Seeing The Crab A Memoir Of Dying:

Seeing the Crab Christina Middlebrook,1997-12-29 Christina Middlebrook was not quite fifty when she was told that a lump in her breast was not only malignant but had already metastasized and she had a fifty percent chance of surviving more than two years In her beautiful unflinching memoir Middlebrook conveys the physical and emotional ordeal of coming to terms with her own imminent death Candid and courageous Middlebrook s memoir honestly relates her story which unlike many books about illness that end in triumph can offer no reassuring conclusion In the tradition of William Styron s Darkness Visible Seeing the Crab is a true and incredibly powerful story of facing the unthinkable with grace

Seeing the Crab Christina Middlebrook,1996 Memoir of a Debulked Woman Susan Gubar,2012-03-27 In this moving memoir a renowned feminist scholar explores the physical and psychological ordeal of living with ovarian cancer

Cancer, Culture and Communication Rhonda J. Moore,David Spiegel,2007-05-08 The ability to communicate effectively with cancer patients and their family members has been linked to patient satisfaction reduced psychological morbidity enhanced health and reduced clinician burn out Yet despite what we know about the benefits of effective communication cancer clinicians have only recently begun to receive routine training in the psychosocial and emotional aspects of cancer patient care This volume creates a multi disciplinary dialogue about clinician patient communication It offers a description of the relevance of culture as a contextual effect that impacts the clinician patient relationship Some important topics addressed include Oncology care Quality of life issues Supportive survivorship Cultural differences in health care Multidisciplinary medical approaches This book is for physicians nurses hospice and palliative care professionals and public health professionals who would like to understand the ways we can improve clinician patient communication in culturally diverse medical settings It is also suitable for graduate level courses in medical education oncology and health care

You Can Cope with Peripheral Neuropathy Mims Cushing,2010-05-07 Peripheral neuropathy is one of the most common diseases most people never heard of and yet upwards of 20 million Americans have it It is estimated that 60 to 70 percent of people with diabetes have mild to severe neuropathy That fact alone is staggering Other causes include vitamin deficiencies autoimmune diseases kidney liver or thyroid disorders cancer and a variety of other medical conditions According to the Neuropathy Association the extent and importance of peripheral neuropathy has not yet been adequately recognized The disease is apt to be misdiagnosed or thought to be merely a side effect of another disease However people from all walks of life live with this neurological illness that has been described by those who have it as a tingling or burning sensation in their limbs pins and needles and numbness You Can Cope with Peripheral Neuropathy 365 Tips for Living a Full Life was written by both a patient expert and doctor and is a welcome addition to the information on this subject It covers such diverse topics as What to ask at doctor appointments Making the house easier to navigate with neuropathy Where to find a support group Using vitamins and herbs for treatment Tips for traveling And much much more You Can Cope With Peripheral Neuropathy is a compendium of tips techniques and life task shortcuts that will help everyone who lives with this painful condition It will also serve as a useful resource for their families caregivers and health care providers

Fractured Borders Mary K. DeShazer, 2010-02-05 Women have been writing about cancer for decades but since the early 1990s the body of literature on cancer has increased exponentially as growing numbers of women face the searing realities of the disease and give testimony to its ravages and revelations Fractured Borders Reading Women's Cancer Literature surveys a wide range of contemporary writing about breast uterine and ovarian cancer including works by Marilyn Hacker Margaret Edson Carole Maso Audre Lorde Eve Sedgwick Mahasweta Devi Lucille Clifton Alicia Ostriker Jayne Anne Phillips Terry Tempest Williams and Jeanette Winterson among many others DeShazer's readings bring insights from body theory performance theory feminist literary criticism French feminisms and disability studies to bear on these works shining new light on a literary subject that is engaging more and more writers An important and useful book that will appeal to people in a variety of fields and walks of life including scholars teachers and anyone interested in this subject Suzanne Poirier University of Illinois at Chicago A book on a timely and important topic wisely written beyond scholarly boundaries and crossing many theoretical and disciplinary lines Patricia Moran University of California Davis

Narrative Medicine Rita Charon, 2008-02-14 Narrative medicine emerged in response to a commodified health care system that places corporate and bureaucratic concerns over the needs of the patient This book provides an introduction to the principles of narrative medicine and guidance for implementing narrative methods

