Screen Traffic Movies Multiplexes And Global Culture:

Screen Traffic Charles R. Acland, 2003-11-13 A study of Hollywood the international markets and the way movies are actually shown in theaters

Screening Neoliberalism Ignacio M. Sánchez Prado, 2014-06-30 Cavernous often cold always dark with the lingering smell of popcorn in the air the experience of movie going is universal The cinematic experience in Mexico is no less profound and has evolved in complex ways in recent years Films like Y Tu Mama Tambien El Mariachi Amores Perros and the work of icons like Guillermo del Toro and Salma Hayek represent much more than resurgent interest in the cinema of Mexico In Screening Neoliberalism Ignacio Sanchez Prado explores precisely what happened to Mexico's film industry in recent decades Far from just a history of the period Screening Neoliberalism explores four deep transformations in the Mexican film industry the decline of nationalism the new focus on middle class audiences the redefinition of political cinema and the impact of globalization This analysis considers the directors and films that have found international notoriety as well as those that have been instrumental in building a domestic market Screening Neoliberalism exposes the consequences of a film industry forced to find new audiences in Mexico's middle class in order to achieve economic and cultural viability

Museum Movies Haidee Wasson, 2005-05-27 In 1935 the foundation of the Film Library of the Museum of Modern Art in New York marked the transformation of the film medium from a passing amusement to an enduring art form Haidee Wasson maps the work of the MoMA film library as it pioneered the preservation of film promoted the concept of art cinema

American-Australian Cinema Adrian Danks, Stephen Gaunson, Peter C. Kunze, 2018-01-29 This edited collection assesses the complex historical and contemporary relationships between US and Australian cinema by tapping directly into discussions of national cinema transnationalism and global Hollywood While most equivalent studies aim to define national cinema as independent from or in competition with Hollywood this collection explores a more porous set of relationships through the varied production distribution and exhibition associations between Australia and the US To explore this idea the book investigates the influence that Australia has had on US cinema through the exportation of its stars directors and other production personnel to Hollywood while also charting the sustained influence of US cinema on Australia over the last hundred years It takes two key points in time the 1920s and 1930s and the last twenty years to explore how particular patterns of localism nationalism colonialism transnationalism and globalisation have shaped its course over the last century The contributors re-examine the concept and definition of Australian cinema in regard to a range of local international and global practices and trends that blur neat categorisations of national cinema Although this concentration on US production or influence is particularly acute in relation to developments such as the opening of international film studios in Melbourne Sydney Adelaide and the Gold Coast over the last thirty years the book also examines a range of Hollywood financed and or conceived films shot in Australia since the 1920s

Communications Media, Globalization, and Empire Oliver Boyd-Barrett, 2007-02-20 An exploration of the political economy of media and to what extent global communications and popular entertainment continue to serve elite interests In Communications Media Globalization and Empire an international team of experts analyzes and critiques the political economy of media communications worldwide Their analysis takes particular account of the sometimes conflicting pressures of globalization and neo imperialism The first is commonly defined as the dismantling of barriers to trade and cultural exchange and responds significantly to lobbying of the world s largest corporations including media corporations The second concerns US pursuit of national security interests as response to terrorism at one level and at others to intensifying competition among both nations and corporations for global natural resources

Hollywood Meme Iain Robert Smith, 2016-10-27 Acknowledgements Introduction 1 Tracing The Hollywood Meme Towards a Comparative Model of Transnational Adaptation 2 Hollywood and the Popular Cinema of Turkey 3 Hollywood and the Popular Cinema of the Philippines 4 Hollywood and the Popular Cinema of India Conclusion Bibliography Index

Globalization and Latin American Cinema Sophia A. McClennen, 2018-05-25 Studying the case of Latin American cinema this book analyzes one of the most public and most exportable forms of postcolonial national culture to argue that millennial era globalization demands entirely new frameworks for thinking about the relationship between politics culture and economic policies Concerns that globalization would bring the downfall of national culture were common in the 1990s as economies across the globe began implementing neoliberal free market policies and abolishing state protections for culture industries Simultaneously new technologies and the increased mobility of people and information caused others to see globalization as an era of heightened connectivity and progressive contact Twenty five years later we are now able to examine the actual impact of globalization on local and regional cultures especially those of postcolonial societies Tracing the full life cycle of films and studying blockbusters like City of God Motorcycle Diaries and Children of Men this book argues that neoliberal globalization has created a highly ambivalent space for cultural expression one willing to market against itself as long as the stories sell The result is an innovative and ground breaking text suited to scholars interested in globalization studies Latin American studies and film studies

On-Demand Culture Chuck Tryon, 2013-07-18 The movie industry is changing rapidly due in part to the adoption of digital technologies Distributors now send films to theaters electronically Consumers can purchase or rent movies instantly online and then watch them on their high definition televisions their laptops or even their cell phones Meanwhile social media technologies allow independent filmmakers to raise money and sell their movies directly to the public All of these changes contribute to an on demand culture a shift that is radically altering film culture and contributing to a much more personalized viewing experience Chuck Tryon offers a compelling introduction to a world in which movies have become digital files He navigates the complexities of digital delivery to show how new modes of access online streaming services like YouTube or Netflix digital downloads at iTunes the popular Redbox DVD kiosks in grocery stores and movie theaters offering digital projection of such 3 D movies as Avatar are redefining how audiences obtain and consume motion picture entertainment Tryon also tracks the reinvention of independent movies and film festivals

by enterprising artists who have built their own fundraising and distribution models online Unique in its focus on the effects of digital technologies on movie distribution On Demand Culture offers a corrective to address the rapid changes in the film industry now that movies are available at the click of a button

Projecting Desire Tupur Chatterjee,2025-01-07 How middle class women transformed India's screen and exhibition industries Since the late 90s multiplexes in India have almost always been located inside malls rendering it impossible to inhabit one space without also inhabiting the other Their prevalence coincides with a shift in the spectatorial imagination of India's mass audience spaces that for several preceding decades had been designed for the subaltern male but are now built for the consuming globalized middle class woman By catering to the mutable desires and anxieties of a rapidly expanding and heterogeneous middle class the mall multiplex has radically altered the politics of theatrical space and moviegoing Projecting Desire tells the story of this moment of historic transition as it played out across media industries architecture and design popular cinema and public culture Tupur Chatterjee highlights how the multiplex established a new link between media and architecture in the subcontinent not only rewriting the relation between gender and urban space but also changing the shapes of Indian cities Projecting Desire locates the post globalization transformation of India's screen and exhibition industries in a longer arc of ideas about urban planning and architecture long mired in caste and class based gendered anxieties It argues that the architectural mediations of India's moviegoing cultures are key to imagining planning and policing the contemporary media city Chatterjee integrates industrial and organizational ethnography in depth interviews participant observation discourse and textual analysis and archival work with spatial and urban histories Focusing on these new meccas of leisure and entertainment Projecting Desire tracks the understudied nexus between new media architectures cultures of public leisure and popular cinema in the Global South

The Age of Netflix Cory Barker,Myc Wiatrowski,2017-09-19 In 2016 Netflix with an already enormous footprint in the United States expanded its online streaming video service to 130 new countries adding more than 12 million subscribers in nine months and bringing its total to 87 million The effectiveness of Netflix's content management lies in its ability to appeal to a vastly disparate global viewership without a unified cache of content Instead the company invests in buying or developing myriad programming and uses sophisticated algorithms to narrowcast to micro targeted audience groups In this collection of new essays contributors explore how Netflix has become a cultural institution and transformed the way we consume popular media
