Making Black Los Angeles Marne L. Campbell, 2016-09-27 Black Los Angeles started small The first census of the newly formed Los Angeles County in 1850 recorded only twelve Americans of African descent alongside a population of more than 3 500 Anglo Americans Over the following seventy years however the African American founding families of Los Angeles forged a vibrant community within the increasingly segregated and stratified city In this book historian Marne L Campbell examines the intersections of race class and gender to produce a social history of community formation and cultural expression in Los Angeles Expanding on the traditional narrative of middle class uplift Campbell demonstrates that the black working class largely through the efforts of women fought to secure their own economic and social freedom by forging communal bonds with black elites and other communities of color This women led black working class agency and cross racial community building Campbell argues was markedly more successful in Los Angeles than in any other region in the country Drawing from an extensive database of all African American households between 1850 and 1910 Campbell vividly tells the story of how middle class African Americans were able to live work and establish a community of their own in the growing city of Los Angeles

West of Jim Crow Lynn M. Hudson, 2020-09-28 African Americans who moved to California in hopes of finding freedom and full citizenship instead faced all too familiar racial segregation. As one transplant put it, "The only difference between Pasadena and Mississippi is the way they are spelled." From the beaches to streetcars to schools, the Golden State in contrast to its reputation for tolerance perfected many methods of controlling people of color. Lynn M. Hudson deepens our understanding of the practices that African Americans in the West deployed to dismantle Jim Crow in the quest for civil rights prior to the 1960s. Faced with institutionalized racism, black Californians used both established and improvised tactics to resist and survive the state's color line. Hudson rediscovers forgotten stories like the experimental all-black community of Allensworth, the California Ku Klux Klan's campaign of terror against African Americans, the bitter struggle to integrate public swimming pools in Pasadena and elsewhere, and segregationists' preoccupation with gender and sexuality.

A Theory of Prudence Dale Dorsey, 2021-04-08 Much of knowing what to do is knowing what to do for ourselves, but knowing how to act in our best interest is complex. We must know what benefits us, what burdens us, and how these facts present and constitute considerations in favor of action. Additionally, we must know how we should weigh our interests at different times: past, present, and future. Dale Dorsey argues that a theory of prudence is needed: a theory of how we ought to act when we are acting for ourselves. A Theory of Prudence provides a comprehensive account of prudence, including the metaethics of prudential value, the nature of the personal good, the reasons of prudence, and the structure of prudential normativity over time.

African Americans in the West Douglas Flamming, 2009-06-22 Based on the latest research, this work provides a new look at the lives of African Americans in the Western United States from the colonial era to the present. From colonial times to the present, this volume captures the experiences of the westward migration of African Americans. Based on the latest research, it offers a fresh look at the many ways African Americans influenced and were influenced by the development of the U.S. frontier. African Americans in the West covers the rise of the slave trade to its expansion into what was at the time the westernmost United States, from the post-Civil War migrations, including the Exodusters who fled the South for Kansas in 1879, to the mid-20th century civil rights movement, which saw many critical events take place in the West, from the organization of the Black Panthers in Oakland to the tragic Watts riots in Los Angeles.

Yearbook on International Investment Law & Policy 2014-2015 Andrea K. Bjorklund, 2016-09-30 Several themes emerge in this 2014-2015 edition of the Yearbook. The first is a notable focus on country and region-specific developments. Different articles focus on key developments in such countries as Australia, Brazil, China, Ghana, India, Indonesia, Russia, and South Africa. Others focus on regional innovations, in particular in Latin America. A second area of attention is reform and proposals for reform in investor-state dispute settlement and in investment law generally. The third theme is the continued concern about states' regulatory autonomy and the importance of their retaining ability to protect the interests of their nationals. A fourth theme concerns the continued contribution that investment arbitration makes to the development of international law and the influence that it is starting to have on other areas of law, whether that is as a source of inspiration in the interpretation of other norms or as a source of potentially powerful persuasive authority given the teeth that investment law has with respect to enforcement Included are the winning memorials of the FDI Moot for both 2014 and 2015 In 2014 a team from the University of Ottawa submitted the winning claimant s memorial while students from Harvard Law School submitted the winning respondent s memorial In 2015 Harvard repeated its stellar performance again winning best respondent s memorial The winning claimant s memorial in 2015 was submitted by students from the National and Kapodistrian University of Athens These excellent memorials reveal once again the growing interest of students in international investment law and demonstrate a striving for excellence and an enthusiasm for grappling with intellectually challenging issues

Bridges of Reform Shana Bernstein,2011 Living the California Dream Alison Rose Jefferson,2022 Alison Rose Jefferson examines how African Americans pioneered America s frontier of leisure by creating communities and business projects in conjunction with their growing population in Southern California during the nation s Jim Crow era To Live and Defy in LA Felicia Angeja Viator,2020-02-25 In its early days rap was understood as the poetry of the inner city which usually meant New York Few expected anything as hard edged as gangsta rap to emerge from Los Angeles home of surf and sun Felicia Viator tells the story of LA s self styled ghetto reporters whose music forced America to see an urban crisis it preferred to ignore We Now Belong to Ourselves Arianne Edmonds,2025-06-02 At the turn of the twentieth century the Black press provided a blueprint to help Black Americans transition from slavery and find opportunities to advance and prosper in American society Among the vanguard of the Black press was Jefferson Lewis Edmonds founder and editor of The Liberator newspaper He was born into slavery in Mississippi but as a liberated adult moved to Los Angeles and became a civil rights advocate farmer and journalist We Now Belong to Ourselves chronicles how Edmonds and other pioneering Black publishers documented the shifting tides in the advancement of Black liberation Written by Edmonds great great granddaughter the book argues that the Black press was central in transforming Black Americans communication patterns constructing national resistance networks and defining Black citizenship after Reconstruction a vision mission and spirit that persists today through Black online social movements

