Changing Lives, 1995 A A A Thirteen women's studies pioneers from eleven Asian countries narrate their individual passages into feminist consciousness and the monumental effect of women's studies on their private and professional lives Each woman's odyssey moves against the backdrop of her country's social and political systems as well as through the dailiness of her family life In their efforts to balance demanding careers as anthropologists economists psychologists and even as a member of parliament with normal family lives these women all come to realize that their husbands experienced no such difficulties They regard women's studies as a key strategy for changing women's lives just as it has changed theirs A A A In Changing Lives women's studies link these stories although the individual narratives are extremely diverse Aurora Javate de Dios worked as a political activist in the Philippines in the 1970s then married and reared three children before becoming a women's studies pionerr Economist Fareeha Zafar worked to establish the first women's trade union in Pakistan in the early 1970s and to found the Women's Action Forum and women's studies in Pakistan After Liang Jun of China at 40 married with two children and an academic career attended a lecture by Li Xiaojiang she suddenly saw a lighthouse on a dark sea Contributors Noemi Alindogan Medina Philippines Fanny M Cheung Hong Kong Aurora Javate Dios Philippines Cho Hyoungh South Korea Liang Jun China Malavika Karlekar India Nora Lan hung Chiang Huang Taiwan Yasuko Murumatsu Japan Thanh Dam Truong

Vietnam Aline K Wong Singapore Li Xiaojiang China Fareeha Zafar Pakistan Fast Forward Torrey D. Dickinson, Robert K. Schaeffer, 2001 This innovative global feminist analysis of work and politics examines the diverse problems and related protests of women and men who labor to make ends meet in a rapidly changing world Using vivid examples from around the world it reveals how globalization is reshaping social institutions and lives Fast Forward explores how businesses and states reshaped and redistributed work around the world during the last 30 years of globalization often with adverse consequences Within this fast moving context laboring people today engage in work outside of formal employment try to obtain survival resources mount a diverse array of often women centered protests against firms and states and try on their own terms to reinvent work and democratic political practices Portraying the human face of global change Fast Forward shows how overlapping social movements wrestle with economic and political marginalization and initiate highly diverse but related attempts to change the way the world works The Terror of the Machine Devon G. Peña, 2014-10-14 Born of thirteen years of field research this interdisciplinary work explores the complex intersections of technology class gender and ecology in the transnational milieu of Mexico's maquiladoras foreign owned assembly plants located along the U S border Devon Peña examines workplace and community struggles from the perspective of the women who work in the maquiladoras He describes the workers struggles for workplace democracy social justice and sustainable development He also observes the circulation of struggle from the factory to the community highlighting the efforts to establish worker owned cooperatives in the border region during the 1970s and 1980s Female maquila workers are typically portrayed as passive apolitical and easily exploited This book however presents an opposing view investigating the subaltern life of the shop floor the workers informal methods of resistance to hazardous conditions sexual harassment and managerial tyranny Using survey research oral history discourse analysis and site ethnography the author develops a cogent critique of labor process theory a critique grounded on his extensive study of actual workplace politics in the maquiladoras The Terror of the Machine is a trenchant analysis of the political cultural and environmental effects of maquila industrialization and an eloquent and persuasive call for alternatives in the direction of ecologically sustainable and culturally appropriate modes of development Women, Development, and the UN Devaki Jain, 2005-10-17 Devaki Jain opens the doors of the United Nations and shows how it has changed the female half of the world and vice versa Women Development and the UN is a book that every global citizen government leader journalist academic and self respecting woman should read Gloria Steinem Devaki Jain's book nurtures your optimism in this terrible war torn decade by describing how women succeeded in empowering both themselves and the United Nations to work toward a global leadership inspired by human dignity Fatema Mernissi In Women Development and the UN internationally noted development economist and activist Devaki Jain traces the ways in which women have enriched the work of the United Nations from the time of its founding in 1945 Synthesizing insights from the extensive literature on women and development and from her own broad experience Jain reviews the evolution of the UN's programs aimed at benefiting the women of developing nations and the impact of women's ideas about rights equality and social justice on UN thinking and practice regarding development Jain presents this history from the perspective of the southern hemisphere which recognizes that development issues often look different when viewed from the standpoint of countries in Africa Asia and Latin America The book highlights the contributions of the four global women's conferences in Mexico City Copenhagen Nairobi and Beijing in raising awareness building confidence spreading ideas and creating alliances The history that Jain chronicles reveals both the achievements of committed networks of women in partnership with the UN and the urgent work remaining to bring equality and justice to the world and its women

