Kim, 1982 The Region of Lost Names Fred Arroyo, 2008 Remember that the dream of one is the dream of everyone Ernest is searching for a place where he can live beyond his past His family has returned to Puerto Rico and Ernest remains in the States desiring only distance from his memories of childhood displacement and work his parents tumultuous relationship and his own love for Magdalene Magdalene too looks to move beyond her memories as she follows Ernest's family home seeking resolution to her mother's hurtful secrets her father's unknown identity and her love for Ernest As Ernest moves through the fields of Michigan as Magdalene traverses the jungles of Puerto Rico and the shores of the Caribbean they discover that their dreams and identities are linked within the framework of their families and their pasts Together Ernest and Magdalene must come to terms with the secrets and mistakes made by the previous generation the histories of disloyalty and abandonment of secrecy and sorrow Their struggles take place in a region of lost names where loves and memories are banished and found Fred Arroyo writes a story in two voices following Ernest and Magdalene by turns in prose that is elegant and lyrical His words evoke another world lush with the scent of salt spray the taste of mangoes and the rush of leaves alive with characters whose ardors and pathos are achingly real Arroyo explores the ebb and flow between past and present and themes that are enduring Ultimately Ernest and Magdalene must live with more than their memories they must rediscover the intimacies of the region of lost names perpetrated on a grand scale the tragedy of the so called comfort women mostly Korean women forced into prostitution by the Japanese army endures as one of the darkest events of World War II These women have usually been labeled victims of a war crime a simplistic view that makes it easy to pin blame on the policies of imperial Japan and therefore easier to consign the episode to a war torn past In this revelatory study C Sarah Soh provocatively disputes this master narrative Soh reveals that the forces of Japanese colonialism and Korean patriarchy together shaped the fate of Korean comfort women a double bind made strikingly apparent in the cases of women cast into sexual slavery after fleeing abuse at home Other victims were press ganged into prostitution sometimes with the help of Korean procurers Drawing on historical research and interviews with survivors Soh tells the stories of these women from girlhood through their subjugation and beyond to their efforts to overcome the traumas of their past Finally Soh examines the array of factors from South Korean nationalist politics to the aims of the international women s human rights movement that have contributed to the incomplete view of the tragedy that still dominates today