Patient Listening Loreen Herwaldt, 2017-01-01 From the fictional portrayal of Dr Gregory House to Jerome Groopman's bestseller How Doctors Think both medical professionals and the general public recognize that there is more to the doctor's job than technical practice Yet why do so many patients come away from their doctors' offices feeling dissatisfied with their interactions In this welcome addition to the growing field of narrative medicine physician Loreen Herwaldt uses the illness narratives of two dozen writer patients to teach listening skills to medical students residents physicians and other health care providers Herwaldt skillfully pares each narrative down to its most basic elements rendering them into powerful found poems that she has used successfully in her role as a teacher and in her own practice Drawing from narratives by writers who are both emerging and well known including Oliver Sacks Richard Selzer and Mary Swander each poem reveals the experience of illness and treatment from the patient's perspective Patient Listening includes a detailed general introduction and a how to guide that will prove invaluable in the classroom and in clinical practice This book will inspire thoughtfulness in everyone who reads it It is also designed to foster discussions about all aspects of the patient experience from ethics to stigmatization to health insurance Patient Listening is not just about bedside manner but also about how health care providers can gain the most from their interactions with patients and in turn offer more appropriate treatments develop more cooperative and responsive relationships with their patients and thus become better doctors

A Darker Ribbon Ellen Leopold, 2000-10-17 The first cultural history of breast cancer this book examines the social attitudes and medical treatments that together defined the modern relationship between women with the disease and their doctors At the heart of the book are two unpublished correspondences one between Barbara Mueller a woman diagnosed with breast cancer eighty years ago and her surgeon William Steward Halsted father of the radical mastectomy and the other between Rachel Carson who was writing Silent Spring as she was battling breast cancer and her personal physician George Crile Jr

Digital Journalism Kevin Kawamoto,2003 In this innovative book experts on digital journalism share their perspectives on what digital journalism is where it came from and where it may be going Addressing many important issues in new media and journalism authors take on history convergence ethics online media and politics and cutting edge technology from multimedia web sites to global satellite capabilities Digital Journalism is a valuable resource for all journalism students and an intriguing read for anyone interested in the changing technology of news

Breast Cancer NA NA,2016-09-23 Breast Cancer Society Shapes an Epidemic provides an innovative look at the social and political contexts of breast cancer and examines how this illness has become a social problem This is not a book about breast cancer as a biological disease its diagnosis and treatment or the latest research to cure it Rather it looks at how economics politics gender social class and race ethnicity have deeply influenced the science behind breast cancer research spurred the growth of a breast cancer industry generated media portrayals of women with the disease and defined and influenced women s experiences with breast cancer The contributors address the social construction of breast cancer as an illness and as an area of scientific controversy advocacy and public policy Chapters on the history of breast cancer the health care system the environment and the marketing of breast cancer among others tease apart the complex social forces that have shaped our collective and individual responses to breast cancer

Reconstructing Illness Anne Hunsaker Hawkins,1999 Serious illness and mortality those most universal unavoidable and frightening of human experiences are the focus of this pioneering study which has been hailed as a telling and provocative commentary on our times As modern medicine has become more scientific and dispassionate a new literary genre has emerged pathography the personal narrative concerning illness treatment and sometimes death Hawkins s sensitive reading of numerous pathographies highlights the assumptions attitudes and myths that people bring to the medical encounter One factor emerges again and again in these case studies the tendency in contemporary medical practice to focus primarily not on the needs of the individual who is sick but on the condition that we call disease Pathography allows the individual person a voice one that asserts the importance of the experiential side of illness and thus restores the feeling thinking experiencing human being to the center of the medical enterprise Recommended for medical practitioners the clergy caregivers students of popular culture and the general reader Reconstructing Illness demonstrates that only when we hear both the doctor s and the patient s voice will we have a medicine that is truly human

Gender in Applied Communication Contexts Patrice M. Buzzanell,Helen Sterk,Lynn H. Turner,2004 Gender in Applied Communication Contexts explores the intersection and integration of feminist theory as applied to four important areas organizational communication health communication family communication and instructional communication This collection of readings links theoretical insights and contributions to pragmatic ways of improving the lives of women and men in a variety of professional and personal situations Gender in Applied Communication Contexts is recommended for upper division and graduate level courses in gender and communication feminist theory organizational communication health communication instructional communication and applied communication This anthology is also recommended as a research resource for scholars in Women s Studies Family Studies and Business and Management The Body of Nature and Culture R.