Women Succeeding in the Sciences Jody Bart, 2000 Ample evidence has been provided that women historically have suffered numerous social political and institutional barriers to their entrance and success in the sciences The articles in this anthology refocus the discussion and reflect the interdisciplinary nature of the issues surrounding women in the sciences While the barriers that women have faced as researchers subjects of research students of science and theorists have been well documented this anthology breaks new ground It presents the ways women succeed in the sciences overcome these historical barriers and contribute to the social practice of science and the philosophy of science in both theory and practice

Chicano Culture, Ecology, Politics Devon G. Peña, 1999-01-01 Until recently mainstream American environmentalism has been a predominantly white middle class movement essentially ignoring the class race and gender dimensions of environmental politics In this provocative collection of original essays the environmental dimensions of the Chicana/o experience are explicitly expressed and debated Employing a variety of genres ranging from poetry to autobiography to theoretical and empirical essays the voices in this collection speak to the most significant issues of environmentalism and social justice recognizing throughout the need for a pluralism of Chicana/o philosophies The contributors provide an excellent basis for understanding how multiple Chicana/o views on the environment play out in the context of dominant social political and economic views Chicano Culture Ecology Politics examines a number of Chicana/o ecological perspectives How can the ethics of reciprocity present in Chicana/o agropastoral life be protected and applied on a broader scale How can the dominant society whose economic structure is invested in placeless mobility take note of the harm caused to land based cultures take responsibility for it and take heed before it is too late Will the larger society be ecologically housebroken before it destroys its home Grounded in actual political struggles waged by Chicana o communities over issues of environmental destruction cultural genocide and socioeconomic domination this volume provides an important series of snapshots of Chicana o history Chicano Culture Ecology Politics illuminates the bridges that exist and must be understood between race ethnicity class gender politics and ecology CONTENTS Part 1 IndoHispano Land Ethics Los Animalitos Culture Ecology and the Politics of Place in the Upper R o Grande Devon G Pe a Social Action Research Bioregionalism and the Upper R o Grande Rub n O Mart nez Notes on Home Land Ethics Ideas Values and the Land Reyes Garc a Part 2 Environmental History and Ecological Politics Ecological Legitimacy and Cultural Essentialism Hispano Grazing in Northern New Mexico Laura Pulido The Capitalist Tool the Lawless and the Violent A Critique of Recent Southwestern Environmental History Devon G Pe a and Rub n O Mart nez Ecofeminism and Chicano Environmental Struggles Bridges across Gender and Race Gwyn Kirk Philosophy Meets Practice A Critique of Ecofeminism through the Voices of Three Chicana Activists Malia Davis Part 3 Alternatives to Destruction The Pasture Poacher a poem Joseph C Gallegos Acequia Tales Stories from a Chicano Centennial Farm Joseph C Gallegos A Gold Mine an Orchard and an Eleventh Commandment Devon G Pe a Sister Gin June Arnold,1989 Aging lesbian consciousness the difficulty of escaping from alcoholism these are the themes of June Arnold s extraordinary novel first published by Daughters in 1975 The novel stands squarely in the southern literary tradition depicting with memorable hilarity a groupd of elderly female vigilantes who take local rape deference into their own hands Critics and fellow writers have rightly lauded it as a classic of experimental fiction It is also a unique exploration of menopause as rebirth Sister Gin is a tour de force about lesbianism and alcoholism fat and feminism rape and race falling in love with your lover s mother s girlfriend and it has the very best description of hot flashes in literature Jane Marcus
