A Pedagogy of Possibility Kay Halasek, 1999 The author reconceives composition studies from a Bakhtinian perspective focusing on both the discipline's theoretical assumptions and its pedagogies Halasek explores the implications of Bakhtin's work and provides a model of scholarship balanced between practice and theory Beyond Conversation William Duffy, 2021-01-04 Collaboration was an important area of study in writing for many years but interest faded as scholars began to assume that those working within writing studies already got it In Beyond Conversation William Duffy revives the topic and connects it to the growing interest in collaboration within digital and materialist rhetoric to demonstrate that not only do the theory pedagogy and practice of collaboration need more study but there is also much to be learned from the doing of collaboration While interrogating the institutional politics that circulate around debates about collaboration this book offers a concise history of collaborative writing theory while proposing a new set of commonplaces for understanding the labor of coauthorship Specifically Beyond Conversation outlines an interactionist theory that explains collaboration as the rhetorical capacity that manifests in the discursive engagements coauthors enter into with the objects of their writing Drawing on new materialist philosophies post qualitative inquiry and interactionist rhetorical theory Beyond Conversation challenges writing and literacy educators to recognize the pedagogical benefits of collaborative writing in the work they do both as writers and as teachers of writing The book will reinvigorate how teachers scholars and administrators advocate for the importance of

collaborative writing in their work      Dialogue on Writing Geraldine DeLuca, Len Fox, Mark -Ameen Johnson, Myra Kogen, Geri DeLuca, 2013-06-17 This primary textbook for courses on theories methods of teaching at the college writing level brings together seminal articles followed by questions for reflection writing and discussion      Landmark Essays on Writing Centers Christina Murphy, Joe Law, 2013-10-18 This collection introduces the reader to the ideas that have shaped writing center theory and practice The essays have been selected not only for the insight they offer into issues but also for their contributions to writing center scholarship These papers help to chart the legitimization of writing centers by providing both a history and an examination of the philosophies praxis and politics that have defined this emerging field They demonstrate the ways a clearer profile of the discipline has emerged from the research and reflection of writers like those represented here This volume charts the emergence of writing centers and the growing recognition of their contributions roles and importance As a nascent discipline writing centers reflect the concerns with marginality and with finding a respected place in the academy that characterize any new field of academic inquiry practice and research Concomitantly professionals in these fields seek standing within the academy and a way of defining and validating their contributions to the educational process Contemporary writing center theorists look to interdisciplinary and multidisciplinary investigations to interpret the work they do and to clarify their aims to the academy at large Their work employs a variety of philosophical perspectives ranging from sociolinguistics to psychoanalytic theory to show the complex nature and potential of writing center interactions The idea has now become the multidimensional realities of the writing center within the academy and within society as a whole What its role will be in future redefinitions of the educational process how that role will be negotiated and evaluated and how professionals will shape educational values will constitute the future landmark directions and essays on writing center theory and practice      Writing from the Margins Carolyn Ericksen Hill, 1990      Vernacular Eloquence Peter Elbow, 2012-01-13 Since the publication of his groundbreaking books Writing Without Teachers and Writing with Power Peter Elbow has revolutionized how people think about writing Now in Vernacular Eloquence he makes a vital new contribution to both practice and theory The core idea is simple we can enlist virtues from the language activity most people find easiest speaking for the language activity most people find hardest writing Speech with its spontaneity naturalness of expression and fluidity of thought has many overlooked linguistic and rhetorical merits Through several easy to employ techniques writers can marshal this wisdom of the tongue to produce stronger clearer more natural writing This simple idea it turns out has deep repercussions Our culture of literacy Elbow argues functions as though it were a plot against the spoken voice the human body vernacular language and those without privilege making it harder than necessary to write with comfort or power Giving speech a central role in writing overturns many empty preconceptions It causes readers to think critically about the relationship between speech writing and our notion of literacy Developing the political implications behind Elbow's previous books Vernacular Eloquence makes a compelling case that strengthening writing and democratizing it go hand in hand

Teachers, Discourses, and Authority in the Postmodern Composition Classroom Xin Liu Gale,1996-01-01

Examines the teacher's role and the teacher's authority in postmodern academic settings The Construction of Authorship Martha Woodmansee, Peter Jaszi, 1994 What is an author? What is a text? At a time when the definition of text is expanding and the technology whereby texts are produced and disseminated is changing at an explosive rate, the ways authorship is defined and rights conferred upon authors must also be reconsidered. This volume argues that contemporary copyright law, rooted as it is in a nineteenth-century Romantic understanding of the author as a solitary creative genius, may be inapposite to the realities of cultural production. Drawing together distinguished scholars from literature, law, and the social sciences, the volume explores the social and cultural construction of authorship as a step toward redefining notions of authorship and copyright for today's world. These essays, illustrating cultural studies in action, are aggressively interdisciplinary and wide-ranging in topic and approach. Questions of collective and collaborative authorship in both contemporary and early modern contexts are addressed. Other topics include moral theory and authorship; copyright and the balance between competing interests of authors and the public; problems of international copyright; musical sampling and its impact on fair use doctrine; cinematic authorship; quotation and libel; alternative views of authorship as exemplified by nineteenth-century women's clubs and by the Renaissance commonplace book; authorship in relation to broadcast media and to the teaching of writing; and the material dimension of authorship as demonstrated by Milton's publishing contract. Contributors: Rosemary J. Coombe, Margreta de Grazia, Marvin D. Lugo, John Feather, N. N. Feltes, Ann Ruggles Gere, Peter Jaszi, Gerhard Joseph, Peter Lindenbaum, Andrea A. Lunsford, and Lisa Ede, Jeffrey A. Masten, Thomas Pfau, Monroe E. Price, and Malla Pollack, Mark Rose, Marlon B. Ross, David Sanjek, Thomas Streeter, Jim Swan, Max W. Thomas, Martha Woodmansee, Alfred C. Yen. Writing Rhetorically Jennifer Fletcher, 2023-10-10 In Writing Rhetorically: Fostering Responsive Thinkers and Communicators, author Jennifer Fletcher aims to cultivate independent learners through rhetorical thinking. She provides teachers with strategies and frameworks for writing instruction that can be applied across multiple subjects and lesson plans. Students learn to discover their own questions, design their own inquiry process, develop their own positions and purposes, make their own choices about content and form, and contribute to conversations that matter to them. Inside this book, Fletcher helps remove some of the scaffolding and explains how to put in practice some methods which can successfully foster Inquiry, Invention, and Rhetorical Thinking. Writing for Transfer: Paraphrasing, Summary, Synthesis, and Citation Skills, Research Skills and Processes, Evidence-Based Reasoning, Rhetorical Decision Making. Rhetorical decision making helps students develop the skills, knowledge, and mindsets needed for transfer of learning: the ability to adapt and apply learning in new settings. The more choices students make as writers, the better prepared they are to analyze and respond to diverse rhetorical situations. Writing Rhetorically shows teachers what it looks like to dig into real texts with students and novice writers and how it develops them for lifelong learning. Inspired to Write Teacher's Manual Jean Withrow, Gay Brookes, Martha Clark Cummings, 2005-04-11

