Motion Pictures From the Fabulous 1960's Terry Rowan, 2015-08-15 A comprehensive film guide featuring films, directors, actors and actresses from the sixties. New York Times Film Reviews, 1992. The Encyclopedia of Best Films Jay Robert Nash, 2019-10-23 This all-inclusive A-Z encyclopedia by one of the world's foremost experts on cinema provides comprehensive annotations of the best films produced from 1914 on. The work offers more than 5,000 three to five star entries: three stars good, four stars excellent, five stars masterpiece and yes, author Jay Robert Nash has viewed every single one of them as well as many more that did not make the cut. In addition to a precis, each film's entry also includes a listing of the cast as well as the key principles involved in production from the director to the hair stylist. Especially unique to this book is a rating system that helps parents determine whether or not a film is appropriate for their children. Unlike the industry rating system which can be influenced by studio lobbying, Nash objectively evaluates each film and confers upon it one of four recommendations: for viewing, recommended, acceptable, cautionary and unacceptable. Backmatter includes a list of top films by genre: i.e. animated, drama, sports, mystery, adventure etc. as well as an annotated name index listing all persons mentioned along with their dates of birth and death. Rounding out this essential volume for the film buff are over 500 still photos from the author's private collection.

The Disney Films Leonard Maltin, 2000 The fourth edition substantially updated and revised of Leonard Maltin's classic account of Walt Disney's career and analysis of the huge library of Disney films. Maltin presents a fascinating overview of every Disney film, both animated and live action, and includes plot summaries, production credits and critical commentaries for every movie released under Disney's leadership. Essential for all Disney fans. New York Magazine, 1987-12-07 New York magazine was born in 1968 after a run as an insert of the New York Herald Tribune and quickly made a place for itself as the trusted resource for readers across the country. With award-winning writing and photography covering everything from politics and food to theater and fashion, the magazine's consistent mission has been to reflect back to its audience the energy and excitement of the city itself while celebrating New York as both a place and an idea.

Exhibitors Daily Review, 1961. "Keep 'Em in the East" Richard Koszarski, 2021-07-20 The year 1955 was a watershed one for New York's film industry. Elia Kazan's On the Waterfront took home eight Oscars and more quietly Stanley Kubrick released the low budget classic Killer's Kiss. A wave of films that changed how American movies were made soon followed, led by directors such as Sidney Lumet, William Friedkin, Francis Ford Coppola and Martin Scorsese. Yet this resurgence could not have occurred without a deeply rooted tradition of local film production. Richard Koszarski chronicles the compelling and often surprising origins of New York's postwar film renaissance looking beyond such classics as Naked City Kiss of Death and Portrait of Jennie He examines the social cultural and economic forces that shaped New York filmmaking from city politics to union regulations and shows how decades of low budget independent production taught local filmmakers how to capture the city's grit liveliness and allure He reveals the importance of race films all Black productions intended for segregated African American audiences that not only helped keep the film business afloat but also nurtured a core group of writers directors designers and technicians Detailed production histories of On the Waterfront and Killer's Kiss films that appear here in a completely new light illustrate the distinctive characteristics of New York cinema Drawing on a vast array of research including studio libraries censorship records union archives and interviews with participants Keep Em in the East rewrites a crucial chapter in the history of American cinema
