Sacred Roads:

Sacred Roads Nicholas Shrady, 1999-01-01 The author describes his pilgrimages to six holy sites of the world's major religions and discusses the spiritual, religious, and historical significance of his journeys to Jerusalem and the Holy Land, the tomb of Sufi mystic Rumi, the Ganges, Nepal, and the Himalayas.

Imperial Road Systems Amelia Khatri, 2025-05-03 Imperial Road Systems explores the vital role of ancient road networks in shaping empires, focusing on how these systems were more than just pathways. They were instruments of control, communication, and economic integration. The book reveals that these sophisticated systems were fundamental to projecting military power and efficiently managing resources. For instance, the Roman road system allowed for rapid troop deployment and tax collection across vast territories. The book examines engineering feats and the impact of roads on political landscapes and socio-economic structures, demonstrating how these networks facilitated the spread of imperial ideologies and solidified authority. Beginning with a historical context, the book progresses through case studies of the Roman road system, the Persian Royal Road, and the Inca road system. Qhapaq ãn. This comparative approach highlights common principles and variations, offering a deeper understanding of the relationship between infrastructure and imperial power. Concluding with an analysis of the long-term impact, the book assesses contributions to economic growth and cultural exchange. By drawing parallels between ancient road systems and modern infrastructure, the book offers lessons for sustainable development and global connectivity, making it a valuable resource for history enthusiasts and students of classical civilization.

Coming To Light Brian Swann, 2010-12-29 A richly diverse anthology of Native American literatures draws on the work of more than two hundred tribes across the United States and Canada and provides information on the historical and cultural contexts of the stories, songs, prayers, and orations.

Anasazi Architecture and American Design Baker H. Morrow, Vincent Barrett Price, 1997 Take a fascinating journey through Chaco Canyon and Mesa Verde with leading southwestern archaeologists, historians, architects, artists, and urban planners as guides. Twenty-two essays identify Anasazi building and cultural features related to design and site planning, history, mythology, and ecology. 40 halftones, 5 maps.

All Roads Lead to the American City Peter Swirski, 2007-04-01 All Roads Lead to the American City provides an original view of the urban culture in America seen through its irrevocable ties with the cities and roads. Examining the history, cinema, literature, cultural myths, and social geography of the United States, the book puts some of the greatest as well as the baddest American cities under the microscope. Taking the role of the roads that crisscross and connect the cities as their shared point of reference, these essays explore ways to understand the people who live, commute, work, create, govern, commit crime, and conduct business in them. Cities, for the most part, are America. Their values and problems define not only what the United States is but what other nations perceive the United States to be. Roads and transportation, on the other hand, and their impact on the American culture and lifestyle, form not only the integral part of the historical rise and shine of the modern city but a physical release from and a cultural antidote to its pressure cooker.

stresses Tracing the boundless variety and complexity of these twin themes All Roads Lead to the American City is built around an interlinked series of essays on the urban culture in America Juxtaposing the city and the road it looks alternatively at cities as historical geographical social and cultural centres of life in the land and at roads as physical as well as metaphorical arteries that lead in and out of the city Public Roads, 2011 Greek and Roman Technology Andrew N. Sherwood, Milorad Nikolic, John W. Humphrey, John P. Oleson, 2019-10-23 In this new edition of Greek and Roman Technology the authors translate and annotate key passages from ancient texts to provide a history and analysis of the origins and development of technology in the classical world Sherwood and Nikolic with Humphrey and Oleson provide a comprehensive and accessible collection of rich and varied sources to illustrate and elucidate the beginnings of technology Among the topics covered are energy basic mechanical devices hydraulic engineering household industry medicine and health transport and trade and military technology This fully revised Sourcebook collects more than 1 300 passages from over 200 ancient sources and a diverse range of literary genres such as the encyclopaedic Natural History of Pliny the Elder the poetry of Homer and Hesiod the philosophies of Plato Aristotle and Lucretius the agricultural treatises of Varro Columella and Cato the military texts of Philo of Byzantium and Aeneas Tacticus as well as the medical texts of Galen Celsus and the Hippocratic Corpus Almost 100 line drawings indexes of authors and subjects introductions outlining the general significance of the evidence notes to explain the specific details and current bibliographies are included This new and revised edition of Greek and Roman Technology will remain an important and vital resource for students of technology in the ancient world as well as those studying the impact of technological change on classical society Contemporary Irish Writing and Environmentalism Donna L. Potts, 2018-09-19 This book examines how the Irish environmental movement which began gaining momentum in the 1970s has influenced and been addressed by contemporary Irish writers artists and musicians It examines Irish environmental writing music and art within their cultural contexts considers how postcolonial ecocriticism might usefully be applied to Ireland and analyzes the rhetoric of Irish environmental protests It places the Irish environmental movement within the broader contexts of Irish national and postcolonial discourses focusing on the following protests the M3 Motorway the Burren campaign the Carnsore Point anti nuclear protest Shell to Sea the turf debate and the animal rights movement Autopsy in Athens Margaret M. Miles, 2015-07-24 This is an exciting time to study in Athens The rescue excavations of recent years conducted during construction of the Metro system and in preparation for the 2004 Olympics Games combined with major restoration projects and a new enthusiasm for fresh examination of old material using new techniques and applications brings new perspectives and answers on many aspects of the ancient city of Athens and life politics and religion in Attica The 15 papers presented here contribute new findings that result from intensive firsthand examinations of the archaeological and epigraphical evidence They illustrate how much may be gained by reexamining material from older excavations and from the methodological shift from documenting information to closer analysis and larger historical reflection They offer a variety of perspectives on a range of issues the ambiance of the ancient city for passersby filled with roadside shrines techniques of architectural construction and sculpting religious expression in Athens including cults of Asklepios and Serapis the precise procedures for Greek sacrifice how the borders of Attica were defined over time and details of its road system In presenting this volume the contributors are continuing in a long tradition of autopsy in the sense of personal observation in Athens that began even in the Hellenistic period and has continued through the writings of centuries of travelers and academics to the present day Engineering the Ancient World Dick Parry, 2005-09-29 How high were the walls of Jericho Where did Nebuchanezzar get hold of all the bitumen he needed for the millions of bricks required to build Babylon Was the ancient Suez canal really 200km long and did 120 000 Egyptians die in the course of its construction The ancient historian Herodotus had answers to all these questions and filled many pages of his famous histories with descriptions of the wonders and marvels that he saw on his extensive travels through Egypt Greece Mesopotamia and Persia from the hanging gardens of Babylon to the temple of Diana at Ephesus In Engineering the Ancient World engineering expert Dick Parry goes back over Herodotus s footsteps and compares his accounts of the extraordinary achievements of ancient engineers builders and designers with what archaeologists and historians have since discovered In a fascinating interplay between ancient writer and modern scientist we learn that though we often have to take Herodotus with a pinch of salt he was not far short of the truth With Dick Parry to guide us through the places that Herodotus visited we can appreciate the extraordinary technological genius which brought about these impressive monuments The People of Tibet Sir Charles Alfred Bell, 1928 Coconino National Forest (N.F.), Snow Bowl Ski Area Proposal , 1979 Hopewell Settlement Patterns, Subsistence, and Symbolic Landscapes A.
