Narrative Pedagogy Ivor Goodson,Scherto Gill,2011 It is widely recognised that we are living through an age of the narrative Many of the constituent disciplines in the social sciences resonate with this trend by using life history and narrative approaches and methods As we move on from the modernist period which prioritised objectivity into the postmodern regard for subjectivity this resort to narrative is likely to become more apparent and explicit in academic as well as social and commercial discourse One aspect of this narrative form which is commonly overlooked is that of the pedagogic encounter This is the phenomenon which is addressed by all narrative and biographical research Fundamentally reflecting and examining the narrative of our lives in the process of learning this book provides a series of studies and guidelines for what we have termed narrative pedagogy It presents a resource for an exploration of those narrative processes that can lead to meaningful change and development for individuals and groups within a learning environment and in life learning This focus on life history allows us to identify and support routes to learning within the narrative landscape of learners and through these pedagogic encounters

God, Time, and the Incarnation Richard A. Holland Jr.,2012-02-20 The dominant view among Christian theologians and philosophers is that God is timeless that he exists outside of time in an atemporal eternity In God Time and the Incarnation Richard Holland offers a critical evaluation of this traditional view in light of the most central doctrine of Christianity the Incarnation of Christ Holland reviews the history of this controversy highlighting the various theological problems for which atemporal models have been offered as a solution He asserts the central importance of the Incarnation for Christian theology and evaluates several atemporal models in light of this doctrine Finally he suggests that the traditional atemporal view is not compatible with a robust and orthodox view of the Incarnation This book rejects the traditional atemporal view of God s relationship to time and argues based on the Incarnation that God experiences temporal sequence in his existence

Fitzpatrick,2010-06-03 John Stuart Mill was one of the most important and influential British philosophers When one considers his overall intellectual contributions Mill is arguably the most important intellectual figure of the nineteenth century Covering all the key concepts of his work Starting with Mill provides an accessible introduction to the ideas of this hugely significant thinker Clearly structured according to Mill s key works the book leads the reader through a thorough overview of the development of his thought resulting in a more thorough understanding of the roots of his philosophical concerns Offering coverage of the full range of Mill s ideas the book explores his contributions to metaphysics and
