The Origins of the Film Star System

Andrew Shail, 2019-05-30 Drawing on a wide range of archival sources Andrew Shail traces the emergence of film stardom in Europe and North America in the early 20th century Modifying and supplementing Richard deCordova's account of the birth of the US star system Shail describes the complex set of economic circumstances that led film studios and actors to consent to the adoption of a star system He then explores the film industry's turn from 1908 to making character based series films He details how these characters both prefigured and precipitated the star system demonstrating that series characters and the firmament of film stars are functionally equivalent and shows how openly fictional characters still provide the model for real film stars

Teaching History with Message Movies Jennifer Frost, Steven Alan Carr, 2018-03-12

Popular media has become a common means by which students understand both the present and the past. Consequently more teachers are using various forms of popular culture as pedagogical tools in the history classroom. With their emphasis on issues such as drug and alcohol abuse, sex, race, gender, and violence, social problem films or message movies offer a compelling look at the eras in which they were made. In order to facilitate the use of social problem films as learning tools, however, teachers of history need a dependable resource. Teaching History with Message Movies is a guide for teaching US history using these films as vivid historical illustrations and tools for student engagement. In addition to covering key themes and concepts, this volume provides an overview of significant issues and related films, a tutorial in using film in historical methodology, user guides for thinking about social problems on screen, and sample exercises and assignments for direct classroom use. Focusing on the issues that plaguing society, the book draws on films such as I Am a Fugitive from a Chain Gang (1932), Gentleman's Agreement (1947), The Snake Pit (1948), Silkwood (1983), and One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest (1975) among others. This resource enables teachers to effectively use films to examine key social and cultural issues, concepts, and influences in their historical context. Teaching History with Message Movies will be an invaluable asset to any teacher of history in middle and secondary school settings as well as at the undergraduate level. Silent Movies Plus! More Silent Films & Early Talkies on DVD John Howard Reid, 2015-07-27. Almost all the CLASSIC HOLLYWOOD MOVIES discussed in this book are currently available on DVD. Many are sold by specialist stores such as Oldies. And now that vintage titles are being pressed on demand, theoretically they will never go out of print. However, an attempt has been made to include some of the classics that are not so well known as well as those that are more frequently aired on TV or are prominently featured in retail and mail order stores. Here, for example, are a few of the movie titles that begin with the letter S: Seven Keys to Baldpate (1917), Seven Keys to Baldpate (1947), She Goes To War (1929), the Shining Adventure (1925), the Ship of Lost Men (1929), Show Off (1926), Silent Enemy (1930), Sky Bride (1932), Sky High (1922), Slums of New York (1932), the Smart Set (1928), Son of the Gods (1930), Speedway (1929), Spite Marriage (1929), the Squall (1929), Square Shoulders (1929), Stranger in Town (1932), Strictly Unconventional (1930), Sunset Trail (1932), Svengali (1931). History and Film Eleftheria Thanouli, 2018-10-18. History and Film: A Tale of Two Disciplines addresses the representation of history in cinema, a much argued debate on the need to understand cinematic history in its own terms and develop a certain vocabulary for discussing historical films, their relation to public history, and their impact on public historical consciousness. Eleftheria Thanouli does this by changing the agenda altogether, combining a macro level perspective with a micro level one in order to argue that cinematic history is the dominant form of historiography in the 20th century as it succeeded in remediating and repurposing the key formal rhetorical and ideological practices of 19th century professional historiography. With case studies ranging from The Thin Red Line and Life is Beautiful to The Fog of War and The Last Bolshevik, Thanouli bridges the gap between history and film studies and lays the foundations for a new visual historiography. Remaking the Movies: Digital Content and the Evolution of the Film and Video Industries

OECD,2008-05-05 Analyses the impact of digital content creation distribution and use on value chains and business models of the film and video industry and explores the policy implications of these changes to identify how digital content may affect the function and position of participants in the industry Visualizing Film History Christian Gosvig Olesen,2025-01-07

