Benefitting by Design Arlene E. Edwards, Chemba Raghavan, Kim Marie Vaz, 2009-01-14 The presence of women of color within the practical applications of social science research findings is severely limited since spaces where and when women of color enter the arenas of research methodology research question and intervention design and knowledge generation is often that of the other Benefitting by Design addresses this limitation It does so by locating the experience and knowledge of women of color as its central theme with sections of the text referring to emerging trends that attend to the need for greater representation of women of color in research and academic settings A key theme is the dislodging of currently accepted positions for the experience of women of color as marginalized and subsumed under normative modes of examination to central positions in areas of social science research and clinical practice This is in response to the typical assumption of the need to fix women of color be it based on their immigration status sexual orientation race culture class or spiritual practice Benefitting By Design attends to the salient contexts of the lives of women of color from an emic perspective by providing models for addressing the limitations that result from exclusion and strategies for centering the experiential knowledge of women of color in social science research and practice that is designed for their benefit

Colorado's Children, 1982 Evaluation in Child and Family Services Tiziano Vecchiato, Anthony N. Maluccio, Cinzia Canali, As child and family interventions assume greater international application it will be helpful to examine the various ways in which service innovations are being evaluated As demonstrated in the seminar from which these chapters resulted only by sharing our specific professional interests our too frequent problems in measurement our despair in implementing complicated studies and our successes can we advance the evaluation of human services and their outcomes This volume considers a variety of programs and issues in the field of child and family services While different perspectives are evident among the authors in terms of their focus and or emphasis there is common concern about the value of examining each program or service so as to maximize its impact as well as its potential for dissemination Intervention research should spur and motivate cross national efforts not only among researchers but also among social workers and other practitioners from diverse professions engaged in the delivery of human services Such collaboration would contribute to the ultimate goals of achieving greater clarity about the specifics of best practices in child and family services protocols for assessing outcomes and ways of improving service delivery How then can researchers and policymakers in diverse settings within diverse countries improve practice and service delivery on behalf of children and families What particular program findings can be generalized to improve services How can we share and implement new solutions The contributions to this volume address such questions from varying international perspectives Contributors provide answers and generate discussion points for consideration by practitioners as well as researchers The book is a must for social work parishioners in areas involving the delivery of goods as well as services Tiziano Vecchiato is scientific director of the Fondazione Emanuela Zancan Padua Italy Anthony N Maluccio is professor of social work at Boston College Graduate School of Social Work Chestnut Hill Massachusetts Cinzia Canali is research associate at the Fondazione Emanuela Zancan Padua Italy Sexual Orientation and Gender Expression in Social Work Practice Deana F. the Margins Colleen Sullivan,2001      Serving Transgender Youth Teresa DeCrescenzo,2002      Justice for Kids Nancy E. Dowd,2011 Children and youth become involved with the juvenile justice system at a significant rate While some children move just as quickly out of the system and go on to live productive lives as adults other children become enmeshed in the system developing deeper problems and or transferring into the adult criminal justice system Justice for Kids is a volume of work by leading academics and activists that focuses on ways to intervene at the earliest possible point to rehabilitate and redirect to keep kids out of the system rather than to punish and drive kids deeper Justice for Kids presents a compelling argument for rethinking and restructuring the juvenile justice system as we know it This unique collection explores the system s fault lines with respect to all children and focuses in particular on issues of race gender and sexual orientation that skew the system Most importantly it provides specific program initiatives that offer alternatives to our thinking about prevention and deterrence with an ultimate focus on keeping kids out of the system altogether      Temple Law Review ,2006

Violence Against LGBTQ+ Persons Emily M. Lund,Claire Burgess,Andy J. issues keep many gays lesbians and bisexuals in the closet closeted practice may have its advantages A closeted practitioner whether case manager counselor psychotherapist physician or minister can bring understanding and insight to practice with homosexual clients and their families as well as lend substantial support to openly gay and lesbian helping professionals Yet as Gay and Lesbian Professionals in the Closet reveals being closeted can compromise your integrity as well as that of your clients and the benefits of being out will likely outweigh those of being closeted Being out will help readers counteract stereotypes of gays and lesbians allow you to serve as a role model improve the quality of care offered by traditionally homophobic or homo ignorant institutions and employees contribute to the establishment of affirming services and environments for both yourself and your clients stop segregating your sexual life from the rest of your life attain credibility with your clients not feed repression through silence As Gay and Lesbian Professionals in the Closet will show readers it is always important to consider patients needs and each work setting before coming out but gay lesbian and bisexual social service providers should make decisions on a case by case basis not avoid being out altogether Being open in the workplace will remind caregivers clients and coworkers of the exemplary citizenship and service gays lesbians and bisexuals are capable of offering Think again whether the closet carries protective cover from discrimination or tacit endorsement of homophobia
