Ethics and Aesthetics in Ali Smith's Fiction José I. Prieto-Arranz,2025-08-04 This study offers a fresh perspective on Ali Smith s work analysing her fiction through a truly interdisciplinary lens Jos I Prieto Arranz explores Smith's engagement with contemporary issues such as digital violence disinformation pornography nationalism climate change discrimination and social fracture Simultaneously this book examines Smith's unique stylistic choices including her use of magical realism intertextuality and intermediality to reveal the intricate connection between the ethical and aesthetic dimensions of her novels Through close readings of Smith's novels from Like a Companion Piece enriched with insights from her prolific short fiction the author demonstrates how Smith constructs a text continuum revealing recurrent themes and stylistic choices that underline her firm belief in the transformative power of fiction and by extension art This book will appeal to scholars of contemporary literature art theory political science sociology and cultural studies and anyone interested in literature and social commentary Louise Erdrich's Love Medicine Hertha Dawn Wong, 2000 This is a casebook on Louise Erdrich's first novel Love Medicine which came out in 1984 to instant national acclaim winning a National Book Circle Critics Award and launching a tetralogy which it would take Erdrich ten years to complete John Fowles's Fiction and the Poetics of Postmodernism Mahmoud Salami, 1992 Salami presents for instance a critique of the self-conscious narrative of the diary form in The Collector the intertextual relations of the multiplicity of voices the problems of subjectivity the reader's position the politics of seduction ideology and history in The Magus and The French Lieutenant's Woman The book also analyzes the ways in which Fowles uses and abuses the short story genre in which enigmas remain enigmatic and the author disappears to leave the characters free to construct their own texts Salami centers for example on A Maggot which embodies the postmodernist technique of dialogical narrative the problem of narrativization of history and the explicitly political critique of both past and present in terms of social and religious dissent These political questions are also echoed in Fowles's nonfictional book The Aristos in which he strongly rejects the totalization of narratives and the materialization of society Manual of the Art of Fiction Clayton Meeker Hamilton, 1918 The Oxford History of the Novel in English Cyrus R. K. Patell, Deborah Lindsay Williams, 2024-03-05 The Oxford History of the Novel in English is a twelve volume series presenting a comprehensive global and up to date history of English language prose fiction written by a large international team of scholars The series is concerned with novels as a whole not just the literary novel and each volume includes chapters on the processes of production distribution and reception and on popular fiction and the fictional sub genres as well as outlining the work of major novelists movements and tendencies This book offers an account of US fiction during a period demarcated by two traumatic moments the eve of the entry of the United States into the Second World War and the onset of the Covid 19 pandemic The aftermath of the Second World War was arguably the high point of US nationalism but in the years that followed US writers would increasingly explore the possibility that US democracy was a failure both at home and abroad For so many of the writers whose work this volume explores the idea of nation became suspect as did the idea of national literature as the foundation for US writing Looking at post 1940s writing the literary historian might well chart a movement within literary cultures away from nationalism and toward what we would call cosmopolitanism a perspective that fosters conversations between the occupants of different cultural spaces and that regards difference as an opportunity to be embraced rather than a problem to be solved During this period the novel has had significant competition for the US public's attention from other forms of narrative and media film television comic books videogames and the internet and the various forms of social media that it spawned If however the novel becomes a residual form during this period it is by no means archaic The novel has been reinvigorated over the past eighty years by its encounters with both emergent forms such as film television comic books and digital media and the emergent voices typically associated with multiculturalism in the United States

The Canadian Short

Story Reingard M. Nischik, 2007 Beginning in the 1890s reaching its first full realization by modernist writers in the 1920s and brought to its heyday during the Canadian Renaissance starting in the 1960s the short story has become Canada's flagship genre It continues to attract the country's most accomplished and innovative writers today among them Margaret Atwood Mavis Gallant Alice Munro Carol Shields and many others Yet in contrast to the stature and popularity of the genre and the writers who partake in it surprisingly little literary criticism and theory has been devoted to the Canadian short story This collection redresses that imbalance by providing the first collection of critical interpretations of a range of thirty well known and often anthologized Canadian short stories from the genre's beginnings through the twentieth century A historical survey of the genre introduces the volume and a timeline comparing the genre's development in Canada the US and Great Britain via representative examples completes it The collection is geared both to specialists in and to students of Canadian literature For the latter it is of particular benefit that the volume provides not only a collection of interpretations but a comprehensive introduction to the history of the Canadian short story Reingard M Nischik is professor and chair of American Literature at the University of Constance Germany

The American Novel

1870-1940 Priscilla Wald, Michael A. Elliott, Jonathan Arac, 2014-02 Witnessing the end of a war that nearly terminated the nation the abolition of racial slavery and rise of legal segregation the rise of Modernism and Hollywood the closing of the frontier and two World Wars the literary historical period represented in this volume constitutes the crucible of American literary history Here 35 essays by top researchers in the field detail how considerations of race and citizenship immigration and assimilation gender and sexuality nationalism and empire all reverberate throughout novels written in the United States between 1870 and 1940 Contributors discuss the professionalization of literary production after the Civil War alongside legal and political debates over segregation and citizenship while chapters on journalism geography religion and immigration offer discussions on everything from the lasting role of literary realism in American fiction to the Spanish American War's effect on developing theories of aesthetics and popular culture The volume offers thorough coverage of the emergence of serial fiction children's fiction crime and detective fiction science fiction and even cinema and comics as new media and artistic revolutions like the Harlem Renaissance helped usher in the new international aesthetic movement of Modernism The final chapters in the volume explore the relationship of the novel to the emergence of American literature as a category in the academy in public criticism and journalism and in mass culture

The wax Statue and Other Stories Rafat Farzana

,2022-10-17 THE WAX STATUE AND OTHER STORIES is a translated version of the short stories written by Jeelani Bano She is one of the most reputed literary figures in SAWSNET known for her supremacy in exposing the flaws of society before the readers Jeelani Bano keeps the pedal to the metal Her stories are a mirror of the society of those days which are relevant even today Her stories like Moum ki Maryam won great acclaim by the readers and literary men of that age In her stories she explores the diaspora feelings and the exploitation of the poor She is a critic of social evils her vim and vigour portrays the misery and suffering of women in a male dominated society Her stories are solely objective She is never didactic in her tone and allows the readers to judge Her approach is multidimensional and not a storm in a tea cup Hence their translation into English will spread her message far and wide and serve the purpose of her writings My aim in translating her short stories into English is to convey the message to the non Urdu readers and to enliven her literary talent in other languages
