Material World A Global Family Portrait:

Material World Peter Menzel, Charles C. Mann, 1994 A photo journey through the homes and lives of 30 families revealing culture and economic levels around the world Material World Peter Menzel, 2007 Photo spreads with brief commentaries of possessions of families in more than 50 countries Awards SLJ Best Book Annotation A fascinating project sponsored by a number of international organizations resulting in this richly intriguing book it will get well deserved promotion and distribution via all sorts of media Sixteen photographers traveled to 30 nations to live for a week with families that are statistically average for that nation At the end of each visit photographer and subjects collaborated on a portrait of the family outside of its home surrounded by all of its material possessions a few jars and jugs for some an abundance of electronic gadgetry for others The 360 color photos are accompanied by information about the standard of living in each country notes by the photographers about their experiences and profiles of family members and their lives We are witnessing the emergence of a unified world economy as exemplified by NAFTA and GATT that will in theory make goods available at cheaper prices create new jobs throughout the world raise standards of living and benefit the average family However population growth and resource exploitation will also affect these potential benefits as patterns of consumption change In stunning photographs and text Material World demonstrates the present context for the emerging global economy what it means to be statistically average by displaying families in more than thirty nations outside their homes with all their possessions in view Among the 350 stunning images are those of a family in lush Samoa juxtaposed with a Kuwaiti family and the two Mercedes Benzes parked outside their desert home a family in Iceland posing with their treasured string instruments while a family in Sarajevo huddles outside their bullet ridden apartment The text describes what it means to be average in each of thirty very dissimilar cultures and the impact of each way of life on the local environment Statistical information about each country accompanies the photo essays so that readers can easily compare one culture with another Mother Jones Magazine , 1995-09 Mother Jones is an award winning national magazine widely respected for its groundbreaking investigative reporting and coverage of sustainability and environmental issues Women in the Material World Faith D'Aluisio, Peter Menzel, 1996 A companion to the groundbreaking bestseller Material World A Global Family Portrait this remarkable volume portrays the striking similarities and profound differences in the lives of women around the world at the dawn of the twenty first century Under the direction of Faith D Aluisio and Peter Menzel a team of renowned women journalists traveled the world to take a close look at the lives of women in twenty disparate lands In first person interviews of startling candor the women share their feelings about family children money love sex and marriage These interviews together with 375 stunning full color photographs create a powerful multicultural portrait of the half of humanity that all too often remains invisible Climate Change and Social Ecology Stephen M. Wheeler, 2012 Industrial cultures have proved unable to confront the issues underlying the climate problem such as overconsumption overpopulation inequity and dysfunctional political systems Political and social obstacles have prevented the adoption of improved technologies and these would provide only a partial solution in any case Climate Change and Social Ecology takes a new approach to the climate crisis arguing that climate change is a challenge of rapid social evolution In order to address this impending catastrophe and bring about more sustainable development this book argues that we must focus on improving social ecologies our values mind sets and organizations The text presents a compelling vision of how to help social ecologies evolve toward sustainability and explores the social transformations needed to deal with the climate crisis in the long term It reviews the climate change strategies considered to date presents a detailed vision of a future sustainable society and analyzes how this vision might be realized through more conscious public nurturing of our social ecologies This interdisciplinary volume provides a compelling rethink of the climate crisis Authoritative and accessible it will be of great interest to anyone concerned about climate change and sustainability challenges and is essential reading for students professionals and general readers alike

Chernotsky, Heidi H. Hobbs, Brenda M. Kauffman, Sasha Allgayer, 2025-06-20 Crossing Borders provides a framework to help students understand world issues built upon an understanding of the numerous borders that define the international system The Fifth Edition addresses many of the different fields that constitute international studies and gives instructors a starting point from which they can pursue their own disciplinary interests Visual Sociology Douglas Harper, 2023-06-09 This new version of the authoritative textbook in the field of visual sociology focuses on the key topics of documentary photography visual ethnography collaborative visual research visual empiricism the study of the visual symbol and teaching sociology visually This updated and expanded edition includes nearly twice as many images and incorporates new in depth case studies drawing upon the author's lifetime of pioneering research and teaching as well as the often neglected experiences of women and people of color The book examines how documentary photography can be useful to sociologists both because of the topics examined by documentarians and as an example of how seeing is socially constructed Harper describes the exclusion of women through much of the history of documentary photography and the distinctiveness of the female eye in recent documentary a phenomenon he calls the gendered lens The author examines how a visual approach allows sociologists to study conventional topics differently while offering new perspectives topics and insights For example photography shows us how perspective itself affects what we see and know how abstractions such as ideal types can be represented visually how social change can be studied visually and how the study of symbols can lead us to interpret public art architecture and person made landscapes There is an extended study of how images can lead to cooperative research and learning how images can serve as bridges of understanding blurring the lines between researcher and researched The important topic of reflexivity is examined by close study of Harper's own research experiences Finally the author focusses on teaching offering templates for full courses assignments and projects and guides for teachers imagining how to approach visual sociology as a new practice This definitive yet accessible textbook will be indispensable to teachers researchers and professionals with an interest in visual sociology research methods cultural theory and visual anthropology The Prehistory of Home Jerry D. Moore, 2012-04-18 Many animals build shelters but only humans build homes No other species creates such a variety of dwellings Drawing examples from across the archaeological record and around the world archaeologist Jerry D Moore recounts the cultural development of the uniquely human imperative to maintain domestic dwellings He shows how our houses allow us to physically adapt to the environment and conceptually order the cosmos and explains how we fabricate dwellings and in the process construct our lives The Prehistory of Home points out how houses function as symbols of equality or proclaim the social divides between people and how they shield us not only from the elements but increasingly from inchoate fear Tourism Imaginaries Noel B. Salazar, Nelson H. H. Graburn, 2014-06-01 It is hard to imagine tourism without the creative use of seductive as well as restrictive imaginaries about peoples and places These socially shared assemblages are collaboratively produced and consumed by a diverse range of actors around the globe As a nexus of social practices through which individuals and groups establish places and peoples as credible objects of tourism tourism imaginaries have yet to be fully explored Presenting innovative conceptual approaches this volume advances ethnographic research methods and critical scholarship regarding tourism and the imaginaries that drive it The various authors contribute methodologically as well as conceptually to anthropology's grasp of the images, forces and encounters of the contemporary world

The State of the Environment in Asia The Japan Environmental Council, 2012-12-06 In December 1977 we published the first in this series of NGO oriented reports on Asia's environment Ajia Kankyo Hakusho 1997-98 This was published in English by Springer Verlag as The State of the Environment in Asia 1999-2000 Although only a few years have passed since then Asia has seen tumultuous changes in the political, economic, social, environmental and other domains as well as a number of prominent trends that could be regarded as harbingers of the new century China for instance could henceforth decisively affect the evolution of environmental problems not only in Asia but across the entire globe Yet Chinese concern for and initiatives on pollution and environmental damage have increased more quickly than could have been anticipated just a few years ago And on Taiwan where a Democratic Progressive Party president was elected over the long ruling Nationalist Party an attorney who has cooperated with our pollution surveys for a decade Hsieh Chang-ting became mayor of Taiwan's largest heavy and chemical industry city of Kaohsiung where he has begun a Green Revolution On the Korean Peninsula which has for many years endured the division of its people as well as political and military tensions there are the beginnings of a new North-South dialog These changes are all welcome to those of us who wish to see new advances in environmental cooperation throughout Asia