Race and the War on Poverty Robert Bauman, 2014-10-22 President Lyndon B Johnson's War on Poverty did more than offer aid to needy Americans in some cities it also sparked both racial conflict and cooperation Race and the War on Poverty examines the African American and Mexican American community organizations in Los Angeles that emerged to implement War on Poverty programs It explores how organizers applied democratic vision and political savvy to community action and how the ongoing African American Chicano and feminist movements in turn shaped the contours of the War on Poverty's goals programs and cultural identity Robert Bauman describes how the Watts riots of 1965 accelerated the creation of a black community controlled agency the Watts Labor Community Action Committee The example of the WLCAC combined with a burgeoning Chicano movement inspired Mexican Americans to create The East Los Angeles Community Union TELACU and the Chicana Service Action Center Bauman explores the connections that wove together the War on Poverty the Watts revolt and local movements in ways that empowered the participants economically culturally and politically Although heated battles over race and other cultural issues sometimes derailed the programs these organizations produced lasting positive effects for the communities they touched Despite Nixon era budget cuts and the nation's turn toward conservatism the War on Poverty continues to be fought today as these agencies embrace the changing politics economics and demographics of Los Angeles Race and the War on Poverty shows how the struggle to end poverty evolved in ways that would have surprised its planners supporters and detractors and that what began as a grand vision at the national level continues to thrive on the streets of the community

Immigrant Acts On Asian American Cultural Politics We so greatly needed this panorama of information and analysis Finally we have an author putting the pieces together with commitment enthusiasm and a view to the future Elizabeth Betita Martinez activist and author of 500 Years of Chicano History 500 A os del Pueblo Chicano Black Americans and the Civil Rights Movement in the West Bruce A. Glasrud, Cary D. Wintz, 2019-02-14 In 1927 Beatrice Cannady succeeded in removing racist language from the Oregon Constitution During World War II Rowena Moore fought for the right of black women to work in Omaha s meat packinghouses In 1942 Thelma Paige used the courts to equalize the salaries of black and white schoolteachers across Texas In 1950 Lucinda Todd of Topeka laid the groundwork for the landmark Supreme Court decision Brown v Board of Education These actions including sit ins long before the Greensboro sit ins of 1960 occurred well beyond the borders of the American South and East regions most known as the home of the civil rights movement By considering social justice efforts in western cities and states Black Americans and the Civil Rights Movement in the West convincingly integrates the West into the historical narrative of black Americans struggle for civil rights From Iowa and Minnesota to the Pacific Northwest and from Texas to the Dakotas black westerners initiated a wide array of civil rights activities in the early to late twentieth century Connected to national struggles as much as they were tailored to local situations these efforts predated or prefigured events in the East and South In this collection editors Bruce A Glasrud and Cary D Wintz bring these moments into sharp focus as the contributors note the ways in which the racial and ethnic diversity of the West shaped a specific kind of African American activism Concentrating on the far West the mountain states the desert Southwest the upper Midwest and states both southern and western the contributors examine black westerners responses to racism in its various manifestations whether as school segregation in Dallas job discrimination in Seattle or housing bias in San Francisco Together their essays establish in unprecedented detail how efforts to challenge discrimination impacted and changed the West and ultimately the United States The Contested Murder of Latasha Harlins Brenda Stevenson, 2013-08-15 In this book Stevenson explores the long simmering resentment within LA s black community that ultimately erupted in April 1992 by focusing on an preceding event that encapsulated the growing racial and social polarization in the city over the course of the 1980s and early 1990s the 1991 shooting of a fifteen year old African American girl Latasha Harlins by a Korean grocer who suspected Harlins of shoplifting A City for Children Marta Gutman, 2014-09-19 American cities are constantly being built and rebuilt resulting in ever changing skylines and neighborhoods While the dynamic urban landscapes of New York Boston and Chicago have been widely studied there is much to be gleaned from west coast cities especially in California where the migration boom at the end of the nineteenth century permanently changed the urban fabric of these newly diverse plural metropolises In A City for Children Marta Gutman focuses on the use and adaptive reuse of everyday buildings in Oakland California to make the city a better place for children She introduces us to the women who were determined to mitigate the burdens placed on working class families by an indifferent industrial capitalist economy Often without the financial means to build from scratch women did not tend to conceive of urban land as a blank slate to be wiped clean for development Instead Gutman shows how over and over women turned private houses in Oakland into orphanages kindergartens settlement houses and day care centers and in the process built the charitable landscape a network of places that was critical for the betterment of children families and public life The industrial landscape of Oakland riddled with the effects of social inequalities and racial prejudices is not a neutral backdrop in Gutman s story but an active player Spanning one hundred years of history A City for Children provides a compelling model for building urban institutions and demonstrates that children women charity and incremental construction renovations alterations additions and repurposed structures are central to the understanding of modern cities
