Advances in the Psychology of Religion Michael Argyle, 2013-10-22 This collection of previously unpublished papers written by well known researchers in the psychology of religion is unique in its broad coverage and in its comparison between quite different and strictly theoretical perspectives The subjects range from theoretical analyses of social science perspectives on religion and its methods to reports of experimental correlational or descriptive studies of religious experience and attitudes The emphasis throughout is on the directions in which this work might move in the future

Theory and Method in Religious Studies Frank Whaling, 2012-10-25 This paperback edition contains selected articles from the original clothbound editions of Contemporary Approaches to The Study of Religion Vol I The Humanities Vol II The Social Sciences Religion and Reason 27 28

Living in an Asymmetrical World Anne Maass, Caterina Suitner, Jean-Pierre Deconchy, 2014-04-03 There has recently been a renewed interest in the role of spatial dimensions in social cognition and how vertical and horizontal trajectories are used to represent social concepts such as power agency aggression and dominance Most of this work surrounds the idea that abstract concepts are intrinsically linked to our sensory and motor experiences including habitual interactions with the environment such as reading and writing Living in an Asymmetrical World makes an original contribution to the field by addressing a hot topic from a somewhat unusual perspective bridging five decades of research on horizontal bias related to writing direction Previous work by Jean Pierre Deconchy is examined and integrated with current theory and the importance of deep thinking on field observations multiple methodologies and creative procedures are proposed as crucial elements for future social psychology The book s revival of this approach to science will open up new perspectives for future research and will be of key interest to academics and researchers in the areas of social cognitive and cultural psychology

Mirror for the Muslim Prince Mehrzad Boroujerdi, 2013-05-01 In this volume a group of distinguished scholars reinterpret concepts and canons of Islamic thought in Arab Persian South Asian and Turkish traditions They demonstrate that there is no unitary Islamic position on important issues of statecraft and governance They recognize that Islam is a discursive site marked by silences agreements and animated controversies Rigorous debates and profound disagreements among Muslim theologians philosophers and literati have taken place over such questions as What is an Islamic state Was the state ever viewed as an independent political institution in the Islamic tradition of political thought Is it possible that a religion that places an inordinate emphasis upon the importance of good deeds does not indeed have a vigorous notion of public interest or a systematic theory of government Does Islam provide an edifice a common idiom and an ideological mooring for premodern and modern Muslim rulers alike The nuanced reading of the Islamic traditions provided in this book will help future generations of Muslims contemplate a more humane style of statecraft
