Silent Invaders Gary A. Best,2017-05-17 The guys would come into the glider like a bunch of piss ants skittering around real cocky like But they settled down in the glider Some got airsick and they began thinking about what was ahead One time we were fired on just as we were landing and exiting the glider and one of the boys was hit His friends dragged him to cover beneath a tree He looked up at me and said Take my rifle I m dying I reached down and took his weapon and he slumped back and died That was pretty tough Combat gliders were called by some as Death Crates Purple Heart Boxes Flying Coffins and Tow Targets They were not pretty and had no graceful lines Viewed from the front they had a pug nose and a sloping Neanderthal forehead Their wings looked like the heavily starched ears of a jackrabbit placed at right angles on a canvas covered frame Twice the length of the body these wings were eighty four feet in length 70 per cent as long as the Wright Brothers first powered flight at Kitty Hawk They could not become airborne let alone fly unless assisted by an engine powered tow plane And for those riding in the back it was like flying through the gates of hell The men who were trained and assigned to guide gliders into battle were said to be the only pilots who had no motors armament parachutes and no second chances Like the aircraft they commanded they were called inglorious names such as The Bastards Nobody Wanted Glider Gladiators in Wooden Chariots Hybrid Jackasses and Glory Boys Beautifully written profoundly illustrated and researched Silent Invaders Combat Gliders of the Second World War is a work that is dedicated to those brave men under impossible odds from the British and American servicemen on D Day the doomed Operation Market Garden in Holland and Hitler s radical commando raid to rescue Mussolini Illustrations 80 black and white photographs Finish Forty and Home Phil Searce,2011 The true story of the men and missions of the 11th Bombardment Group as it fought alone and unheralded in the South Central Pacific while America had its eyes on the war in Europe

South Pacific Diary, 1942-1943 Mack Morriss,2021-12-14 A unique chronicle of the war from the perspective of a sensitive twenty four year old sergeant who wrote for the Army's in house paper Yank the Army Weekly and a tale of the South Pacific that will not soon be forgotten Correspondent Mack Morriss reluctantly left his diary in the Honolulu Yank office in July 1943 Here is contained an account of the past eight and one half months he wrote in his last entry a period which I shall never forget The next morning he was on a plane headed back to the South Pacific and the New Georgia battleground Morriss was working out of the press camp at Spa Belgium in January 1945 when he learned that the diary he had kept in the South Pacific had arrived in a plain brown wrapper at the New York office He was so happy to know that this impossible thing had happened he wrote to his wife that he helped two friends murder a quart of scotch What was preserved and appears in print here for the first time is a unique chronicle of the war in the South Pacific from the perspective of a sensitive twenty four year old sergeant This is an intensely personal account reporting the war from the ridge known as the Sea Horse on Guadalcanal from the bars and dance halls of Auckland to a B 17 flying through the moonlit night to bomb Japanese installations on Bougainville Morriss thought deeply and wrote movingly about everything connected with the war the sordiness and heroism the competence and ineptitude of leaders the strange mixture of constant complaint and steady courage of ordinary GIs friendships formed under combat stress and above all what he perceived to be his own indecisiveness and weaknesses Ronnie Day introduces Morriss s diary and illuminates the work with extensive notes based on private papers government documents travel in the Solomon Islands and the recollections of men mentioned in the diary
