Fighting Ships of the Far East (1) Stephen Turnbull, 2012-06-20 Fighting Ships of the Far East 1 adds enormously to the hitherto small corpus of knowledge about a fascinating and little known subject Using detailed descriptions accurate cutaway plates and reliable historical examples this book covers the history of Chinese ship design and naval warfare from the beginning of the Han dynasty to the first few years of the Ming dynasty The epic battle of Lake Poyang in 1363 won by the man who was to become the first Ming Emperor is also detailed China's Evolving Surface Fleet Peter Dutton, Ryan D. Martinson, 2017 Over the past fifteen years the People's Liberation Army Navy's PLAN's missile fast attack craft and amphibious fleets have been significantly modernized While these two types of vessels have not increased in numbers their capabilities have increased exponentially This publication examines the People's Liberation Army's PLA's doctrine and training strategy in order to analyze present and predict future missions by these military vessels China's deterrence posture is improved greatly by these ships and boats which aid coastal water defense and threaten Taiwanese attempts to gain independence In addition these two fleets improve China's long range sealift capabilities and help with the PLA's traditional and new nontraditional security practices These fleets allow the PLAN to continue offshore operations and begin blue water or far seas operations helping the United States to predict the future nature of Chinese maritime missions Related items China collection of publications can be found here <https://bookstore.gpo.gov/catalog/china> Chinese Military Reforms in the Age of Xi Jinping Drivers Challenges and Implications can be found here <https://bookstore.gpo.gov/products/chinese-military-reforms-age-xi-jinping-drivers-challenges-and-implications> Indian and Chinese Engagement in Latin America and the Caribbean A Comparative Assessment can be found here <https://bookstore.gpo.gov/products/indian-and-chinese-engagement-latin-america-and-caribbean> U S Landpower in the South China Sea can be found here <https://bookstore.gpo.gov/products/us-landpower-south-china-sea> British Ships in China Seas Richard Harding, Adrian Jarvis, Alston Kennerley, 2004 Papers presented at a conference held at the Merseyside Maritime Museum in September 2002 organised jointly by the Society for Nautical Research and National Museums on Merseyside Ships of China Valentin A. Sokoloff, 1982-05 History of Transportation in China Zhi Dao, The book provides highlights on the key concepts and trends of evolution in the History of Transportation in China as one of the series of books of China Classified Histories Chinese Naval Shipbuilding Andrew S. Erickson, 2017-02-15 China's shipbuilding industry has grown more rapidly than any other in modern history Commercial shipbuilding output jumped thirteen fold from 2002-12 ensuring that Beijing has largely reached its goal of becoming the world's leading shipbuilder Yet progress is uneven with military shipbuilding leading overall but with significant weakness in propulsion and electronics for military and civilian applications It has never been more important to assess what ships China can supply its navy and other maritime forces with today and in the future Chinese Naval Shipbuilding answers three pressing questions What are China's prospects for success in key areas of naval shipbuilding What are the likely results for

