

Russian Marxists

- In 1903, Russian Marxists split into two groups. Moderate revolutionaries were known as Mensheviks. The more radical Bolsheviks- were a small group of revolutionaries willing to sacrifice everything for change. Led by Vladimir Lenin-(1870-1924)he fled Russia in early 1900 to avoid arrest. He maintained contact with the Bolsheviks and waited until he could safely return.

Oittinen,2023-05-17 This book discusses Marx's relations with Russia which have always been ambivalent In his youth and indeed a good way into the 1860s Marx might even be called a Russophobe Around 1870 however his views on Russia undergo a change he becomes acquainted with a new kind of Russian radical and revolutionary movement and begins to study Russian It becomes clear that Marx begins to feel that Russia is some kind of a touchstone for his theories Offering a new and original interpretation of Marx's theoretical development Marx's Russian Moment analyzes the following themes Marx's concept of ideology as developed in the German Ideology and its fortunes in Russia Marx's encounter with Bakunin and Russian nihilism Marx's and Engels's studies of primitive societies Engels's views of the developmental perspectives of small Slavic nations and Marx's views on Finland the Russian Grand Duchy Considering these topics as case studies Oittinen argues that Marx's encounter with Russia substantially influenced Marx's and Engels's views not just on current political and economic matters but also on a philosophical and methodological level Marxism and the Philosophy of Science Helena

Varieties of Marxism Shlomo Avineri, 2012-12-06 The essays included in this volume are based on papers delivered at the International Symposium on Varieties of Marxism held at the Van Leer Jerusalem Foundation on June 16 19 1974 and dedicated to the memory of George Lichtheim When the idea of such a symposium was first raised the organizers planned to have George Lichtheim as one of the main speakers at the event In our last and brief meeting in London I suggested this to him and Lichtheim gave his consent to attend the symposium though at that time no date was yet fixed His tragic death a few months later left a gap not only in the program of the symposium but in Marxist studies generally it was felt that perhaps one way of paying tribute to his contribution to the study of a subject so near to his mind would be to name the symposium in his memory and devote an introductory paper to an intellectual portrait of George Lichtheim as an historian of ideas The volume as published includes all papers delivered at the symposium with the exception of the papers of J L Talmon Jerusalem on Marxism and Nationalism and Gajo Petrovic Zagreb on Yugoslav Marxism Appended is also a short obituary written by me on Lichtheim for the journal Political Science published by the American Political Science Association

Demythologizing Marxism F.J. Adelman, 2012-12-06 This second volume of the Boston College Studies in Philosophy commemorates the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the birth of Karl Marx This dedication bespeaks the evolution permeating the entire world today not only in the sense of a development of ideas but more especially of the inner and sincere quest for peace intensifying in the hearts of all men We Christians rejoice in the drive onward toward the fulfillment of peace on earth We are sorry however that it is so late in Christian history and that it received its impulse more from the fear of nuclear armaments than from the development of Christian ideas Nonetheless here in the midst of so much bewilderment we can find an optimistic note in the realization that these ideas can now touch at long last offer hope for a peaceful future Strange as it may seem there is currently a new interest in the philosophy of Marxism This stems in part from the renewed study of the writings of the young Marx and a concentration on that aspect of his work which is more philosophical than politico economic such as is more prominent in the later Das Kapital But even more our interest in Marxism has occurred because of what has happened to the contemporary Marxists themselves First of all after Stalin's time a certain new openness not yet perfect but nonetheless real has developed in Russia to the benefit of scholars