Contains step by step instructions advice and possible answers for every activity      Teaching Toward Freedom Geraldine DeLuca, 2018-04-09 Teaching Toward Freedom Supporting Voices and Silence in the English Classroom promotes teaching and learning that celebrate diversity and community through the systematic integration of traditionally non academic voices and mindfulness based contemplative practices By examining current scholarship and discussing novels and memoirs whose power is tied to freedom of expression this book argues that teachers should allow students to use and explore the various rhetorical registers that they bring to the classroom Through an innovative combination of narrative argument and literary analysis the book skillfully connects conversations about linguistic diversity and contemplative approaches in order to foster a compassionate space for learning in the college level English classroom      A Guide to Creating Student-staffed Writing Centers, Grades 6-12 Richard Kent, 2006 Writing centers are places where writers work with each other in an effort to develop ideas discover a thesis overcome procrastination create an outline or revise a draft Ultimately writing centers help students become more effective writers Visit any college or university in the United States and chances are there is a writing center available to students staff and community members A Guide to Creating Student Staffed Writing Centers Grades 6 12 is a how to and ultimately a why to book for middle school and high school educators as well as for English language arts teacher candidates and their methods instructors Writing centers support students and their busy teachers while emphasizing and supporting writing across the curriculum      Singular Texts/plural Authors Lisa S. Ede, Andrea A. Lunsford, 1992 Why write together the authors ask They answer that question here in the first book to combine theoretical and historical explorations with actual research on collaborative and group writing Lisa Ede and Andrea Lunsford challenge the assumption that writing is a solitary act That challenge is grounded in their own personal experience as long term collaborators and in their extensive research including a three stage study of collaborative writing supported by the Fund for the Improvement of Post Secondary Education The authors urge a fundamental change in our institutions to accommodate collaboration by radically resituating power in the classroom and by instituting rewards for collaborative work that equal rewards for single authored work They conclude with the injunction Today and in the twenty first century our data suggest writers must be able to work together They must in short be able to collaborate      Gamification in the RhetComp Curriculum Christopher McGunnigle, 2023-01-17 Gamification is an up and coming popular trend in all levels and types of education including public and private schools higher education the military the private sector and elsewhere Gamification introduces aspects of game design like teamwork competition rewards and prizes storytelling and more into lesson plan units In many cases actual games whether it be Scrabble Hangman Candy Crush Dungeons Dragons and many others are adapted into educational tools This chapter collection will specifically look at the use of gamification techniques in Freshmen Writing courses and related Composition Writing and Rhetoric classes Each chapter will provide sample gamified lessons supported by relevant scholarship in both Gamification Theory and Writing Studies      Center Will Hold Michael

Pemberton,2003-12-01 In The Center Will Hold Pemberton and Kinkead have compiled a major volume of essays on the signal issues of scholarship that have established the writing center field and that the field must successfully address in the coming decade The new century opens with new institutional demographic and financial challenges and writing centers in order to hold and extend their contribution to research teaching and service must continuously engage those challenges Appropriately the editors offer the work of Muriel Harris as a key pivot point in the emergence of writing centers as sites of pedagogy and research The volume develops themes that Harris first brought to the field and contributors here offer explicit recognition of the role that Harris has played in the development of writing center theory and practice But they also use her work as a springboard from which to provide reflective descriptive and predictive looks at the field Writing in the Undergraduate Sociology Curriculum Kay Stokes,2002 Communication Centers Kathleen J. Turner,Theodore F. Sheckels,2015-01-12 Communication Centers A Theory Based Guide to Training and Management offers advice based on extant research and best practices to both faculty who are asked to develop a communication center and for directors of established centers Broken into easily understood parts Turner and Sheckels begin with the development of communication centers offering guidance on the history of centers how to start a center and in a contribution by Kyle Love creative approaches to marketing They provide a communication perspective on selecting and training tutors and then address how to train the tutors in their tasks of helping students with invention disposition style memory and delivery as well as presentation aids including consideration of special situations and diverse populations The authors explore ways to broaden the vision for communication centers and conclude with chapters on techniques for assessment by Marlene Preston and on the rich rhetorical roots of communication centers by Linda Hobgood The volume concludes with appendixes on guidelines for directors and for certification of tutor training programs Communication Centers is a valuable resource for scholars in any stage of developing or improving a communication center at their university
