

The background image shows a coastal scene. On the left, there is a building with a dark roof and a small dome on top. A white picket fence runs along the foreground, separating the building from a body of water. The sky is clear and blue. The text 'SHEPARD OF AINTAB' is overlaid on the right side of the image.

Class of 1914,1914 The Lions of Marash Stanley Elphinstone Kerr,1973-01-01 The Lions of Marash is an eye witness account by an American Near East Relief official of the tragic events which resulted in the annihilation of the Armenian population of Marash in Central Anatolia following World War I On 10 February 1920 the French garrison at Marash withdrew abruptly under cover of darkness thus abandoning more than twenty thousand Armenians to the Turkish Nationalist forces The French pullout caused considerable embarrassment in Paris and roused a storm of angry protest in England and the United States but for the Armenians of Marash and all of Cilicia it led to renewed massacre and to final exodus American philanthropy administered through Near East Relief successor organization to the American Committee for Relief in the Near East saved thousands of starving Armenian women and children from Turkish marauders Workshops and other rehabilitative establishments built by ACRNE and NER slightly mitigated the bitter disappointments arising from the American refusal to ensure the Armenian people a collective future by accepting a protective mandate over the independent Armenian state that had been sanctioned by the Paris Peace

Conference In Cilicia NER worked among the repatriates for four years and after the total Armenian exodus in 1922 attempted to assist the refugee throngs to resettle in Syria Lebanon Palestine and other lands of the Middle East Among the scores of men and women who responded to the ACRNE call for volunteers in 1919 was Stanley E Kerr then an officer in the United States Army Sanitary Corps First serving at Aleppo in a multiplicity of positions including clinical biochemist and photographer Kerr transferred in the autumn of 1919 to Marash where he took charge of American relief operations after the French withdrawal In view of the fact that many Turks regarded the Americans as collaborators with the French and Armenians it was at no small risk that Kerr and his courageous colleagues stayed at their posts to help the thousands of Armenians whom the French had deserted Indeed the uncertainties of a hostage like existence did not end until Kerr departed for Beirut with the last caravan of Armenian orphans in 1922 Now fifty years after leaving Cilicia Dr Kerr presents his account of the happenings of Marash Although his personal experiences form the basis for narrative the author has also utilized the studies and memoirs of French officers and priests Turkish military historians and Armenian survivors particularly prominent Protestant and Catholic spokesmen The Michigan Alumnus ,1921 In v 1 8 the final number consists of the Commencement annual Mission Studies ,1909 The Congregationalist and Advance ,1919 Report American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions,1913 The Congregationalist ,1921 Underlined While Reading-3 Sezai ARLI, I was born in December 1954 or January 1955 when the first snow fell as the third child of a Kurdish family living in a remote village of Eastern Turkey My father died of tuberculosis at the age of 31 when I was six years old My mother was 34 never married again dedicated her life to her children From the moment I learned how to read and write I became a passionate reader of the books books of literature books of history books of travel books of philosophy books of memoirs books of biographies books of politics This book contains some of the excerpts that I noted while reading Excerpts of wisdom and reflection from Barack Obama to Haji Ali Nurmadhar of Korphe Village in Karakoram from Edward Gibbon to Abdul Sattar Edhi Pakistani Philanthropist Excerpts on life on love on humanity on civilization on courage on art on ideas on faith on democracy on freedom on nations on education on war on peace Just a few short examples For only in death are we alone Rabindranath Tagore Sir that all who are happy are equally happy is not true A peasant and a philosopher may be equally satisfied but not equally happy Happiness consists in the multiplicity of agreeable consciousness Samuel Jonson Serious literature is no less of a life preserver even if the society is all but oblivious of it Philip Roth It bothers me a little that at 99 you re going to die any minute because I have a lot of other things I want to do Delmer Berg Sezai Arli Doha November 2020 Moslem World ,1917 The Missionary Review ,1904 Annual Report of the Hawaiian Mission Children's Society Hawaiian Mission Children's Society,1904 Life and Light for Woman ,1916 Galloway of Buraan E. M. Clifford,2022-01-27 The Reverend David Simcox Galloway an American Presbyterian educator and clergyman is seeking to establish a secondary school for boys in what is now southeastern Turkey at the border with Syria This is the story of two eventful weeks one in March 1910 and the other in September 1925 In 1910 he is struggling just to prepare a proposal to create the school In 1925 the new campus is ready and about to open Diligent quiet well intentioned and idealistic Galloway often feels overwhelmed by the challenges of life and work on the mission field He encounters violence cultural friction illness isolation and loss and sometimes unexpected satisfaction and joy This narrative represents post colonial critiques of mission while also embodying the way Christians of the time lived their faith expressed themselves and observed the norms of their social context The novel tells a compelling personal story while digging into issues of intercultural encounter indigenous agency vernacularization interfaith relations gender roles in mission the advent of modernity mission philanthropy in that era and the effects of imperialism in the Middle East David Galloway reconsiders many of his assumptions over the time span of this story

Night on Earth Davide Rodogno, 2021-12-09 Night on Earth is a broad ranging account of international humanitarian programs in Central and Eastern Europe the Balkans and the Near East from 1918 to 1930 Davide Rodogno shows that international relief and development were intertwined long before the birth of the United Nations with humanitarians operating in a region devastated by war and famine and in which state sovereignty was deficient Influenced by colonial motivations and ideologies these humanitarians attempted to reshape entire communities and nations through reconstruction and rehabilitation programmes The book draws on the activities of a wide range of secular and religious organisations and philanthropic foundations in the US and Europe including the American Relief Administration the American Red Cross the Quakers Save the Children the Near East Relief the American Women s Hospitals the League of Nations and the International Committee of the Red Cross
