Forest Recollections Tiyavanich Kamala, 1997-03-01 I stayed in the forest for two nights The first night nothing happened The second night at about one or two in the morning a tiger came which meant that I didn't get any sleep the whole night I sat in meditation scared stiff while the tiger walked around and around my umbrella tent klot My body felt all frozen and numb I started chanting and the words came out like running water All the old chants I had forgotten now came back to me thanks both to my fear and to my ability to keep my mind under control I sat like this from 2 until 5 a.m. when the tiger finally left A forest monk During the first half of this century the forests of Thailand were home to wandering ascetic monks They were Buddhists but their brand of Buddhism did not copy the practices described in ancient doctrinal texts Their Buddhism found expression in living day to day in the forest and in contending with the mental and physical challenges of hunger pain fear and desire Combining interviews and biographies with an exhaustive knowledge of archival materials and a wide reading of ephemeral popular literature Kamala Tiyavanich documents the monastic lives of three generations of forest dwelling ascetics and challenges the stereotype of state centric Thai Buddhism Although the tradition of wandering forest ascetics has disappeared a victim of Thailand's relentless modernization and rampant deforestation the lives of the monks presented here are a testament to the rich diversity of regional Buddhist traditions The study of these monastic lineages and practices enriches our understanding of Buddhism in Thailand and elsewhere

Plant Lives Ellison Banks Findly, 2008 This book examines for the first time those threads in Indian thought that present a prolife view of plants Using texts from Vedic Hindu Jain and Buddhist traditions the author argues that there is strong support in early materials that plants are thought to be alive to be sentient and have the one sense of touch to feel pleasure and pain to have an interior consciousness and to be bearers of karma Moreover while plants are traditionally thought to be of tamasic quality with their immobility and dullness they are sometimes described as sattvic with their calmness even mindedness and service to others In fact the author argues plants are frequently used to provide a model for the practiced ascetic in that they bend but don't break with the wind aren't distracted when buzzed by a mosquito and flourish in their steadfastness Given the theoretical discussion of plants within the range of sentient being the book then focus on the intimate life humans have with plants Texts devoted to botany medicine law art literature and religion for example depict human conversation with trees humans marrying trees and humans delineating their responsibilities for the well being of plants in the greatest detail Most difficult is the problem of eating and in that ahimsa or non violence towards plants would be the ideal in the extreme vegetarianism shows up the compromise that is made once plants are brought into the sentient realm Finally the author explores the founding premises of several current environmental leaders and movements in India that focus on plants e.g tree protection tree planting seed saving biodiversity to examine whether contemporary plant oriented ecological activism in India reflects older traditional ideas about plants Asking whether new

Hindu Jain or Buddhist movements reflect respective older ideas the author finds that contemporary Indian practices remain on the whole authentic reflections of their older roots The Spiritual Life , See, Love, Be Tim Stead, 2018-06-21 Many have been hugely helped by mindfulness practice But how do we move beyond our initial goal of functioning well to live a life marked by deep awareness genuine compassion and ease of being Tim Stead is an accredited mindfulness teacher who seeks to explore this very question Offering new versions of familiar practices he meditates on three key themes see love be that connect strongly with the concerns of many great spiritual traditions This warm hearted book will resonate as much with those who do not have a faith commitment as with those who do Thoughtful and intensely practical See Love Be offers a fascinating insight into the human condition I particularly enjoyed the use of the well judged poems at the end of each chapter Michael Mosley science journalist TV presenter and producer Interreligious Reflections, Six Volume Set Alon Goshen-Gottstein, 2018-08-08 This set includes all six volumes of Interreligious Reflections ABOUT VOLUME ONE Friendship is an outcome of as well as a condition for advancing interfaith relations However for friendship to advance there must be legitimation from within and a theory of how interreligious relations can be justified from the resources of different faith traditions Friendship Across Religions explores these very issues seeking to develop a robust theory of interreligious friendship from the resources of each of the participating traditions It also features individual cases as models and precedents for such relations in particular the friendship of Gandhi and Charlie Andrews his closest personal friend Contributors Balwant Singh Dhillon Timothy J Gianotti Alon Goshen Gottstein Maria Reis Habito Ruben L F Habito Ryan McAnnally Linz Stephen Butler Murray Eleanor Nesbitt Anantanand Rambachan Meir Sender Johann M Vento and Miroslav Volf ABOUT VOLUME TWO This book tackles the core problem of how painful historical memories between diverse religious communities continue to impact even poison present day relations Its operative notion is the healing of memory developed by John Paul II Chapters explore how painful memories of yesteryear can be healed and so address some of the root causes Strategies from six different faith traditions are brought together in what is in some ways a cross religious brainstorming session that identifies tools to improve present day relations At the other pole of the conceptual axis of this book is the notion of hope If memory informs our past hope sets the horizon for our future How does the healing of memory open new horizons for the future And what is the notion of hope in each of our traditions that could lead to a common vision of good Between memory and hope this book seeks to offer a vision of healing that can serve as a resource in contemporary interfaith relations Contributors Rahuldeep Singh Gill Alon Goshen Gottstein Maria Reis Habito Flora A Keshgegian Anantanand Rambachan Meir Sender Muhammad Suheyl Umar and Michael von Br ck ABOUT VOLUME THREE The essays collected here prepared by a think tank of the Elijah Interfaith Academy explore the challenges associated with sharing wisdom learning teachings messages for good living How should religions go about sharing their wisdom These chapters representing six faith tradition Jewish Christian Muslim Hindu Sikh and Buddhist explore what wisdom means in each of these traditions why and how it