Though many archival digital objects were not born digital film archives are now becoming important resources for digital scholarship as a consequence of digitization Moreover with advancements in digital research methods involving video annotation visual analysis and GIS affecting the way we look at archival films material stylistic histories and circulation new research practices are more important than ever Visualizing Film History is an accessible introduction to archive based digital scholarship in film and media studies and beyond With a combined focus on the history of film historiography archiving and recent digital scholarship covering a period from the first wave of film archiving in the early 1900s to recent data art this book proposes ways to work critically with digitized archives and research methods Christian Olesen encourages a shift towards new critical practices in the field with an in depth assessment of and critical approach to doing film historiography with the latest digital tools and digitized archives Olesen argues that if students scholars and archivists are to fully realize the potential of emerging digital tools and methodologies they must critically consider the roles that data analysis visualization interfaces and procedural human machinery interactions play in producing knowledge in current film historical research If we fail to do so we risk losing our ability to critically navigate and renew contemporary research practices and evaluate the results of digital scholarship The Oxford History of World Cinema ,1996-10-17

From its humble beginnings as a novelty in a handful of cities cinema has risen to become a billion dollar industry and the most spectacular and original contemporary art form It has spread to all parts of the globe and is enjoyed by audiences that cut across all sections of society The Oxford History of World Cinema traces the history of this enduringly popular entertainment medium Covering all aspects of its development stars studios and cultural impact the book celebrates and chronicles over one hundred years of diverse achievement from westerns to the New Wave from animation to the Avant Garde and from Hollywood to Hong Kong An international team of distinguished film historians tells the story of the major inventions and developments in the cinema business its institutions genres and personnel other chapters outline the evolution of national cinemas round the world the varied and distinctive filmic traditions that have developed alongside Hollywood A unique aspect of the book are the special inset features on the film makers and personalities Garbo and Godard Keaton and Kurosawa Bugs Bunny and Bergman who have had an enduring impact in popular memory and cinematic lore With over 300 illustrations a full bibliography and an extensive index this is the buff s ultimate guide to cinema worldwide Collecting Cinema, Rewriting Film History André Habib,Louis Pelletier,Jean-Pierre Sirois-Trahan,2025-10-01 The writing of cinema history would not be possible without the contribution of collectors Whether through their pioneering excavation work or their passionate defence of forgotten productions and artifacts collectors have had a lasting influence on both the field and the methods of moving image history Proceeding from a renewed dialogue between international film scholars collectors filmmakers curators and archivists this book aims to reveal the extent to which collectors and collections have contributed to both the history and the epistemology of moving images It showcases specific studies of collecting practices as well as in depth interviews with collectors and artists bringing to light the innumerable articulations between collecting cinema and the rewriting of film history

History by HBO Rebecca Weeks, 2022-07-12 The television industry is changing and with it the small screen's potential to engage in debate and present valuable representations of American history Founded in 1972 HBO has been at the forefront of these changes leading the way for many network cable and streaming services into the post network era Despite this most scholarship has been dedicated to analyzing historical feature films and documentary films leaving TV and the long form drama hungry for coverage In History by HBO Televising the American Past Rebecca Weeks fills the gap in this area of media studies and defends the historiographic power of long form dramas By focusing on this change and its effects History by HBO outlines how history is crafted on television and the diverse forms it can take Weeks examines the capabilities of the long form serial for engaging with historical stories insisting that the shift away from the network model and toward narrowcasting has enabled challenging histories to thrive in home settings As an examination of HBO's unique structure for producing quality historical dramas Weeks provides four case studies of HBO series set during different periods of United States history Band of Brothers 2001 Deadwood 2004-2007 Boardwalk Empire 2010-2012 and Treme 2012-2013 In each case HBO's lack of advertiser influence commitment to creative freedom and generous budgets continue to draw and retain talent who want to tell historical stories Balancing historical and film theories in her assessment of the roles of mise en scene characterization narrative complexity and sound in the production of effective historical dramas Weeks' evaluation acts as an ode to the most recent Golden Age of TV as well as a critical look at the relationship between entertainment media and collective memory

Early Race Filmmaking in America Barbara Lupack,2016-05-26 The early years of the twentieth century were a formative time in the long history of struggle for black representation More than any other medium movies reflected the tremendous changes occurring in American society Unfortunately since they drew heavily on the nineteenth century theatrical conventions of blackface minstrelsy and the Uncle Tom Show traditions early pictures persisted in casting blacks in demeaning and outrageous caricatures that marginalized and burlesqued them and emphasized their comic or servile behavior By contrast race films that is movies that were black cast black oriented and viewed primarily by black audiences in segregated theaters attempted to counter the crude stereotyping and regressive representations by presenting more authentic racial portrayals This volume examines race filmmaking from numerous perspectives By reanimating a critical but neglected period of early cinema the years between the turn of the century and 1930 the end of the silent film era it provides a fascinating look at the efforts of early race film pioneers and offers a vibrant portrait of race and racial representation in American film and culture
