film History offers a new and fully compelling discussion of American film as marked by significant moments of industrial and artistic change Many of the chapters are built upon primary sourced research while others detail aspects of form and style Together the chapters in this book show a history shaped by multiple theses and voices and interests

Becoming John Wayne Larry Powell,Jonathan H. Amsbary,2018-03-01 Exploring the early westerns of John Wayne from his first starring role in the The Big Trail 1930 to his breakthrough as the Ringo Kid in John Ford s Stagecoach 1939 the authors trace his transformation from Marion Mitchell Morrison movie studio prop man into John Wayne a carefully crafted film persona of his own invention that made him world famous Wayne s years of training went well beyond honing his acting skill as he developed the ability to do his own stunts perfected his technique as a gun handler and became an expert horseman
