Classics of Russian Literature offers a rich tapestry of narratives and styles weaving together the groundbreaking works of Russian literary giants with insightful contributions from select Western authors. This collection delves into themes of existential inquiry, social justice, and the human condition, presenting stories marked by a profound engagement with the tumultuous spirit of their time. Readers will find tales imbued with the dark humor of Saki, the psychological depth reminiscent of Dostoevsky, and the sweeping moral landscapes that echo Tolstoy's influence, making this anthology an indispensable exploration of literary brilliance across borders. The featured authors, including titans such as Pushkin, Gogol, and Gorky, represent a diverse array of voices who have collectively defined and redefined Russian literature. Their works are pivotal to understanding not only the evolution of Russian storytelling but also the broader cultural and historical frameworks they embody. These narratives are situated against the backdrop of the Russian Empire's dynamic socio-political changes, including serfdom reform and revolution, complemented by cross-cultural dialogues fostered by international contributors like Herman Bernstein and H. H. Munro, offering a nuanced portrayal of the era's literary richness. This collection presents a cherished opportunity for readers to immerse themselves in an intellectually stimulating journey through varied perspectives and styles. Whether one seeks to understand the socio-political climates from which these narratives arose or simply wishes to appreciate the literary craftsmanship, The Great Classics of Russian Literature promises educational enrichment and thought-provoking engagement. As readers traverse these pages, they are invited into a dialogue between cultural epochs and literary traditions, uncovering truths about the shared human experience through the lens of unparalleled classic storytelling.

Russian Classical Literature Today Yordan Ljutskanov, Hristo Manolakev, Radostin Rusev, 2014-06-19. This book explores a range of misuses of the Russian classical literature canon and its symbolic capital by contemporary Russian literature, cinema, literary scholarship, and mass culture. It outlines processes of current canon formation in a situation of the expiration of a literature-centric culture that has been imbued with specific messianism and its doubles. The book implements Pierre Bourdieu's theory of the cultural field, focussing on a field's constitutive pursuit of autonomy and on its flexible resistance to the double pressure of the political field and the economic field. It provides material for elaborating this theory through postulating the principal presence of a third factor of heteronomy, the strong neighbour within the cultural field. Furthermore, this volume demonstrates the heuristic of comparing the current Russian misuses of classical literature to prior Russian and current foreign ones. As such, it also discusses such issues as the historical relativity of a literary field's notion of autonomy and the geo-cultural variability of the Russian literary canon.

Russian Literature Kropotkin Peter Kropotkin, 2021-02-15. Introduction by George Woodcock. In this work, Peter Kropotkin is propounding the thesis that in Russia, literature occupies a unique position because it is the only way of reflecting the real currents of intellectual development and of underground political opinion. The consequence he feels has been that the best minds of the country have chosen the poem, the novel, the satire, or literary criticism as the medium for expressing their aspirations, their conceptions of national life and their ideals. Concentrating on content rather than on form, on intention rather than achievement, Russian Literature provides a fair and comprehensive introduction to Russian writing up to the end of the nineteenth century. Almost every poet and prose writer of any significance is discussed: Pushkin, Lermontoff, Gogol, Turgueneff, Tolstoy, Dostoyevsky, and every class of literature is included: criticism as well as novels and political writings as well as poetry.

Landmarks in Russian Literature Maurice Baring, 1912 The Oxford Handbook of the Russian Novel Julie A. Buckler, Justin Weir, 2025 The Oxford Handbook of the Russian Novel brings together top specialists in Russian literature to treat the Russian novel from the late 18th to the 21st century using a range of interpretive perspectives The Russian novel is a distinctive tradition by virtue of its formal eccentricities as well as the boldness with which these works approached the most complex philosophical political and moral questions This Handbook treats well known works and authors but also explores the much broader tradition of the Russian novel up to the present The essays in the Handbook provide cultural and historical perspectives on the Russian novel as well as showcasing emergent modes of analysis including postcolonialism ecocriticism and posthumanism Russian Literature and Its Demons Pamela Davidson, 2000 Merezhkovsky's bold claim that all Russian literature is to a certain degree a struggle with the temptation of demonism is undoubtedly justified And yet despite its evident centrality to Russian culture the unique and fascinating phenomenon of Russian literary demonism has so far received little critical attention This substantial collection fills the gap A comprehensive analytical introduction by the editor is followed by a series of fourteen essays written by eminent scholars in their fields The first part explores the main shaping contexts of literary demonism the Russian Orthodox and folk tradition the demonization of historical figures and views of art as intrinsically demonic The second part traces the development of a literary tradition of demonism in the works of authors ranging from Pushkin and Lermontov Gogol and Dostoevsky through to the poets and prose writers of modernism including Blok Akhmatova Bely Sologub Rozanov Zamiatin and through to the end of the 20th century
