The Best British Short Stories of 1922 Stacy Aumonier, 2018-10-17 Excerpt Never before have men had such opportunities for knowing the world never before has it been so easy to cover space our means of communication have never been so rapid yet there is an almost maddening contradiction in the fact that every man who writes is content in describing but a single facet of the great adventure of life Our age is an age of specialisation and many a man spends a life in trying to visualise for us a fragment of existence in multitudinous variations An Empire may be said to stand for a universalising tendency yet the extraordinary fact about the mass of English stories today is that far from being expressive of any tendency to unity they are mostly concerned with presenting the specialised atmospheres of so many individual localities and vocations We have writers who do not go beyond Dartmoor or Park Lane or the East End of London we have writers of sea stories jungle stories detective stories lost jewel stories slum stories and we have writers who seldom stray from the cricket field or the prize ring or Freudian complexes The Best British Short Stories of 1923 Edward Joseph O'Brien, John Cournos, 1923

7 best short stories by Arthur Machen Arthur Machen, August Nemo, 2020-05-14 He was born in 1863 in Wales in Caerlson Usk. He settled in London still young, where he was a bookstore clerk for a few months, becoming a preceptor. Subsequently, he began to write in total material shortage and fatigue. For a long time, he lived on translations. Still unrecognized, he continued his work with a growing feeling that an immense spiritual gulf separated him from other men and that he lived as a Robinson Crusoe of the soul. A curious fact was that he, along with W.B. Yeats and Aleister Crowley, was a member of the Hermetic Order of the Golden Dawn, the ill-fated 20th-century magic society. His work is acclaimed worldwide and has already been recognized by such big names as H.P. Lovecraft, Stephen King, and Jorge Luis Borges. This selection, specially chosen by the literary critic August Nemo, contains the following stories: The Great God Pan, The White People, The Black Seal, The Novel of the White Powder, The Red Hand, The Inmost Light, The Bowmen.
