Sales. Negotiable instruments. Secured transactions in personal property. Security transactions in real property Bernard Ernest Witkin, 2005 Towards Reforming the Legal Framework for Secured Transactions in Nigeria Chima Williams Ihome, 2016-08-16 This book offers a valuable guide to one of the most challenging areas of commercial law now frequently referred to as secured transactions with a focus on Nigerian Canadian and United States perspectives A debtor's ability to provide collateral influences not only the cost of the money borrowed but also in many cases whether secured lenders are willing to offer credit at all The book proposes that increasing access to and indeed lowering the cost of credit could tremendously boost economic development while at the same time arguing that this would best be achieved if the legal framework for secured transactions in Nigeria and of course any other country with similar experiences were designed to allow the use of personal property and fixtures to secure credit Similarly the creation priority perfection and enforcement of security interests in personal property should be simplified and supported by a framework that ensures that neither the interests of secured lenders nor debtors are hampered so as to guarantee the continuous availability of affordable credit as well as debtors willingness to borrow and do business The book further argues that in addition to the obvious preference for real property over personal property by secured lenders due to the unreformed secured transactions legal framework in Nigeria its compartmentalized nature has also resulted in unpredictability in commerce and the concomitant effects of poor access to credit Through the comparative research conducted in this book utilizing the UCC Article 9 and Ontario PPSA as benchmarks the author provides reformers with a repository of tested secured transactions law solutions which law reformers in the Commonwealth countries in Africa and beyond as well as the