China's navy What are the implications for the U S Navy To address these critical issues this volume assembles some of the world's leading experts and linguistic analysts often pairing them in research teams These sailors scholars industry professionals and government specialists have commanded ships at sea led shipbuilding programs ashore toured Chinese vessels and production facilities invested in Chinese shipyards and analyzed and presented important data to top level decision makers in times of crisis In synthesizing their collective insights this book fills a key gap in our understanding of China its shipbuilding industry its navy and what it all means China's Naval Power Yves-Heng Lim,2016-05-23 The rapid modernization of the Chinese Navy is a well documented reality of the post Cold War world In two decades the People's Liberation Army Navy has evolved from a backward force composed of obsolete platforms into a reasonably modern fleet whose growth is significantly shaking the naval balance in East Asia The rationale behind China's contemporary rise at sea remains however difficult to grasp and few people have tried to see how the current structure of the international system has shaped Chinese choices This book makes sense of Chinese priorities in its naval modernization in a robust offensive realist framework Drawing on Barry Posen's works on sources of military doctrine it argues that the orientation of Beijing's choices concerning its naval forces can essentially be explained by China's position as a potential regional hegemon Yves Heng Lim highlights how a rising state develops naval power to fulfil its security objectives a theoretical perspective that goes farther than the sole Chinese case The Directory & Chronicle of China, Japan, Straits Settlements, Malaya, Borneo, Siam, the Philippines, Korea, Indo-China, Netherlands Indies, Etc ,1889 Treaties Between the Empire of China and Foreign Powers China,1906 China Surface Warships Luis Ayala,2019-07-30 China Surface Warships 2019 2020 Color photos of active Chinese PLA Navy Surface Warships Recently it was announced that China's PLA Navy now has more ships 300 than the U S Navy 287 This book covers the bulk of Beijing's Navy including destroyers frigates and corvettes These categories have seen more growth since 2005 than any other The rapid growth of ships in these categories is in keeping with the Military Strategy China released in 2015 which states the PLA Navy PLAN will gradually shift its focus from offshore waters defense to the combination of offshore waters defense with open seas protection and build a combined multi functional and efficient marine combat force structure The launching of new ships is in addition to retiring very old ships pre 1990 and modernizing ships build after that U S Navy ships are larger and the U S has more aircraft carriers China has one active one being fitted out and 2 or 3 being built We plan to go into China's aircraft carriers in depth in another book in the fall if there is enough interest This book does not go into the ships of the PLA Navy Reserve Force the People's Armed Police PAP or the China Militia Those could be another book if there is enough interest Let us know if we should print these by logging into our web site and sending a comment USGOVPUB.COM Maritime Power and China's Grand Strategy Anil Kumar Chawla,2024-12-23 This book examines the role of maritime power in the Chinese Dream of becoming the pre eminent global power by 2049 a century after the establishment of the People's Republic of China PRC The book argues that China seeks to use its maritime power as part of its quest to attain Great Power status by employing it to these areas provide deterrence in the maritime domain assure availability of resources protecting its sea lines of communication and in the economic domination of specific developing countries in Asia Africa Oceania and South America Based on a careful examination of primary sources especially China s defence white papers and essential works on the topic by prominent Chinese military analysts and institutions the author systematically unpacks interpretations and analysis of China s evolving concepts of maritime power The book traces China s development and use of maritime power over its long recorded history especially from the time it became the People s Republic of China 1950 to the present 2024 and links the country s maritime past with the present A comprehensive and detailed study of the evolution of Chinese concepts of maritime power and how it forms an important part of the rejuvenation of the nation and the projection of China as a global power by mid century this book will be of interest to researchers studying Asian and Chinese Studies Military Studies and policy makers at think tanks and government agencies

China's Gambit Ketian Zhang,2023-12-14 Emerging from an award winning article in International Security China s Gambit examines when why and how China attempts to coerce states over perceived threats to its national security Since 1990 China has used coercion for territorial disputes and issues related to Taiwan and Tibet yet China is curiously selective in the timing target and tools of coercion This book offers a new and generalizable cost balancing theory to explain states coercion decisions It demonstrates that China does not coerce frequently and uses military coercion less when it becomes stronger resorting primarily to non militarized tools Leveraging rich empirical evidence including primary Chinese documents and interviews with Chinese and foreign officials this book explains how contemporary rising powers translate their power into influence and offers a new framework for explaining states coercion decisions in an era of economic interdependence particularly how contemporary global economic interdependence affects rising powers foreign security policies

The Impact of Chinese Naval Modernization on the Future of the United States Navy Ronald O'Rourke,2006 China s rapidly developing military capabilities have forced US policy makers to reconsider their own military infrastructure The primary concern of this book is to examine how China's military modernisation will be factored into decisions about US Navy programs Several elements of China's military modernisation have potential implications for future required US Navy capabilities These include theatre range ballistic missiles TBMs land attack cruise missiles LACMs anti ship cruise missiles ASCMs surface to air missiles SAMs land based aircraft submarines surface combatants amphibious ships naval mines nuclear weapons and possibly high power microwave HPM devices This book will examine how these elements and others will influence the future of the United States Navy
