Islam Ecaterina Mațoi,2023 Ethical Selfhood and the Status of the Secular: Islam, Modernity and Everyday Life in Mumbai Ari S. Anand,2008 In this dissertation I explore social identity secularism and Indian Muslims conceptions and experiences of living in a secular state while debating among themselves the meanings of ethical Muslim selfhood Through participant observation and interviews based on over 15months of intensive field research undertaken in a predominantly Muslim area of south east Mumbai my research focused on two groups of Muslim men middle class entrepreneurs and householders in their early to mid thirties and senior students from their late teens to early twenties from a madrasa Islamic seminary attached to a prominent mosque in the city Owing to its complex and intense dynamism I also emphasize the city as an important agent in shaping everyday life The core of my work is to explore secular life and secularism central to India s liberal conception of itself as a pluralist democracy that emerge through the lived experiences of Muslim men engaging with various daily pressures and transactions in an intensely dynamic urban context while trying to maintain a self understood to be ethical in terms of an inherited Islamic tradition In discussing everyday phenomena such as piety and religious authority gender childraising popular culture personal and professional pursuits and ethical conduct I demonstrate that the ostensibly religious domain of Islam is not necessarily the only or even primary basis for achieving selfhood for even those who identify as observant and devout Muslims Rather I argue the religious domain of Islam in this context is defined as such and intersected by discourses and practices of the self as a political and economic agent that is a self defined in terms of political modernity Thus this dissertation also contributes to the current anthropological rethinking of categories like religion secularism and politics in relation to social processes and subjects a series of projects that are related in the Indian context to modernity and liberal conceptions of statehood sovereignty and personhood A major conclusion of this work is that while most Indian Muslims have largely internalized and accept the liberal differentiation of politics and religion the modern secular project in India nevertheless remains incomplete

Islam and Secularism in the Middle East Azzam Tamimi, John L. Esposito, 2000-10 Western civilization tends to view secularism as a positive achievement From this perspective benefits of secularizing trends include the separation of church and state the rule of law and freedom from organized religion In the Arab Middle East however Islamist intellectuals increasingly cite Western inspired secularism as the source of the region's social dislocation and political instability While secularism in the West led to the spread of democratic values in the Muslim world it has been associated with dictatorship the violation of human rights and the abrogation of civil liberties Islam and Secularism in the Middle East examines the origins and growth of the movement to abolish the secularizing reforms of the past century by creating a political order guided by Shariah law Contributors explain the Islamic rejection of secularism as a failed Western Christian ideal and also discuss how secularization was pioneered by those who thought Muslims could only advance politically by emulating Western practices including the renunciation of religion

Islam's Predicament with Modernity

Bassam Tibi, 2009-02-25 Islam's Predicament with Modernity presents an in depth cultural and political analysis of the issue of political Islam as a potential source of tensions and conflict and how this might be peacefully resolved Looking at the issue of modernity from an Islamic point of view the author examines the role of culture and religion in Muslim society under conditions of globalisation and analyses issues such as law knowledge and human rights He engages a number of significant studies on political Islam and draws on detailed case studies rejecting the approaches of both Orientalists and apologists and calling instead for a genuine Islamic pluralism that accepts the equality of others Situating modernity as a Western product at the crux of his argument he argues that a separation of religion and politics is required which presents a challenge to the

Islamic worldview This critical analysis of value conflicts tensions and change in the Islamic world will be of interest to scholars and advanced students of international relations social theory political science religion Islamic studies and Middle Eastern studies Religion, Modernity, and the Global Afterlives of Colonialism Atalia Omer, Joshua Lupo, 2024-09-15

Religion Modernity and the Global Afterlives of Colonialism examines the tenacious lingering impact of European colonial ideology on religion and politics around the world Even though the formal structures of colonialism have crumbled with a few notable exceptions European colonial ideology continues to operate across the globe resulting in limited nationalistic conceptualizations of religion and politics Religion Modernity and the Global Afterlives of Colonialism shows convincingly that not only has colonialism had a devastating impact on the colonized but its reach has turned inward to erode the colonizer s own social and political systems By examining the colonial violence constitutive of liberal political ideology the continued oppression of Muslims in Europe in the name of security and the way neoliberal economics bends religious hermeneutics to its will the authors of Religion Modernity and the Global Afterlives of Colonialism call attention to the threats that face our world today They also point to potential sites of hope for example the work of a priest in the Balkans who seeks to build solidarity across religious differences groups in Africa who are constructing decolonial religious imaginaries and the Islamo futurism of Dune which haltingly imagines a form of modernity beyond the West Contributors Atalia Omer Joshua Lupo Santiago Slabodsky Nadia Fadil S Sayyid Luca Mavelli Edmund Frettingham Cecelia Lynch Slavica Jakeli and Gil Anidjar