ABOUT VOLUME FOUR All the world's religions are experiencing rapid change due to a confluence of social and economic global forces Factors such as the pervasive intrusion of globalizing political and economic developments polarized and morally equivalent presentations seen in the media and the sense of surety demanded in and promised by a culture dominated by science are some of the factors that have placed extreme pressure on all religious traditions This has stimulated unprecedented responses by religious groups ranging from fundamentalism to the syncretistic search for meaning As religion takes on new forms the balance between individual and community is disrupted and reconfigured Religions often lose the capacity to recall their ultimate purpose or lead their adherents toward it This is the situation we call the crisis of the holy It is a confluence of threats challenges and opportunities for all religions This volume explores the contours of pressures changes and transformations and reflects on how all our religions are changing By identifying commonalities across religions as they respond to these pressures The Crisis of the Holy recommends ways religious traditions might cope with these changes and how they might join forces in doing so

ABOUT VOLUME FIVE The chapters collected in this book prepared by a think tank of the Elijah Interfaith Academy address the subject of religious leadership The subject is of broad relevance in the training of religious leaders and in the practice of religious leadership As such it is also germane to religious thought where reflections on religious leadership occupy an important place What does it mean to be a religious leader in today's world To what degree are the challenges that confront religious leadership today the same perennial challenges that have arrested the attention of the faithful and their leaders for generations and to what degree do we encounter challenges today that are unique to our day and age One dimension is surely unique and that is the very ability to explore these issues from an interreligious perspective and to consider challenges opportunities and strategies across religious traditions

VOLUME SIX One of the biggest challenges for relations between religions is the view of the religious Other The question touches the roots of our theological views The Religious Other Hostility Hospitality and the Hope of Human Flourishing explores the views of multiple religious traditions on how to regard otherness How does one move from hostility to hospitality How can hospitality be understood not simply as social hospitality but as theological hospitality making room for the religious Other on theological grounds What is our vision for the flourishing of the Other while respecting his otherness This volume is an exercise in constructive interreligious theology By including Abrahamic and non Abrahamic traditions it approaches these challenges from multiple perspectives highlighting commonalities in approach and ways in which one tradition might inspire another Contributors Vincent J Cornell Alon Goshen Gottstein Richard P Hayes Lord Rabbi Jonathan Sacks Deepak Sarma Stephen W Sykes Dharma Master Hsin Tao Ashok Vohra Many Heavens, One Earth Clifford Chalmers Cain, 2012-01-01 Many Heavens One Earth is a collection of first person voices from nine of the world religions In fifteen articles devotees and scholars reveal the contributions these traditions make to informing and motivating an ecological response to the environmental issues that beset planet earth The spiritual messages of world religions have an indispensable and decisive role to play in addressing these environmental problems for at their root these ecological issues are spiritual problems Unless greed is replaced by moderation and sharing materialism by spiritual insights and values consumerism by restraint and simpler living exploitation by respect and service and pollution by caring and protection nature's hospitality will be foolishly rebuffed and therefore our descendants will inherit a polluted and depleted earth Religion can be and must be a part of this replacement Since at least 90% of the world's people claim allegiance to various major world religious traditions religion can exert a crucial and transforming influence Divine Teaching and the Way of the World Samuel Fleischacker, 2011-04-21 Samuel Fleischacker defends what the Enlightenment called revealed religion religions that regard a certain text or oral teaching as sacred as wholly authoritative over one's life At the same time he maintains that revealed religions stand in danger of corruption or fanaticism unless they are combined with secular scientific practices and a secular morality The first two parts of Divine Teaching and the Way of the World argue that the cognitive and moral practices of a society should prescind from religious commitments they constitute a secular way of the world to adapt a phrase from the Jewish tradition allowing human beings to work together regardless of their religious differences But the way of the world breaks down when it comes to the question of what we live for and it is this that revealed religions can illumine Fleischacker first suggests that secular conceptions of why life is worth living are often poorly grounded before going on to explore what revelation is how it can answer the question of worth better than secular worldviews do and how the revealed and way of the world elements of a religious tradition can be brought together