Giblett,2008-10-14 This book explores the relationship of human bodies with natural and cultural environments arguing that these categories are linked and intertwined It argues for an environmentally sustainable and healthy relationship between the body and the earth Creative Dialogues Isabel Fernandes,Cecilia Beecher Martins,Amândio Reis,2015-06-18 This volume is the outcome of work done in the groundbreaking field of Narrative Medicine by an interdisciplinary research team based at the University of Lisbon Centre for English Studies ULICES and devoted to the international project Narrative and Medicine since 2009 The articles and essays gathered here heterogeneous as they may be such is the natural outcome of research carried out across disciplines are not only of high caliber when read individually but also constitute an inval

Storytelling Encounters as Medical Education Sally G. Warmington,2019-10-08 This innovative volume provides fresh perspectives on how medical students and patients construct identities in relation to each other using stories of their clinical encounters It explores how paying attention to medical students and patients stories in clinical teaching encounters can encourage empathy and the formation of professional identities that embody desirable values such as integrity and respect Written by an experienced clinician and based on original rigorous research combining ethnography and dialogic narrative analysis Storytelling Encounters as Medical Education Crafting Relational Identity includes patient stories alongside those of students and clinical teachers This is an important contribution for all those interested in medical education narrative medicine person centred care and identity formation in healthcare It will also be of value to scholars in a range of other disciplines who are using a dialogic approach The Ways of Fiction Nicholas J. Crowe,2019-01-15 The essays gathered here capture fresh perspectives on the literary environments of the eighteenth century The core concern of this volume is culture the ways in which it shapes literature and is in turn influenced by it the ways of fiction Especially commissioned from experts in the field essays cover the whole of the century embracing such themes as class gender nationhood politics and identity Through scrutiny of familiar and less well known authors alike the collection forms a stimulating and provocative anthology It will naturally appeal to scholars and students of the novel as well as to historians of culture and all those concerned with eighteenth century studies A broader readership will also find much here to enhance their appreciation of fiction as a cultural artefact Responding to a growing fascination with this period in British history these essays open vital new perspectives on the novel at a key moment in its development The Language of Illness Fergus

Shanahan,2020-09-15 The practice of medicine has advanced dramatically in recent years but the language used to discuss illness by medical practitioners patients and carers has not kept pace As a result clinicians and just as importantly patients and their relatives and carers are not able to communicate clearly in relation to illness The upshot is misunderstanding and confusion on all sides In this ground breaking book Dr Fergus Shanahan an eminent gastroenterologist who has practised in Ireland the United States and Canada and published widely around the world looks at memoirs of illness and outlines the lessons we can learn from a better understanding of the words we use to describe illness He looks at the ways in which language can act as a barrier with regard to illness and proposes practical ways in which we can dismantle these barriers The book is written for the general reader as Dr Shanahan puts it himself he is enough of an expert to be wary of experts The Language of Illness part manifesto part memoir and part instruction manual is an appeal for the use of clearer more holistic language by all those involved with and affected by illness Like the great American poet doctor William Carlos Williams he aims to help us develop a new language by means of which we can develop a new way of living with illness which is an integral part of the human condition Put simply it is a book for all those who care about caring Recovering Bodies G.

Thomas Couser,1997-11-01 This is a provocative look at writing by and about people with illness or disability in particular HIV AIDS breast cancer deafness and paralysis who challenge the stigmas attached to their conditions by telling their lives in their own ways and on their own terms Discussing memoirs diaries collaborative narratives photo documentaries essays and other forms of life writing G Thomas Couser shows that these books are not primarily records of medical conditions they are a means for individuals to recover their bodies or those of loved ones from marginalization and impersonal medical discourse Responding to the recent growth of illness and disability narratives in the United States such works as Juliet Wittman s Breast Cancer Journal John Hockenberry s Moving Violations Paul Monette s Borrowed Time An AIDS Memoir and Lou Ann Walker s A Loss for Words The Story of Deafness in a Family Couser addresses questions of both poetics and politics He examines why and under what circumstances individuals choose to write about illness or disability what role plot plays in such narratives how and whether closure is achieved who assumes the prerogative of narration which conditions are most often represented and which literary conventions lend themselves to representing particular conditions By tracing the development of new subgenres of personal narrative in our time this book explores how explicit consideration of illness and disability has enriched the repertoire of life writing In addition Couser s discussion of medical discourse joins the current debate about whether the biomedical model is entirely conducive to humane care for ill and disabled people With its sympathetic critique of the testimony of those most affected by these conditions Recovering Bodies contributes to an understanding of the relations among bodily dysfunction cultural conventions and identity in contemporary America
