Meeting, 2006 This excellent new volume in the series from the Society for Economic Anthropology focuses on the role of labor in world economies Contributors offer a range of case studies illustrating labor processes in both western and nonwestern societies Individual sections include discussions on household labor firms and corporations and state and transnational conditions This book will be a valuable resource for scholars students and interested readers of international economics anthropology development issues labor studies and sociology Beyond Foraging and Collecting Ben Fitzhugh, Junko Habu, 2012-12-06 LEWIS R BINFORD AND AMBER L JOHNSON The organizers of this volume have brought together authors who have worked on local sequences much as traditional archaeologists tended to do however with the modern goal of addressing evolutionary change in hunter gatherer systems over long time spans Given this ambitious goal they wisely chose to ask the authors to build their treatments around a focal question the utility of the forager collector continuum Binford 1980 for research on archaeological sequences Needless to say Binford was flattered by their choice and understandably read the papers with a great deal of interest When he was asked to write the foreword to this provocative book he expected to learn new things and in this he has not been disappointed The common organizing questions addressed among the contributors to this volume are simply how useful is the forager collector continuum for explanatory research on sequences and what else might we need to know to explain evolutionary change in hunter gatherer adaptations Most sequences document systems change in some sense Though we don't necessarily know how much synchronous systemic variability there might have been relative to the documented sequence most authors have tried to address the problem of within systems variability In this sense most are operating with sophistication not seen among traditional culture historians The primary problem for archaeologists of the generation prior to Binford was how to date archaeological materials Contact, Conquest and Colonization Eleonora Rohland, Angelika Epple, Antje Flüchter, Kirsten Kramer, 2021-06-03 Contact Conquest and Colonization brings together international historians and literary studies scholars in order to explore the force of practices of comparing in shaping empires and colonial relations at different points in time and around the globe Whenever there was cultural contact in the context of European colonization and empire building historical records teem with comparisons among those cultures This edited volume focuses on what historical agents actually do when they compare rather than on comparison as an analytic method Its contributors are thus interested in the doing of comparison and explore the force of these practices of comparing in shaping empires and post colonial relations between the sixteenth and twentieth centuries This book will appeal to students and scholars of global history as well as those interested in cultural history and the history of colonialism Southeast Asia Peter Bellwood, Dr Ian Glover, 2023-05-09 This comprehensive and absorbing book traces the cultural history of Southeast Asia from prehistoric especially Neolithic Bronze

Iron age times through to the major Hindu and Buddhist civilizations to around AD 1300 Southeast Asia has recently attracted archaeological attention as the locus for the first recorded sea crossings as the region of origin for the Austronesian population dispersal across the Pacific from Neolithic times as an arena for the development of archaeologically rich Neolithic and metal using communities especially in Thailand and Vietnam and as the backdrop for several unique and strikingly monumental Indic civilizations such as the Khmer civilization centred around Angkor Southeast Asia is invaluable to anyone interested in the full history of the region

Transpacific Engagements Florina H. Capistrano-Baker, Meha Priyadarshini, 2020-01-01 Between the sixteenth and nineteenth centuries competing European empires notably Spain Portugal Great Britain the Netherlands Germany France Belgium and others vied for commercial and political control of transoceanic networks particularly the transpacific routes between Asia and the Americas The essays in Transpacific Engagements Trade Translation and Visual Culture of Entangled Empires 1565 1898 address the resulting cultural and artistic exchanges with an emphasis on both the Spanish and American enterprises in the Asia Pacific region The essays are grouped into three parts entitled Entangled Empires Empires and Translations and Empires and Trade A common thread in the diverse perspectives presented here is the importance of transpacific engagements to the global connections of the sixteenth century and beyond While the focus is on the specific connection between the Asia Pacific region and the Americas through the Philippines we see how other parts of the world notably South and Southeast Asia and Europe were also participants impacted by these transpacific linkages The goal is to convey the complexity of entangled networks of commercial political and religious interests that complicate the Spanish enterprise in the Pacific Commercial ventures into Canton and Manila by the early American republic for example overlapped with and later replaced the Spanish galleons East South and Southeast Asian polities and dynasties remained powerful players in what were often multilateral rather than bilateral exchanges Contributors to this volume are based in Asia the Americas and Europe and soul of the modern Filipino laying bare the multicultural multiracial society of contemporary times The Pilgrim Art Robert Finlay,2010-02-17 Illuminating one thousand years of history The Pilgrim Art explores the remarkable cultural influence of Chinese porcelain around the globe Cobalt ore was shipped from Persia to China in the fourteenth century where it was used to decorate porcelain for Muslims in Southeast Asia India Persia and Iraq Spanish galleons delivered porcelain to Peru and Mexico while aristocrats in Europe ordered tableware from Canton The book tells the fascinating story of how porcelain became a vehicle for the transmission and assimilation of artistic symbols themes and designs across vast distances from Japan and Java to Egypt and England It not only illustrates how porcelain influenced local artistic traditions but also shows how it became deeply intertwined with religion economics politics and social identity Bringing together many strands of history in an engaging narrative studded with fascinating vignettes this is a history of cross cultural exchange focused on an exceptional commodity that illuminates the emergence of what is arguably the first genuinely global culture The Lands West of the Lakes Stephen C. Druce,2009-01-01 The period 1200 1600 CE saw a radical transformation from simple chiefdoms to kingdoms in archaeological terminology complex chiefdoms across lowland South Sulawesi a region that lay outside the classical Indicized parts of Southeast Asia The rise of these kingdoms was stimulated and economically supported by trade in prestige goods with other parts of island Southeast Asia yet the development of these kingdoms was determined by indigenous rather than imported political and cultural precepts Starting in the thirteenth century the region experienced a transition from swidden cultivation to wet rice agriculture rice was the major product that the lowland kingdoms of South Sulawesi exchanged with archipelagic traders Stephen Druce demonstrates this progression to political complexity by combining a range of sources and methods including oral textual archaeological linguistic and geographical information and analysis as he explores the rise and development of five South Sulawesi kingdoms known collectively as Ajattappareng the Lands West of the Lakes The author also presents an inquiry into oral traditions of a historical nature in South Sulawesi He examines their functions their processes of transmission and transformation their uses in writing history and their relationship to written texts He shows that any distinction between oral and written traditions of a historical nature is largely irrelevant and that the South Sulawesi chronicles which can be found only for a small number of kingdoms are not characteristic as historians have argued but exceptional in the corpus of indigenous South Sulawesi historical sources The book will be of primary interest to scholars of pre European contact Southeast Asia including historians archaeologists anthropologists linguists and geographers and scholars with a broader interest in oral tradition and the relationship between the oral and written registers War, Spectacle and Politics in the Ancient Andes Elizabeth N.
