George,2013-11-18 In the 1950s science fiction invasion films played a complicated part in supporting and criticizing Cold War ideologies By reading these invasion narratives as performances of middle class white Americans excitement and anxiety about social and political issues George shows how they often played out as another round in the battle of the sexes Life is a Dream Paul Durcan,2011-01-18 Famous for his electrifying poetry readings Paul Durcan marks four decades of composing silently and reciting aloud with this magnificent collection which brings together for the first time the critically acclaimed poet s own choice of his work from his first book Endsville 1967 to The Laughter of Mothers 2007 Life is a Dream represents the whole range of Durcan s writing funny and subversive verse narratives and self mocking poems of underachievement poems celebrating love and sex or the lives of famous writers and artists as well as tender poignant verses commemorating the dead Throughout his long career Durcan has continued to make passionate and moving poetry out of his own and his country s misfortunes He is by turns a surrealist a mystic an Irish comedian with perfect comic timing and an angry champion of the oppressed Life is a Dream reaffirms the constant vision and artistic integrity of one of the most powerful humane and original voices in modern poetry The Universalist Quarterly and General Review ,1874 The Quarterly Journal of Prophecy ,1872 Exploding the Western Sara L. Spurgeon,2005 The frontier and Western expansionism are so quintessentially a part of American history that the literature of the West and Southwest is in some senses the least regional and the most national literature of all The frontier the place where cultures meet and rewrite themselves upon each other s texts continues to energize writers whose fiction evokes destroys and rebuilds the myth in ways that attract popular audiences and critics alike Sara L Spurgeon focuses on three writers whose works not only exemplify the kind of engagement with the theme of the frontier that modern authors make but also show the range of cultural voices that are present in Southwestern literature Cormac McCarthy Leslie Marmon Silko and Ana Castillo Her central purposes are to consider how the differing versions of the Western mythic tales are being recast in a globalized world and to examine the ways in which they challenge and accommodate increasingly fluid and even dangerous racial cultural and international borders In Spurgeon s analysis the spaces in which the works of these three writers collide offer some sharply differentiated visions but also create new and unsuspected forms providing the most startling insights Sometimes beautiful sometimes tragic the new myths are the expressions of the larger culture from which they spring both a projection onto a troubled and troubling past and an insistent prophetic vision of a shared future
